Relators And Linkers A Study Of Predication Predicate Inversion And Copulas:

Relators and Linkers Marcel den Dikken, 2006 Presents a syntax of predication and Predicate Inversion that emphasizes meaningless elements called RELATORS and LINKERS that play an essential role in the establishment and syntactic manipulation of predication relationships Cross-Linguistic Studies of Imposters and Pronominal Agreement Chris Collins, 2014-03-04 Imposters are third person DPs that are used to refer to the speaker writer or addressee such as i Your humble servant finds the time before our next encounter very long ii This reporter thinks that the current developments are extraordinary iii Daddy will be back before too long iv The present author finds the logic of the reply faulty This volume explores verbal and pronominal agreement with imposters from a cross linguistic perspective The central questions for any given language are a How do singular and plural imposters agree with the verb b When a pronoun has an imposter antecedent what are the phi features of the pronoun The volume reveals a remarkable degree of variation in the answers to these questions but also reveals some underlying generalizations The contributions describe imposters in Bangla Spanish Albanian Indonesian Italian French Romanian Mandarin and Icelandic Romance Languages and Linguistic Theory 2004 Jenny Doetjes, Paz González, 2006-01-01 This volume brings together a selection of papers from the eighteenth Going Romance symposium held at Leiden University 9 11 December 2004 These papers cover a broad range of topics in phonology morphology syntax semantics historical linguistics and acquisition in a variety of Romance languages The Oxford Handbook of Persian Linguistics Anousha Sedighi, Pouneh Shabani-Jadidi, 2018-08-02 This handbook offers a comprehensive overview of the field of Persian linguistics discusses its development and captures critical accounts of cutting edge research within its major subfields as well as outlining current debates and suggesting productive lines of future research Leading scholars in the major subfields of Persian linguistics examine a range of topics split into six thematic parts Following a detailed introduction from the editors the volume begins by placing Persian in its historical and typological context in Part I Chapters in Part II examine topics relating to phonetics and phonology while Part III looks at approaches to and features of Persian syntax The fourth part of the volume explores morphology and lexicography as well as the work of the Academy of Persian Language and Literature Part V language and people covers topics such as language contact and teaching Persian as a foreign language while the final part examines psycho neuro and computational linguistics The volume will be an essential resource for all scholars with an interest in Persian language and linguistics A0 - The Lexical Status of Adjectives Moreno Mitrović, 2022-11-15 This volume brings together seven eminently original attempts to answer a sorely neglected question What are adjectives Although the positioning of adjectives as well as aspects of their semantics have been investigated in depth their actual status as a lexical category has generally been treated superficially in the linguistic literature In this volume the different approaches to the categorial identity of adjectives put forward include their position in the inventory of lexical categories the elusive noun adjective link the functional entourage of adjectives and their relational character the role of concord and possession and so on The contributors bring different viewpoints as well as a variety of language data into the discussion from Chinese to Indo European and on to Niger Congo languages     Austronesian and Theoretical Linguistics Raphael Mercado, Eric Potsdam, Lisa deMena Travis, 2010 The papers presented within this volume were selected from the fourteenth meeting of the Austronesian Formal Linguistics Association AFLA XIV held May 4 6 2007 at McGill University in Montreal Quebec Canada     Advances in Iranian Linguistics Richard K. Larson, Sedigheh Moradi, Vida Samiian, 2020-07-15 This volume brings together selected papers from the first North American Conference in Iranian Linguistics which was organized by the linguistics department at Stony Brook University Papers were selected to illustrate the range of frameworks diverse areas of research and how the boundaries of linguistic analysis of Iranian languages have expanded over the years The contributions collected in this volume address advancing research and complex methodological explorations in a broad range of topics in Persian syntax morphology phonology semantics typology and classification as well as historical linguistics Some of the papers also investigate less studied and endangered Iranian languages such as Tat Gilaki and Mazandarani Sorani and Kurmanji Kurdish and Zazaki The volume will be of value to scholars in theoretical frameworks as well as those with typological and diachronic perspectives and in particular to those working in Iranian linguistics     Aspects of Iranian Linguistics Simin Karimi, Vida Samiian, Donald Stilo, 2009-05-05 Aspects of Iranian Linguistics introduces readers to recent research into various properties of a number of Iranian languages The volume consists of twenty chapters that cover a full range of Iranian linguistics including formal theoretical perspectives from a syntactic and morphological point of view typological and functional perspectives and diachronic and areal perspectives It also contains papers on computational linguistics and neurolinguistics as well as the modern history of lexicography in Iran Various Iranian languages are discussed in this volume including Hawrami and Kermanji two of the major dialects of Kurdish Medieval Classical and Modern Persian Balochi Taleshi and Pamir With the exception of Persian other Iranian languages had not received much attention in the past Thus this work as the first volume ever published on various aspects of these languages and their linguistic properties is a valuable contribution to our understanding of a less commonly studied language family The theoretical descriptive and applied approaches pursued by various authors in this volume together with the colorful range of languages discussed provide a unique perspective that is appealing to researchers in different domains of linguistics and language studies     Experiments in Focus Sam Featherston, Robin Hörnig, Sophie von Wietersheim, Susanne Winkler, 2019-11-05 This volume presents new and cutting edge research on the question of how we parse interpret and understand language in more complex discourse settings The challenge is to find empirical evidence on how information structure and semantic processing are related Comprehensible answers are provided by showing how syntax phonology semantics and pragmatics interact and how they influence semantic processing and interpretation The analysis of core information structural concepts that contribute to processing such as focus and contrast the specific discourse status of referents that add to the common ground context dependency and markedness as well as prosodic prominence and givenness marking has added new and convincing evidence to the research of information structure and semantic processing

