European Landscapes of Rock-Art Christopher Chippindale, George Nash, 2003-09-02 Rock art the ancient images which still scatter the rocky landscapes of Europe is a singular kind of archaeological evidence Fixed in place it does not move about as artefacts as trade objects do Enigmatic in its meaning it uniquely offers a direct record of how prehistoric Europeans saw and envisioned their own worlds European Landscapes of Rock Art provides a number of case studies covering a range of European locations including Ireland Italy Scandinavia Scotland and Spain which collectively address the chronology and geography of rock art as well as providing an essential series of methodologies for future debate Each author provides a synthesis that focuses on landscape as an essential part of rock art construction From the paintings and carved images of prehistoric Scandinavia to Second World War graffiti on the German Reichstag this volume looks

beyond the art to the society that made it The papers in this volume also challenge the traditional views of how rock art is recorded Throughout there is an emphasis on informal and informed methodologies The authors skilfully discuss subjectivity and its relationship with landscape since personal experience from prehistoric times to the present day plays an essential role in the interpretation of art itself The emphasis is on location on the intentionality of the artist and on the needs of the audience This exciting volume is a crucial addition to rock art literature and landscape archaeology It will provide new material for a lively and greatly debated subject and as such will be essential for academics non academics and commentators of rock art in general ECMT Round Tables Transport and Exceptional Public Events European Conference of Ministers of Transport,2003-03-11 The Round Table examined large scale sporting cultural and festive events in Europe and the rest of the world and noted that setting ambitious targets contributes to the quality of the event Eyewitness Travel Guides - Berlin Małgorzata Omilanowska,2011 This guide makes sense of this city of contradictions with numerous colour photographs 3 D aerial views and unique cutaways of famous buildings Its colour street finder will take you from the Brandenburg Gate to the hotels restaurants cafes and the famous nightclub districts The New Europe Robert William Seton-Watson,1918 The New Europe ,1918 The German Bank Inquiry of 1908 Anonymous,2025-06-05 Reprint of the original first published in 1911 The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage
