Regional Dynamics of the Indonesian Revolution Audrey Kahin, 1985 Regional Dynamics of the Indonesian Revolution Anton E. Lucas, 1985 First chapter in part I The Tiga Daerah Affair social revolution or rebellion 16 pages typed and map drawing Indonesia's Islamic Revolution Kevin W. Fogg, 2020 The decolonization of Indonesia the world's most populous Muslim country was seen by up to half of the population as a religious struggle Utilizing a combination of oral history and archival research Kevin W Fogg presents a new understanding of the Indonesian revolution and of Islam as a revolutionary ideology Monarchies and decolonisation in Asia Robert Aldrich, Cindy McCreery, 2020-06-05 With original case studies of a more than a dozen countries Monarchies and decolonisation in Asia offers new perspectives on how both European monarchs who reigned over Asian colonies and Asian royal houses adapted to decolonisation As colonies became independent states and European countries and other colonial powers lost their overseas empires monarchies faced the challenges of decolonisation republicanism and radicalism These studies place dynasties both European and native at the centre of debate about decolonisation and the form of government of new states from the sovereigns of Britain the Netherlands and Japan to the maharajas of India the sultans of the East Indies and the white rajahs of Sarawak It provides new understanding of the history of decolonisation and of the history of modern monarchy The British Occupation of Indonesia: 1945-1946 Richard Mcmillan, 2006-05-17 Original and critical scholarship with a high standard of writing crisp and measured Relevant to a wide range of undergraduate courses in history This book revises history and presents new ideas on the British official interpretation of post war events in Southeast Asia the condemnation of British policy by many Dutch scholars and the ideas popularly held in Indonesia and by those sympathetic to the nationalist cause that Britain was playing a Dutch game Bibliography of the Indonesian Revolution H.A.J. Klooster, 2024-12-09 Interest in the Indonesian Revolution a period of crucial importance in the history of modern Indonesia continues unabated as reflected in this bibliography The bibliography lists more than 6 000 titles related to the Indonesian Revolution 1945 1949 the West Irian issue 1950 1962 and the South Moluccan question 1950 1951 and its aftermath It is the first bibliography of such depth and scope and purports to offer a complete listing of scholarly works including unpublished theses as well as journalistic accounts pamphlets memoirs and fictional works Most of the works listed are in Indonesian Dutch or English but relevant works in French German Russian Japanese and other languages have also been included An introduction allows a first acquaintance with the mass of publications listed The titles are arranged by period and subdivided by language Indexes of authors of subjects of persons and of geographical names make it possible to access the titles in more detail Women and Sharia Law in Northern Indonesia Dina Afrianty, 2015-05-01 This book examines the life of women in the Indonesian province of Aceh where Islamic law was introduced in 1999 It outlines how women have had to face the formalisation of conservative understandings of sharia law in regulations and new state institutions over the last decade or so how they have responded to this forming non governmental organisations NGOs that have shaped local discourse on women s rights equality and status in Islam and how these NGOs have strategised demanded reform and enabled Acehnese women to take active roles in influencing the processes of democratisation and Islamisation that are shaping the province The book shows that although the formal introduction of Islamic law in Aceh has placed restrictions on women s freedom paradoxically it has not prevented them from engaging in public life It argues that the democratisation of Indonesia which allowed Islamisation to occur continues to act as an important factor shaping Islamisation s current trajectory that the introduction of Islamic law has motivated women s NGOs and other elements of civil society to become more involved in wider discussions about the future of sharia in Aceh and that Indonesia s recent decentralisation policy and growing local Islamism have enabled the emergence of different religious and local adat practices which do not necessarily correspond to overall national trends

Asian Labor in the Wartime Japanese Empire Paul H. Kratoska,2014-12-18 During the Pacific War the Japanese government used a wide range of methods to recruit workers for construction projects throughout the occupied territories Mistreatment of workers was a major grievance both in widely publicized cases such as the use of prisoners of war and forced Asian labor to construct the Thailand Burma Death Railway and in a very large number of smaller projects In this book an international group of specialists on the Occupation period examine the labor needs and the recruitment and use of workers whether forced military or otherwise throughout the Japanese empire This is the first study to look at Japanese labor policies comparatively across all the occupied territories of Asia during the war years It also provides a graphic context for examining Japanese colonialism and relations between the Japanese and the people living in the various occupied territories