fundamental property of human language and the restrictions on displacement have been a central concern in generative grammar ever since Ross 1967 ground breaking observations of island constraints While island phenomena have been investigated in detail from various perspectives a different domain the domain of Freezing originally defined in terms of non base structures has received far less attention This volume brings together papers that address the questions of What are the different concepts of Freezing Which empirical domains can they explain Is Freezing a core syntactic restriction or does information structure or processing play a role The collection of papers provides insights into the empirical basis of the Freezing Principle in relation to other restrictions on extraction in order to contribute to a broader understanding of the nature of restrictions on displacement in language The overall goal of the volume is a reconsideration of Freezing and other sub extraction phenomena both from a theoretical and empirical perspective by bringing together contributions from experts in the field to discuss and broaden our knowledge of the empirical range of Freezing phenomena as well as their explanation

Italian Dialectology at the Interfaces Silvio Cruschina,Adam Ledgeway,Eva-Maria Remberger,2019-02-15 Recent years have seen a growing interest in linguistic phenomena whose formal manifestation and underlying licensing conditions represent the convergence of two or more areas of the grammar an area of investigation particularly invigorated in recent generative research by developments such as phase theory of Chomsky 2001 2008 and the cartographic enterprise of Rizzi 1997 Cinque 1999 In this respect the dialects of Italy are no exception in that they present comparative Romance linguists and theoretical linguists alike with many valuable opportunities to study the linguistic interfaces as highlighted by the many case studies presented in this volume which provide a series of original insights into how different components of the linguistic system syntactic phonetic phonological morphological semantic and pragmatic do not necessarily operate in isolation but rather interact to license phenomena whose nature and distribution can only be fully understood in terms of the formal mapping between the interfaces

The Copy Theory of Movement Norbert Corver,Jairo Nunes,2007 This volume brings together papers which address issues regarding the copy theory of movement According to this theory a trace is a copy of the moved element that is deleted in the phonological component but is available for interpretation at Logical Form Thus far the bulk of the research on the copy theory has mainly focused on interpretation issues at LF The consequences of the copy theory for syntactic computation per se and for the syntax phonology mapping in particular have received much less attention in the literature despite its crucial relevance for the whole architecture of the model As a contribution to fill this gap this volume congregates recent work that deals with empirical and conceptual consequences of the copy theory of movement for the inner working of syntactic computations within the Minimalist Program with special emphasis on the syntax phonology mapping

