ongoing and dynamic process that constitutes the self it presents selves and the categories of identity that qualify these selves as fundamentally conditioned by the environments in which they appear before themselves and others It also argues that we do the work of identity in public spaces particularly digital spaces and that these spaces shape what identities we can assume and what those identities mean Contemporary social media technologies facilitate the production of particular forms of selfhood through the combined logics of the interface the profile and the post The Politics of Recognition in the Age of Digital Spaces will be of interest to scholars and advanced students working in a wide range of disciplines including political philosophy phenomenology philosophy of technology sociology political theory and critical theory It will also appeal to anyone with an interest in contemporary identity politics whether as a matter of study or lived experience The Cultural Pragmatics of Danger Carsten Levisen,Zhengdao Ye,2024-08-15 This book addresses the problems and challenges of studying the discourse of danger cross linguistically and cross culturally and proposes the cultural pragmatics of danger as a new field of inquiry Detailed case studies of several linguacultures include Arabic Chinese Danish English German Japanese and Spanish Focusing on global and local contexts surrounding living in dangerous times this book showcases how the new model of cultural pragmatics can be used to illuminate cultural meanings in discourse Unlike the universalist approaches to pragmatics cultural pragmatics focuses on understanding the linguacultural logics of discourse and in the case of danger the multiple cultural logics around which the themes and domains of danger revolve The approach makes use of natural semantic metalanguage NSM as its principal analytical tool and concepts such as cultural keywords and cultural scripts figure prominently as bearers of culture specific meanings The book will be of interest to students of pragmatics and discourse studies researchers in cultural and cognitive semantics anthropological linguistics global humanities political rhetoric and environmental studies as well as linguists working in applied areas such as risk and disaster studies crisis and emergency communication The Habermas Handbook Hauke Brunkhorst,Regina Kreide,Cristina Lafont,2017-10-24 Jürgen Habermas is one of the most influential philosophers of our time His diagnoses of contemporary society and concepts such as the public sphere communicative rationality and cosmopolitanism have influenced virtually all academic disciplines spurred political debates and shaped intellectual life in Germany and beyond for more than fifty years In The Habermas Handbook leading Habermas scholars elucidate his thought providing essential insight into his key concepts the breadth of his work and his influence across politics law the social sciences and public life This volume offers a comprehensive overview and an in depth analysis of Habermas's work in its entirety After examining his intellectual biography it goes on to illuminate the social and intellectual context of Habermasian thought such as the Frankfurt School speech act theory and contending theories of democracy The Handbook provides an extensive account of Habermas's texts ranging from his dissertation on Schelling to his most recent writing about Europe It illustrates the development of his thought and its frequently controversial reception while elaborating the central ideas of his work The book also provides a glossary of key terms and concepts making the complexity of Habermas's thought accessible to a broad readership Reading the Difficulties Thomas Fink, Judith Halden-Sullivan, 2014-02-28 Definitions of what constitutes innovative poetry are innumerable and are offered from every quarter Some critics and poets argue that innovative poetry concerns free association John Ashbery others that experimental poetry is a re staging of language Bruce Andrews or a syntactic and cognitive break with the past Ron Silliman and Lyn Hejinian The tenets of new poetry abound But what of the new reading that such poetry demands The essays in Reading the Difficulties offer case studies in and strategies for reading innovative poetry They allow readers to interact with verse that deliberately removes many of the comfortable cues to comprehension poetry that is frequently non narrative non representational and indeterminate in subject theme or message Book jacket Reading Capitalist Realism Leigh Claire La Berge, 2014-04-01 As the world has been reshaped since the 1970s by economic globalization neoliberalism and financialization writers and artists have addressed the problem of representing the economy with a new sense of political urgency Anxieties over who controls capitalism have thus been translated into demands upon literature art and mass media to develop strategies of representation that can account for capitalism's power Reading Capitalist Realism presents some of the latest and most sophisticated approaches to the question of the relation between capitalism and narrative form partly by questioning how the realism of austerity privatization and wealth protection relate to the realism of narrative and cultural production Even as critics have sought to locate a new aesthetic mode that might consider and move beyond theorizations of the postmodern this volume contends that narrative realism demands renewed scrutiny for its ability to represent capitalism's latest scenes of enclosure and indebtedness Ranging across fiction nonfiction television and film the essays collected here explore to what extent realism is equipped to comprehend and historicize our contemporary economic moment and what might be the influence or complicity of the literary in shaping the global politics of lowered expectations Including essays on writers such as Mohsin Hamid Lorrie Moore Jess Walter J M Coetzee James Kelman Ali Smith Russell Banks William Vollmann and William Gibson as well as examinations of Hollywood film productions and The Wire television series Reading Capitalist Realism calls attention to a resurgence of realism's across narrative genres and questions realism's ability to interrogate the crisis driven logic of political and economic common sense The Social Science Jargon Buster Zina O'Leary, 2007-09-17 Are you confused by academic jargon Do you know your discourse from your dialectic Can you tell the difference between anomie and alienation The Social Science Jargon Buster tackles the most confusing concepts in the social sciences breaking each down and bringing impressive clarity and insight to even the most complex terms This book successfully addresses the central task for any teacher of social theory how to make the material accessible without making it simplistic and banal The overall effect is a most effective text that hard pressed students and lecturers will grab with both hands Dave Harris Senior Lecturer in Social Science This practical down to earth dictionary will help students new to social science discourse gain a thorough understanding of the key terms Each entry includes a concise core definition a more