Driven by Growth James William Morley,2015-04-08 A thoroughly revised and updated edition of the highly regarded 1993 book Driven by Growth this work presents the political economic evolution of the Asia Pacific countries with overviews of the impact of economic development on political change This new edition now includes chapters on Burma and Vietnam New authors have been added and all the original chapters have been revised

Raiding the Land of the Foreigners Danilyn Rutherford,2021-01-12 What are the limits of national belonging Focusing on Biak a set of islands off the coast of western New Guinea in the Indonesian province of Irian Jaya Danilyn Rutherford s analysis calls for a rethinking of the nature of national identity With the resurgence of separatism in the province Irian Jaya has become the focus of fears that the Indonesian nation is falling apart Yet in the early 1990s the fieldwork for this book was made possible by the government s belief that Biaks were finally beginning to see themselves as Indonesians Taking in the dynamics of Biak social life and the islands long history of millennial unrest Rutherford shows how practices that indicated Biaks submission to national authority actually reproduced antinational understandings of space time and self Approaching the foreign as a focus of longing in cultural arenas ranging from kinship to Christianity Biaks participated in Indonesian national institutions without accepting the identities they promoted Their remarkable response to the Indonesian government and earlier polities laying claim to western New Guinea suggests the limits of national identity and modernity writ large This is one of the few books reporting on the volatile province of Irian Jaya It offers a new way of thinking about the nation and its limits one that moves beyond the conventions of both scholarship and recent journalism It shows how people can belong to a nation yet maintain commitments that fall both short of and beyond the nation state

Coming Apart, Coming Together Edward R. Kantowicz, 2000 An independent scholar and former history professor addresses the post WWII period in Volume 2 of his narrative history of the 20th century His account revolves around two dominant global events the Cold War and the revolt against imperialism showing how these events both drove nations apart while creating political and regional alliances Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

The Women's Movement in Postcolonial Indonesia Elizabeth Martyn, 2004-11-10 This book examines women's activism in the early years of independent Indonesia when new attitudes to gender nationalism citizenship and democratization were forming It questions the meaning of democratization for women and their relationship to national sovereignty within the new Indonesian state and discusses women's organizations and their activities women's social and economic roles and the different cultural regional and ethnic attitudes towards women while showing the failure of political change to fully address women's gender interests and needs The author argues that both the role of nationalism in defining gender identity and the role of gender in defining national identity need equal recognition

History in Uniform Katharine E. McGregor, 2007 Under the New Order regime 1967-98 the Indonesian military sought to monopolise the production of official history and control its contents The goal was to validate the political role of the armed forces condemn communism and promote military values A detailed examination of the Indonesian military's image making under Suharto

The Encyclopedia of Political Revolutions Jack A. Goldstone, 2015-04-29 The Encyclopedia of Political Revolutions is an important reference work that describes revolutionary events that have affected and often changed the course of history Suitable for students and interested lay readers yet authoritative enough for scholars its 200 articles by leading scholars from around the world provide quick answers to specific questions as well as in depth treatment of events and trends accompanying revolutions Includes descriptions of specific revolutions important revolutionary figures and major revolutionary themes such as communism and socialism ideology and nationalism Illustrative material consists of photographs detailed maps and a timeline of revolutions

