The White Road Sarah Lotz, 2025-05-01 A cutting edge thriller about one man's quest to discover horror lurking at the top of the world Desperate to attract subscribers to his fledgling website Journey to the Dark Side ex-adrenalin junkie and slacker Simon Newman hires someone to guide him through the notorious Cwm Pot caves so that he can film the journey and put it on the internet With a tragic history Cwm Pot has been off limits for decades and unfortunately for Simon the guide he's hired is as unpredictable and dangerous as the watery caverns that lurk beneath the earth After a brutal struggle for survival Simon barely escapes with his life but predictably the gruesome footage

he managed to collect down in the earth's bowels goes viral Ignoring the warning signs of mental trauma and eager to capitalize on his new internet fame Simon latches onto another escapade that has that magic click bait mix of danger and death a trip to Everest But up above 8000 feet in the infamous Death Zone he'll need more than his dubious morals and wits to guide him especially when he uncovers the truth behind a decade old tragedy a truth that means he might not be coming back alive A truth that will change him and anyone who views the footage he captures forever Edge of the Map Johanna Garton, 2020-04-01 Edge of the Map is equal parts inspiring dramatic and heartbreaking One of America's greatest high altitude mountaineers Christine Boskoff was at the top of her career when she and her partner died in an avalanche in 2006 Charismatic principled and humble Boskoff was also a deeply loved role model to her climbing partners and the Sherpa community Edge of the Map traces the sharp twists and turns in Boskoff's life from her early years as a Lockheed engineer through her first successes in the climbing world to her purchase of Seattle based Mountain Madness after owner and climber Scott Fischer died in the 1996 Everest disaster Her life was one of constant achievement mixed with personal tragedy The story follows Boskoff as she perseveres and moves on to even bigger peaks earning acclaim as a world class mountaineer then later as she finds an alpine partnership with legendary Colorado climber Charlie Fowler Unjustifiable Risk? Simon Thompson, 2012-03-06 To the impartial observer Britain does not appear to have any mountains Yet the British invented the sport of mountain climbing and for two periods in history British climbers led the world in the pursuit of this beautiful and dangerous obsession Unjustifiable Risk is the story of the social economic and cultural conditions that gave rise to the sport and the achievements and motives of the scientists and poets parsons and anarchists villains and judges ascetics and drunks that have shaped its development over the past two hundred years The history of climbing inevitably reflects the wider changes that have occurred in British society including class gender nationalism and war but the sport has also contributed to changing social attitudes to nature and beauty heroism and death Over the years increasing wealth leisure and mobility have gradually transformed climbing from an activity undertaken by an eccentric and privileged minority into a sub division of the leisure and tourist industry while competition improved technology and information and increasing specialisation have helped to create climbs of unimaginable difficulty at the leading edge of the sport But while much has changed even more has remained the same Today's climbers would be instantly recognisable to their Victorian predecessors with their desire to escape from the crowded complexity of urban society and willingness to take unjustifiable risk in pursuit of beauty adventure and self fulfilment Unjustifiable Risk was shortlisted for the Boardman Tasker prize in 2011 Thérèse and Martin Karin Johannesson, 2023-04-24 The Carmelite nun Therese of the Child Jesus 1873-1897 lived a contemplative monastic life Through her writings she continues to help people who live in completely different contexts to discover that God is always present in the middle of everyday life Like Martin Luther 1483-1546 Therese clearly distances herself from the idea that we can earn our salvation from God This book begins by highlighting the extensive similarities between Therese's teaching and Martin Luther's theology With the help of the three Carmelite Doctors of the Church Therese of the Child Jesus Teresa of Avila 1515 1582 and John of the Cross 1542 1591 the discussion develops further and a receptive ecumenical study is carried out The overall question is how the Carmelite tradition can enrich the Evangelical Lutheran tradition in a way that contributes to the renewal of the church It is argued that such a renewal is of vital importance if people today are to receive the spiritual guidance that they are longing for False Summit Julie Rak, 2021-04-14 The race to climb Everest catapulted mountain climbing with its accompanying images of conquest and sport into the public sphere on a global scale But as a metaphor for the pinnacle of human achievement mountaineering remains the preserve of traditional white male heroism False Summit unpacks gender politics in the expedition narratives and memoirs of mountaineers in the Himalayas and the Karakoram Why are women still a minority in the world's highest places Julie Rak proposes that the genre has itself reached a false summit a peak that proves not to be the pinnacle and that mountaineering is not ready to welcome other ways of climbing or other kinds of climbers For more than two centuries mountaineering as an activity and as an ideal has helped shape how the self is understood within the context of conquest adventure and proximity to risk As climbing shows signs of becoming more diverse Rak asks why change is so hard to achieve and why gender bias and other inequities exist in climbing at all Exploring classic and lesser known expedition accounts from Everest K2 and Annapurna False Summit helps us understand why mountaineering remains one of the most important ways to articulate gender identities and politics

Evening Standard Books to Watch 2022
Bookseller Editor's Choice
Winner of the Boardman Tasker Award for Mountain Literature
A wonderful book, exhilarating and taut, fearless in its explorations of wilderness, risk, motherhood and the inner and outer worlds of the writer Jon McGregor. This book is beautiful.

Emma Jane Unsworth
Climbing gives you the illusion of being in control just for a while, the tantalising sense of being able to stay one move ahead of death. As a child, Helen Mort was drawn to the thrill and risk of climbing, the tension between human and rockface and the climber's need to be hyperaware of the sensory world to feel the texture of rock under their fingers, how their crampons bite into the ice, the subtle shifts in weather. But when she becomes a mother for the first time, she finds herself re-examining this most elemental of disciplines and the way that we view women who put themselves in danger.

Written by one of Britain's most talented young writers, A Line Above the Sky melds memoir and nature writing to create what will surely become a classic of the genre. It asks why humans are compelled to climb and poses other deeper questions about self, motherhood and freedom. It is a love letter to losing oneself in physicality, whether that is in the risk of climbing a granite wall solo without ropes or the intensity of bringing a child into the world.
