The book consists of three longer essays by Cavarero, Butler, and Honig followed by shorter responses by a range of scholars that widen the dialogue drawing on post-Marxism, Italian feminism, queer theory, and lesbian and gay politics. Together the authors contest the boundaries of their common project for a pluralistic heterogeneous but urgent feminist ethics of nonviolence.

Modernist Commitments Jessica Berman, 2012-01-03 Jessica Berman demonstrates how modernist narrative connects ethical attitudes and responsibilities to the active creation of political relationships and the way we imagine justice. She challenges divisions between modernist and committed writing, arguing that a continuum of political engagement undergirds modernisms worldwide and that it is strengthened rather than hindered by formal experimentation. In addition to making the case for a transnational model of modernism, Berman shows how modernism's play with formal matters, its challenge to the boundaries between fact and fiction, its incorporation of vernacular and folkways, and its engagement with embodied experience and intimacy offer not only an expanded account of modernist texts and commitments but a new way of thinking about what modernism is and can do.

Between Philosophy and Non-Philosophy Donald A. Landes, Leonard Lawlor, Peter Gratton, 2016-11-01 Hugh J. Silverman was an inspiring scholar and teacher known for his work engaging and shaping phenomenology, hermeneutics, psychoanalysis, structuralism, poststructuralism, and deconstruction. As Professor of Philosophy and Comparative Literary and Cultural Studies at Stony Brook University, State University of New York, Silverman's work was marked by the between, a concept he developed to think the postmodern in the space between philosophy and non-philosophy. In this volume, leading scholars explore and extend Silverman's philosophical contributions from reflections on the notions of care, time, and responsibility to presentations of the practices and possibilities of deconstruction itself. They provide an assessment of Silverman's life and work at the intersection of philosophy, ethics, and politics.

Margaret Fuller Charles Capper, Cristina Giorcelli, 2008-01-15 Margaret Fuller (1810-1850), a pioneering gender theorist, transcendentalist, journalist, and literary critic, was one of the most well-known and highly regarded feminist intellectuals of nineteenth-century America. With her contemporaries Ralph Waldo Emerson and Henry David Thoreau, she was one of the predominant writers of the Transcendentalist movement and she aligned herself in both her public and private life with the European revolutionary fervor of the 1840s. She traveled to Italy as a foreign correspondent for the New York Tribune to cover the nascent revolutions, pursuing the transnational ideal awakened in her youth by a classical education in European languages and a Romantic curiosity about other cultures, traditions, and identities. This volume is a collaboration of international scholars who, from varied fields and approaches, assess Fuller's genius and character. Treating the last several years of Margaret Fuller's short life, these essays offer a truly international discussion of Fuller's unique cultural, political, and personal achievements From the origins and articulations of Fuller's cosmopolitanism to her examination of the woman question and from her fascination with the European other to her candid perception of imperial America from abroad they ponder what such an extraordinary woman meant to America and also to Italy and Europe during her lifetime and continuing to the present