The Making of Middle Indonesia Gerry van Klinken, 2014-01-30 What holds Indonesia together A strong leader is the answer most often given This book looks instead at a middle level of society Middle classes in provincial towns around the vast archipelago mediate between the state and society and help to constitute state power Middle Indonesia is a social zone connecting extremes The Making of Middle Indonesia examines the rise of an indigenous middle class in one provincial town far removed from the capital city Spanning the late colonial to early New Order periods it develops an unusual associational notion of political power Soft modalities of power included non elite provincial people in the emerging Indonesian state At the same time growing inequalities produced class tensions that exploded in violence in 1965 1966     Realpolitik Ideology Leonard C. Sebastian, 2006 Presents research on the Indonesian military TNI going beyond traditional scholarship on the TNI's dual function or dwifungsi which has been one of the dominating fields of analysis in Indonesian studies since the 1970s     Extremes in the Archipelago L.J. Touwen, 2021-08-04 In the late colonial period 1870 1942 the Outer Islands of Indonesia formed a dynamic area The economic development of these islands outside Java is analysed in this book by focusing on the enormous increase in trade after 1900 The Outer Islands are described individually and as a group paying special attention to regional differences The core of the study is to examine the effects of trade foreign and domestic on economic development Although the economic policy of the colonial government played a role in the gradual formation of a national economy it did little to advance the relatively backward regions of the Outer Islands As one of the largest and most tumultuous economies in Southeast Asia Indonesia nowadays attracts a lot of international attention This book will serve the study of the diverse and dynamic economic history of late colonial Indonesia which profoundly influenced post war events and the formation of a national state     Southeast Asi Milton Osborne, 2010-10 While deepening our understanding of Southeast Asia this fine introduction reminds us of the importance of history itself Anthony Milner Basham Professor of Asian History Australian National University still one of the best short introductory histories to the region even after nine editions Eric Tagliacozzo Cornell University The first edition of Southeast Asia An introductory history was published in 1979 and immediately filled a need for travellers and students interested in a tantalisingly different part of the world Subsequent editions have continued to document with great perception the enormous changes and dramatic growth experienced in the region Dr Milton Osborne has been a resident student and fascinated observer of Southeast Asia for over 40 years This familiarity has resulted in a highly readable and lively chronicle While giving due regard to the early history of the region Osborne concentrates on the changes that have taken place since the eighteenth century the impact of colonial rule economic transformations of the 19th and 20th centuries the emergence and triumph of the independence movements the impact of social change and the pivotal roles played by religion ethnic minorities and immigrant groups He also provides an introduction to the art of the region and a comprehensive guide to literature about Southeast Asia Clearly written and extensively illustrated this tenth edition of Southeast Asia An introductory history remains a classic in the field     Military Politics, Islam, and the State in Indonesia Marcus Mietzner, 2009 Based on a decade of research in Indonesia this book provides an in depth account of the military's struggle to adapt to the new democratic system after the downfall of Suharto's authoritarian regime in 1998 Unlike other studies of the Indonesian armed forces which focus exclusively on internal military developments Mietzner's study emphasizes the importance of conflicts among civilians in determining the extent of military involvement in political affairs Analysing disputes between Indonesia's main Muslim groups Mietzner argues that their intense rivalry between 1998 and 2004 allowed the military to extend its engagement in politics and protect its institutional interests The stabilization of the civilian polity after 2004 in contrast has led to an increasing marginalization of the armed forces from the power centre Drawing broader conclusions from these events for Indonesia's ongoing process of democratic consolidation the book shows that the future role of the armed forces in politics will largely depend on the ability of civilian leaders to maintain functioning democratic institutions and procedures

The Army and the Indonesian Genocide Jess Melvin, 2018-01-19 For the past half century the Indonesian military has depicted the 1965-66 killings which resulted in the murder of approximately one million unarmed civilians as the outcome of a spontaneous uprising This formulation not only denied military agency behind the killings it also denied that the killings could ever be understood as a centralised nation wide campaign Using documents from the former Indonesian Intelligence Agency's archives in Banda Aceh this book shatters the Indonesian government's official propaganda account of the mass killings and proves the military's agency behind those events This book tells the story of the 3 000 pages of top secret documents that comprise the Indonesian genocide files Drawing upon these orders and records along with the previously unheard stories of 70 survivors perpetrators and other eyewitnesses of the genocide in Aceh province it reconstructs for the first time a detailed narrative of the killings using the military's own accounts of these events This book makes the case that the 1965-66 killings can be understood as a case of genocide as defined by the 1948 Genocide Convention The first book to reconstruct a detailed narrative of the genocide using the army's own records of these events it will be of interest to students and academics in the field of Southeast Asian Studies History Politics the Cold War Political Violence and Comparative Genocide