Language Patterns in Spanish and Beyond Juan J. Colomina-Almiñana,Sandro Sessarego,2020-10-25 The scholarly articles included in this volume represent significant contributions to the fields of formal and descriptive syntax conversational analysis and speech act theory as well as language development and bilingualism

Taken together these studies adopt a variety of methodological techniques ranging from grammaticality judgments to corpus based analysis to experimental approaches to offer rich insights into different aspects of Ibero Romance grammar The volume consists of three parts organized in accordance with the topics treated in the chapters they comprise Part I focuses on structural patterns Part II analyzes pragmatic ones and Part III investigates the acquisition of linguistic aspects found in the speech of L1 L2 and heritage speakers The authors address these issues by relying on empirically rooted linguistic approaches to data collection which are coupled with current theoretical assumptions on the nature of sentence structure discourse dynamics and language acquisition The volume will be of interest to anyone researching or studying Hispanic and Ibero Romance linguistics Journal of Linguistics ,2016

Empirical Approaches to Linguistic Theory Britta Stolterfoht, Sam Featherston, 2012-10-01 The mental representation of language cannot be directly observed but must be inferred and modelled from its effects at second hand Linguists have traditionally responded to this in two ways either going for a fairly data light approach and valuing theoretical creativity or pursuing just those goals for which data is available and trusting to data driven descriptive work More recently advances in technology and experimental techniques have made data gathering easier and more accessible so that a theoretically informed but empirically based approach is rapidly growing in popularity This synthesis permits linguists to combine the intellectual hypothesis generation of the theoreticians with the ability to deliver hard answers of the empiricist This volume is a collection of papers in this direction using mostly experiment methods to yield insights into syntactic and semantic structures language processing and acquisition Papers report corpus data neurological investigations child language studies and fieldwork from minority languages

The Linguistics of Olfaction Łukasz Jędrzejowski, Przemysław Staniewski, 2021-04-26 This volume presents novel cross linguistic insights into how olfactory experiences are expressed in typologically un related languages both from a synchronic and from a diachronic perspective It contains a general introduction to the topic and fourteen chapters based on philological investigation and thorough fieldwork data from Basque Beja Fon Formosan languages Hebrew Indo European languages Japanese Kartvelian languages Purepecha and languages of northern Vanuatu Topics discussed in the individual chapters involve inter alia lexical olfactory repertoires and naming strategies non literal meanings of olfactory expressions and their semantic change reduplication colexification mimetics and language contact The findings provide the reader with a range of fascinating facts about perception description contribute to a deeper understanding of how olfaction as an understudied sense is encoded linguistically and offer new theoretical perspectives on how some parts of our cognitive system are verbalized cross culturally This volume is highly relevant to lexical typologists historical linguists grammarians and anthropologists

Exhaustivity, Contrastivity, and the Semantics of Mandarin Cleft-related Structures Ying Liu, 2022-12-30 Exhaustivity Contrastivity and the Semantics of Mandarin Cleft related Structures investigates the semantics of the cleft and cleft related structures in Mandarin which over several decades have presented analytical challenges for semantic theory The goal of this book in broad terms is three fold i to figure out what clefting adds to the semantics of a sentence ii to set apart the meaning and the discourse function of each type of cleft related structure and iii to provide a uniform analysis of Mandarin clefts and their related structures More specifically it addresses the following questions i what is the semantics of Mandarin clefts ii what do exhaustivity and contrastivity contribute to the meaning of clefts iii what are the semantic or pragmatic factors that determine the variation of clefts related structures and canonical sentences and iv cross linguistically speaking how do Mandarin shi de cleft and its related structures differ from similar constructions such as English it cleft French c'est cleft and German es cleft This book will be informative for linguists who are working on cleft constructions and focus on sensitive structures cross linguistically and those interested in experimental semantics and pragmatics
