Development Centre Seminars Regional Integration in Africa OECD, Asian Development Bank, 2002-04-25 Regional integration and co ordination are not a panacea but they could hold the key to African countries long awaited participation in the world economy This was one of the conclusions of the second International Forum on African Perspectives Mapping Agency Ulrike Lorenz-Carl, Martin Rempe, 2016-05-13 Despite regionalism having developed into a global phenomenon the European Union EU is still more often than not presented as the role model of regionalism whose institutional designs and norms are adopted by other regional actors and organizations as part of a rather passive downloading process Reaching beyond such a Eurocentric perception Mapping Agency provides an empirically rich African perspective on regionalisms in Sub Saharan Africa It adopts an actor centred approach but departs from a rather simplified understanding of agency as exerting power and instead scrutinizes to what extent actors actually participate in or are excluded from processes of regionalism The value of this volume derives from the inclusion of historical dimensions its open multi actor approach to both formal and informal processes and its comparative perspective within but also beyond Sub Saharan Africa The chapters offer a multifaceted picture of agency beyond disciplinary divides where the EU is one actor amongst many and where local national regional and global state and non state actors shape and sometimes break processes of regionalisms in Sub Saharan Africa Roads to Regionalism Tanja A. Börzel, Lukas Goltermann, Kai Striebinger, 2016-04-08 Over the past few decades states all around the globe have intensified institutionalized cooperation at the regional level To deepen our understanding of state led regionalism the authors use an analytical framework comprising four main strands First they describe and explain the genesis and growth of regional organizations Second they account for institutional design looking at important similarities and differences Third they examine the interaction between organizations and member states in an attempt to reveal factors that shape the level of commitment to and compliance with regional initiatives Finally they consider the impact of regional organizations on their member states They conclude by providing a foundation for future research on the dynamic development of regionalism
