Regional Industrial Analysis and Development Geoffrey J. D. Hewings, 2017-09-05 Originally published in 1977 This book provides an introduction to some of the more important techniques of regional analysis techniques derived from geographical regional economic and regional science theory and describes the way some of these techniques have been applied in the identification of problems development of strategy and evaluation of regional programmes The theory and applications of methods of regional analysis are integrated with the use of examples taken from the USA the UK and Canada The author introduces the problems which are encountered in the field of regional analysis describes some of the analytical tools beginning with the fundamental model of the economic base approach and then examines regional flows and the applicability of international trade theory to interregional trade Considering the shortcomings of the aggregated base approach input output analysis is also examined

Regional Industrial Analysis and Development Geoffrey Hewings, 1977 Urban And Regional Analysis For Development Planning Richard Rhoda, 2019-03-20 Dr Rhoda concisely presents the wide range of analytical methods available to urban and regional development planners Focusing on the needs of the practitioner in each chapter he concentrates on a particular analytical issue describing several types of relevant analyses and offering guidelines for selecting appropriate techniques to solve speci Problems & Prospects of Industrial Development in a Metropolitan City , 1994-01-01 Contributed articles Industrial Development, Tennessee Valley Region , 1983 Regional Economics Roberta Capello, 2015-11-10 The second edition of Regional Economics provides a comprehensive and up to date treatment of regional economics This fully revised edition includes key theoretical developments of the last ten years Topics included span from the earliest location theories to the most recent regional growth theories It is also enriched by the recent debate on smart specialization strategies recently developed by the EU for the design of new cohesion policies Key elements covered in the new edition include proximity and innovation theories the concept of territorial capital the debate on the role of agglomeration economies in urban growth This textbook is for undergraduate students in regional and urban economics as well as spatial planning courses Regional Economic Development Robert J. Stimson, Roger R.

Stough, Brian H. Roberts, 2013-03-09 Regional economic development has attracted the interest of economists geographers planners and regional scientists for a long time And of course it is a field that has developed a large practitioner cohort in government and business agencies from the national down to the state and local levels In planning for cities and regions both large and small economic development issues now tend to be integrated into strategic planning processes For at least the last 50 years scholars from various disciplines have theorised about the nature of regional economic development developing a range of models seeking to explain the process of regional economic development and why it is that regions vary so much in their economic structure and performance and how these aspects of a region can change dramatically over time Regional scientists in particular have developed a comprehensive tool kit of methodologies to measure and monitor regional economic characteristics such as industry sectors employment income value of production investment and the like using both quantitative and qualitative methods of analysis and focusing on both static and dynamic analysis The father of regional science Walter Isard was the first to put together a comprehensive volume on techniques of regional analysis Isard 1960 and since then a huge literature has emerged including the many titles in the series published by Springer in which this book is published Spatial and Regional Analysis Methods in Forestry Economics Alex Obiye, Daniel E. Chappelle, Con H. Schallau, 1986 Governance in Northern Ontario: Economic Development and Policy Making Charles Conteh, Bob Segsworth, 2013-01-01 This book analyzes economic development policy governance in northern Ontario over the past thirty years with the goal of making practical policy recommendations for present and future government engagement with the region It brings together scholars from several disciplines to address the policy and management challenges in various sectors of northern Ontario's economy including the mining pulp and paper and tourism industries and both small and medium sized businesses Governance in Northern Ontario assesses the role of the provincial government and its economic policy intervention in the region's economic development The contributors evaluate the relationship between the provincial and local governments and the business sector and also looser structures of policy networks such as those of First Nations and other interested community groups Focusing on the nature of partnerships between governments and societal interests Governance in Northern Ontario makes a significant contribution to the theories and practice of public policy governance in socioeconomically disadvantaged regions Targeting Regional Economic Development Stephan J. Goetz, Steven Deller, Tom Harris, 2009-03-25 This book addresses the growing interest in cluster and targeted economic developments reviewing the socioeconomic theoretical foundations of industry targeting and suggesting alternative methods of identifying industries for targeting Proceedings of 2015 2nd International Conference on Industrial Economics System and Industrial Security Engineering Menggang Li, Qiusheng Zhang, Juliang Zhang, Yisong Li, 2015-12-10 This book collects high quality papers on the latest fundamental advances in the state of the art and practice of industrial economics study and industrial security engineering providing insights that address problems concerning the national economy social development and economic security The book is divided into major sections including Industrial Economics Industrial Security Empirical Studies and others all of which cover different aspects such as industrial organization industrial structure industrial development industrial distribution and industrial policies as well as theories on industrial security in a globalized world The papers in each section describe state of art research works that are often oriented on real world applications and highlight the benefits of related methods and techniques for developing the emerging fields of Industrial Economics and Industrial Security Management and Regional Science for Economic Development Manas Chatterji, 2012-12-06 The greatest challenge facing mankind today is the immense disparity in the levels of income among people in different parts of the globe The growth rate of income of the poor countries is consistently far below the rate of the advanced industrialized nations Due to low income and a high propensity to consume there is very little left in these countries for investment A major portion of the resources available is devoted to military expenditures This continual decline in the standard of living coupled with poverty and unemployment will lead to social and political upheaval in these countries which affects developed countries Because of high capacity and low population growth the market of the developed countries is already saturated To maintain the high standard of living in the developed countries it is necessary to have a strong and stable developing world It is gratifying to see that both groups of countries see the need for peaceful economic growth however the amount of cooperation between countries and the material help from the developed countries are far from satisfactory The economic and social scientists have investigated the best way to achieve the transformation from a poverty ridden condition to a decent existence Their studies have proceeded in two different directions One is a more descriptive historical analysis and the other is theoretical model building Although these studies have achieved a relatively high level of perfection one significant factor is sometimes missing

