Crusading was a religious movement involving papal authorization the incentive of remission of sins pious motivation on behalf of the individual and the justification of holy war Much recent historiography in this area has focused on resolving the questions of what a crusade was and why people went on them But crusading became a cultural and social phenomenon that changed across time and geographical space In turn crusading was shaped by the ways specific crusades and their participants were remembered in specific historical contexts Moreover crusade memory had profound effects on the cultivation of family lineage kinship ties national and regional identity and religious orthodoxy Integrating memory into crusades scholarship thus offers new ways of exploring the aftermath of war the construction of cultural and social memory the role of women and families in this process and the crusading movement itself This book explores memory as a methodological means of understanding the crusades It engages with theories of communicative memory social and cultural memory war commemoration and historical processes of remembering Contributions explore the variety of cultural forms used in cultivating crusade memory Material visual liturgical and textual objects are all reflective of crusade culture and the process of crafting its memory and the analysis of such sources is of particular interest This publication furthers new trends in crusade scholarship which understand the crusades as a broad religious movement that called upon and developed within a wider cultural framework than previously acknowledged This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Medieval History

Preaching with Sacred Fire: An Anthology of African American Sermons, 1750 to the Present Martha Simmons, Frank A. Thomas,2010-08-16 One hundred sermons that display the victorious although sometimes painful historical and spiritual pilgrimage of black people in America A groundbreaking anthology

Preaching with Sacred Fire is a unique and powerful work. It captures the stunning diversity of the cultural and historical legacy of African American preaching more than three hundred years in the making. Each sermon as editors Martha Simmons and Frank A Thomas reveal is a work of art and a lesson in unmatched rhetoric. The journey through this anthology which includes selections from Jarena Lee, Frederick Douglass, Malcolm X, Martin Luther King Jr, Gardner C Taylor, Vashti McKenzie and many others offers a rare view of the unheralded role of the African American preacher in American history. The collection provides new insights into the underpinnings of the black fight for emancipation and the rise and growth of the Civil Rights and Black Power movements. Sermons from the first decade of the twenty first century point toward the future of African American preaching. Biographies of the preachers put their work in the cultural and homiletic context of their periods. The preachers of these sermons are men and women from a range of faiths, ancestries and educational backgrounds. They draw on a vast and luminous landscape of poetic language using metaphor, rhythm and imagery to communicate with their congregations. What they all have in common is hope, resilience and sacred fire. Even during the most difficult and oppressive times, Simmons and Thomas write in the preface, the delivery, creativity, charisma, expressivity, fervor, forcefulness, passion, persuasiveness, poise, power, rhetoric, spirit, style and vision of black preaching gave and gives hope to a community under siege. This magnificent work beautifully renders the complexity, spiritual richness and strength of African American life.

The Alphorn through the Eyes of the Classical Composer Frances Jones, 2021-04-06. The Alphorn through the Eyes of the Classical Composer is the first and definitive book to be written about the alphorn in English. It has been written with English speaking readers in mind as it examines the extensive interest of primarily non Swiss composers, writers and artists in the alphorn as a symbol of the Alps, the influence and significance of the alphorn in culture, literature and the arts across the globe and the ways in which the instrument has been specifically utilised by the Swiss as the iconic representation of their country. This book also explores the use of the musical language of the alphorn call to ascertain why and how such references as those of Berlioz or Beethoven can convey so much meaning. Dr Jones seeks out what it is that a composer brings into the concert hall, the theatre, the opera house, the church or the drawing room by such a quotation to what heritage they are referring and upon what basis there are grounds for an assumption that such a reference will be understood by an audience. The book, which will be of interest to researchers in Swiss cultural studies and ethnomusicology, builds on Dr Jones's research and PhD thesis. The six chapters deal with a variety of topics including a basic introduction to the alphorn and an exploration of the promotion of the instrument as the symbol of Switzerland as well as the reasons behind symbolic references to alphorn motifs by European and British composers in concert repertoire, jazz and film.