Novel Shocks Myka Tucker-Abramson, 2018-12-04 Throughout the 1950s a coalition of developers politicians and planners bulldozed vast areas of land deemed slums or blighted to make way for freeways public and private housing projects cultural centers and skyscrapers While the program was national New York was ground zero and the demolition and monumental reconstruction of the city created a distinctive urban sensorium rooted in the new segregated landscapes of prosperous white private space and poor black public space Novel Shocks situates these landscapes at the center of the midcentury novel arguing that James Baldwin Ralph Ellison Patricia Highsmith Ayn Rand William Burroughs Sylvia Plath and Warren Miller all registered these new urban spaces as traumatic shocks that required new aesthetic forms Rejecting older shock based modernisms these novelists forged a new modernism which reimagined shock as a therapeutic force that would create a more flexible self reliant and resilient subject that would nourish neoliberalism's roots In offering a cultural prehistory of neoliberalism Novel Shocks resituates the Cold War novel as a key archive for understanding neoliberalism's emergence and offers a more materialist and historically grounded account of neoliberalism's subjective affective and ideological structures

Fictions of Finance at the End of an American Century Richard Godden, 2023 Addressing the emergence and decline of US Fordism this volume examines how an economy determines the language of those who live among its imperatives It studies how the complexities of words and their histories derive from and register the organizing contradictions of an industrial economy and of its failure

Misrecognitions Ben Parker, 2024-03-15 Misrecognitions mounts a vigorous defense of the labyrinthine plotting of Victorian novels notorious for their implausible concluding revelations and coincidences Critics have long decried Victorian recognition scenes the reunions and retroactive discoveries of identity that too conveniently bring the story to a close as regrettable contrivances Ben Parker counters this view by showing how these recognition scenes offer a critique of the social and economic misrecognitions at work in nineteenth century capitalism Through a meticulous analysis of novels by Charles Dickens Anthony Trollope and Henry James as well as Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes stories Misrecognitions tracks how the Victorian novel translates the financialized abstractions of capital into dramas of buried secrets and disguised relations Drawing on Karl Marx's account of commodity fetishism and reification Parker contends that by configuring capital as an enigma to be unveiled Victorian recognition scenes dramatize the inversions of agency and temporality that are repressed in capitalist production In plotting capital as an agent of opacity and misdirection Victorian novels and their characteristic dialectic of illusion and illumination reveal the plot hole in capitalism itself

Speech, Print and Decorum in Britain, 1600--1750 Elspeth Jajdelska, 2016-03-10 Filling an important gap in the history of print and reading Elspeth Jajdelska offers a new account of the changing relationship between speech rank and writing from 1600 to 1750 Jajdelska draws on anthropological findings to shed light on the different ways that speech was understood to relate to writing across the period bringing together status and speech literary and verbal decorum readership the material text and performance Jajdelska s ambitious array of sources includes letters diaries paratexts and genres from cookery books to philosophical discourses She looks at authors ranging from John Donne to Jonathan Swift alongside the writings of anonymous merchants apothecaries and romance authors Jajdelska argues that Renaissance readers were likely to approach written and printed documents less as utterances in their own right and more as representations of past speech or as scripts for future speech In the latter part of the seventeenth century however some readers were treating books as proxies for the author s speech rather than as representations of it These adjustments in the way speech and print were understood had implications for changes in decorum as the inhibitions placed on lower ranking authors in the Renaissance gave way to increasingly open social networks at the start of the eighteenth century As a result authors from the lower ranks could now publish on topics formerly reserved for the more privileged While this apparently egalitarian development did not result in imagined communities that transcended class readers of all ranks did encounter new models of reading and writing and were empowered to engage legitimately in the gentlemanly criticism that had once been the reserve of the cultural elites Shortlisted for the European Society for the Study of English ESSE book prize 2018 Mike Nichols and the Cinema of Transformation J.W.
