Regional Cohesion And Competition In The Age Of Globalization:

Regional Cohesion and Competition in the Age of Globalization Hirotada Kōno, Peter Nijkamp, Jacques Poot, 2000
This text discusses issues including the impact and implications of European expansion as well as developments in the Asia Pacific region. It also examines the driving forces, backgrounds, obstacles, and opportunities for regions to become powerful global players. The work contains much empirical material and is supported by a thorough investigation of the theory and methodology of policy strategies for the positioning of regions in the new global economy.

Regional Competition Peter W.J. Batey, Peter Friedrich, 2013-03-14
Many parts of the world are currently experiencing the outcome of processes of economic integration, globalization, and transformation. Technological advances in telecommunications and in transport facilities have opened up new possibilities for contracts and exchanges among regions. External effects among regions have increased in importance. As a result, competition among regions has intensified. Except for some pioneering work by regional scientists and scholars of public finance and economics, the phenomenon of regional competition has yet to attract the attention it warrants despite its importance for policy making. The present volume is intended to remedy this neglect by providing high level contributions to the three main topics of the book: the theory of regional competition, methods of analysis of regional competition, and policies of regional competition.

International Encyclopedia of Human Geography, 2009-07-16
The International Encyclopedia of Human Geography provides an authoritative and comprehensive source of information on the discipline of human geography and its constituent and related subject areas. The encyclopedia includes over 1 000 detailed entries on philosophy and theory, key concepts, methods, and practices; biographies of notable geographers; and geographical thought and praxis in different parts of the world. This groundbreaking project covers every field of human geography and the discipline's relationships to other disciplines and is global in scope, involving an international set of contributors. Given its broad inclusive scope and unique online accessibility, it is anticipated that the International Encyclopedia of Human Geography will become the major reference work for the discipline over the coming decades. The Encyclopedia will be available in both limited edition print and online via ScienceDirect, featuring extensive browsing, searching, and internal cross referencing between articles in the work, plus dynamic linking to journal articles and abstract databases, making navigation flexible and easy. For more information, pricing options, and availability, visit http://info.sciencedirect.com/content/books/ref_works. Available online on ScienceDirect and in limited edition print format.

have been collected to commemorate ten years of academic exchange between the Japan Association for Applied Economics JAAE and the Korean Economics and Business Association KEBA and include an applied economic analysis of growth and trade in Korea and Japan Regions, Land Consumption and Sustainable Growth O. A. L. C. Atzema, Piet Rietveld, Daniel Shefer, 2005-01-01 This book provides an in depth investigation of the role of the private and public sectors in land markets and regional economics and explores the reasons behind government intervention in the interests of sustainable growth The authors explore the subject of regional development and changing land use in a variety of different countries They examine broad themes such as urban structure infrastructure and eco structure and look in detail at issues including housing transport and technology clustering They also demonstrate that for a proper understanding of long term changes the broader institutional settings and policy regimes are of critical importance as it is within this framework that private and public actors interact It is therefore vital to search for institutional arrangements where conflicts of interest can be dealt with in a constructive way and where ecological values are taken into consideration The contributions in this book highlight these difficulties and offer practical proposals to improve current practices Regional scientists geographers and development policymakers will welcome this rigorous exploration of the roles of the private and public sectors in the context of economic development The Region in the New Economy Yōshirō Higano, 2002 During the late 1990s the new economy became synonymous with the optimism resulting from high economic growth and its features continue to have a major impact on growth prospects This international volume analyzes the newly emerging profile of regions and cities with contributions encapsulating issues like ICT infrastructure the labour market migration sustainability innovation and public policy design

The Romanian Journal of European Studies no.5-6/2007 , Comparative Environmental Economic Assessment R. J. G. M. Florax, Peter Nijkamp, Kenneth George Willis, 2002-09-26 Over the last decade economists have increasingly recognized the role of meta analysis and value transfer in synthesizing knowledge and efficiently exploiting the existing pool of knowledge Comparative Environmental Economic Assessment explores the potential significance of using these techniques particularly in environmental economics Both meta analysis and value transfer constitute major research tools which efficiently use knowledge previously acquired from other studies The book focuses on the potential role and usefulness of these tools in environmental economic research and goes on to address their validity relevance and applicability A future agenda for research is also illustrated Organization Design for International Construction Business Lu Chang Peh, Sui Pheng Low, 2013-01-04 The book explains how Gravitational Distance and the System of Cities influence transnational construction related firms when they venture overseas The study presented in the book internalizes the characteristics of home and foreign cities and of transnational firms to develop situational business strategies and organization designs in terms of Strategy Structure Systems Leadership Style Firm s Skills Staff s characteristics Shared Values and Supply Chain The book presents the findings of surveys and interviews with managers and professionals in eight different Asian cities stretching from Singapore to China The findings are then used to develop business solutions in the form of a Decision Support System DSS for transnational construction firms helping them to adopt an appropriate organization design strategy when they venture into overseas markets Issues relating to globalization competitiveness risk management communications networks government interference business strategies organization structures and systems in the context of international construction business are discussed together with corresponding recommendations for implementation

Although construction related firms were used as the basis for the field studies the lessons learned are equally applicable for organizations in other industries International Handbook on Ageing and Public Policy Sarah Harper,Kate