Regional Economic Development Benjamin Higgins, Donald J. Savoie, 2017-09-05 Originally published in 1988 Leading international researchers in regional economic development have contributed an integrated set of chapters reviewing the whole field and taking stock of current thinking. The book is in honour of François Perroux, the father of regional development theory, whose contributions to two important concepts in economics, time and space, have been substantial. The book comprises five parts. Part one covers Perroux's work in general and on growth poles in particular. Part two deals with the politics of place, population and regional development techniques for regional policy analysis and a neoclassical approach to regional economics. In part three the Canadian scene is reviewed at national and regional levels. In part four chapters on urban development, small and medium size cities and capital grants deal with the experiences of other countries. Part five concludes the book with a chapter on growth poles, optimal size of cities and regional disparities and government intervention.

,1975 2014 Annual Provincial And Regional Competitiveness Analysis For Greater China Economies:

Development Strategies Under The New Normal Khee Giap Tan, Randong Yuan, Sangiita Wei Cher Yoong, 2015-11-09

After more than three decades of rapid growth, China is now entering into the New Normal Era, which will be characterised by slower but sustainable quality growth for several decades to come. How China will fare under the New Normal Era matters not only for itself but also for its great impact on global prosperity. While presenting as the second instalment of ACI's annual tracking of the dynamics of competitiveness among 34 Greater China economies, this volume also includes the results of the inaugural regional competitiveness analysis for five regions of Greater China. As regional imbalance in socioeconomic advancement is a serious issue, China has to face up to under the New Normal Era, the results of such competitiveness analysis at provincial and regional levels offer insights for policy makers to help address concerns associated with the regional disparity in development and facilitate industry leaders and other stakeholders in identifying challenges and opportunities for sound decision making.

The Micro-analysis of Regional Economy in China Houkai Wei, Yeqiang Wang, Bai Mei, 2013. The author also put forward policy advices on the themes above such as the central government should pay more attention to the fairness goals in the market economy framework, some policies should be improved to positively and reasonably guide and regulate firm relocation in China, for example, enterprises from Chinese coastal areas should be encouraged to move to the mid and west areas, the industrialization and urbanization in mid and west areas should be accelerated, the economic development should be geared to the bearing capacity of natural resources and environment, industries and economic activities should be promoted to agglomerate effectively in metropolitan regions. This book provides comprehensive analysis on the relocation of enterprises in China as well as the situation of China's regional economic development.
