The Science and Practice of Middle and Long Distance Running Richard Blagrove, Philip Hayes, 2021-03-29 The popularity of distance running as a sport and a recreational activity is at an all time high Motivated by the desire to achieve a personal best remain healthy or simply complete an event distance runners of all ages and abilities actively seek out advice from experienced coaches and sport scientists This is also reflected in the growth of programmes of education for young coaches and aspiring sport scientists in recent years There are a multitude of different approaches to training distance runners however the basic principles and ingredients required for success are applicable to any distance runner The science that underpins the training and physical preparation of distance runners has developed considerably in recent years The most experienced and successful coaches in the distance running community rarely have the opportunity to share their tried and tested methods of training Similarly the novel work of sport scientists is often only accessible to elite runners their support teams and academia The Science and Practice of Middle and Long Distance Running links together the science and coaching artistry associated with preparing distance runners for events ranging from 800 m up to ultra marathon distances It combines the latest scientific evidence published by world leading sport scientists with the sound training principles and strategies adopted by experienced coaches The book translates cutting edge scientific research from the fields of physiology biomechanics psychology and nutrition into practical suggestions for achieving success Important topical issues and contemporary practices related to health and performance are also addressed This book is an essential addition to the library of any distance runner coach or sport scientist

Master the Marathon Ali Nolan, 2021-09-14 A must have for any woman targeting the distance Runner's World A no nonsense interactive guide that empowers all women at all levels to run their strongest best marathon ever As recently as 1966 women were forbidden to run in the marathon Professionals including doctors believed it was physically impossible and dangerous for women to run more than a mile and a half But as with many other barriers women have faced over time we fought our way in Today women make up almost half of the marathoning population Yet most marathon training manuals are written by men And while these men are experts when it comes to how men can and should train women need training programs tailored to our bodies to our unique strengths and weaknesses so that we can avoid injuries and run at our peak The programming in this book was created by a woman specifically for women Master the Marathon is a comprehensive guide to marathon training for women at all levels of running beginner intermediate and advanced The book takes you through everything you need to know to be prepared for the 26.2 miles of the marathon including detailed training plans strength training programs building your mental awareness of your physical body nutrition guidance on finding the best marathon for you identifying and avoiding potential injuries inspirational advice and other unexpected pieces of wisdom Both incredibly practical and deeply motivating Master the Marathon will help you unlock the strength and determination inside you to embark on the spectacular journey that is the marathon Improving Sports Performance in Middle and Long-Distance Running Joanne Fallowfield, David M. Wilkinson, 1999-10-25 This text addresses the physiological demands of middle and long distance running and presents the reader with research on running physiology It explores the limitations to running performance and the methods used to monitor it Modern Training and Physiology for Middle and Long-Distance Runners John Davis, 2013-05-14 Explains the practical aspects of exercise physiology and modern coaching including energy systems the aerobic and anaerobic thresholds VO2 max running economy muscle fibers and more In addition it covers how these ideas should inform both your day to day workouts and the underlying philosophy that forms the foundation of your training program The Looniness of the Long Distance Runner Russell Taylor, 2001 The Looniness of the Long Distance Runner is one comparatively unfit 39 year old Londoner's humorous account of his attempt to run the New York marathon from scratch He chose the pre Thanksgiving race in the Big Apple to avoid adding to his ordeal by having to train during the British winter Inspired by the charity running of friends Russell Taylor set himself the challenge of doing what Pheidippides first had done But to spare himself the post event trauma of trying to extract money from the reluctant grasp of his sponsors he decided to write a book about his experiences and donate the royalties to charity instead This book follows our intrepid road runner from the treadmills of a north London gymnasium via his first tentative fun run to the mean streets of the Bronx Queens and Manhattan Along the way we encounter indescribably tasteless isotonic drinks sweaty singlets sports injuries personal bests split times anxious queuing for the public toilets and an unfeasibly large quantity of bananas We also discover what lurks within the breast of the endurance athlete an unreasonable hatred of his fellow runner except the nubile females of the species a contempt for the idiocy of stadium announcers and a strange fear of spectators who line the route inanely shouting Keep Going by way of encouragement The narrative is interspersed by jocular reviews of films about running not least The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner and a tongue in cheek description of the history of the marathon from its Ancient Greek origins to its modern day revival as an Olympic event Written with considerable panache and a self deprecating sense of humour this illuminating tale of obsessive and foolhardy sporting endeavour will make entertaining reading for in descending order of athletic accomplishment manic ultra marathon runners dedicated pavement pounders occasional joggers and the simply curious alike 14 Minutes Alberto Salazar, John Brant, 2013-04-09 In 2007 after collapsing on a practice field at the Nike campus champion marathoner Alberto Salazar's heart stopped beating for 14 minutes Over the crucial moments that followed rescuers administered CPR to feed oxygen to his brain and EMTs shocked his heart eight times with defibrillator paddles He was clinically dead But miraculously Salazar was back at the Nike campus coaching his runners just nine days later Salazar had faced death before but he survived that and numerous other harrowing episodes thanks to his raw physical talent maniacal training habits and sheer will as well as he strongly believes divine grace In 14 Minutes Salazar chronicles in spellbinding detail how a shy skinny Cuban American kid from the suburbs of Boston was transformed into the greatest marathon runner of his era For the first time he reveals his tempestuous relationship with his father a former ally of Fidel Castro his early running life in high school with the Greater Boston Track Club his unhealthy obsession to train through pain the dramatic wins in New York Boston and South Africa and how surviving 14 minutes of death taught him to live again The Long-distance Runner Tony Richardson, 1993 In these memoirs completed before his recent death from AIDS Richardson focuses on his passion for film and theater He tells of his marriage to Vanessa Redgrave affair with Jeanne Moreau the births of his daughters travels and many friends such as Richard Burton Elizabeth Taylor and others Photos A Study Guide for Grace Paley's "The Long-Distance Runner" Gale, Cengage Learning, Impact of Coach Athlete Relationship on Performance of Long-Distance Runners in Selected Oromia Athletics Clubs Tekalegn Fikadu, 2023-03-10 Academic Paper from the year 2021 in the subject Sport Sport Sociology grade A Jimma University College of Agriculture and Veterinary Medicine Sport Academy course Research in athletics language English abstract The purpose of this study was to assess the impact of coach athlete relationships on long distance runners athlete performance in selected Oromia Athletics clubs Triangulation design Cross sectional study design was employed The population of the study was selected from four clubs From four clubs 108 athletes long distance events and 17 coaches were totally selected by availability sampling technique The instrument of data collection used for this study was standard questionnaires and semi structured interviews SPSS version 23 was used for the statistical analysis of the data Descriptive statistics such as percent and frequency for the demography of athletes and coaches while mean standard deviation skewness and kurtosis were used to analyze the current performance of athletes Inferential statistics Whereas linear regression was used to analyze the impact of the 3Cs of coach athlete's relationship on athlete performance The average performance of the four club's female athletes is 32 6944 minutes the dispersion from the mean is 1 01937 it is 117 negatively skewed and the kurtosis is 0 250 which indicates a distribution that is too flat The average time of male athletes is 29 72 minutes SD dispersion from the mean is 1 30705 with skewness of 1 460 and Kurtosis is 3 169 distribution of mesokurtic A World History of Long Distance Running (1880-2002) Roberto L. Quercetani, 2002 Track and Field Athletics is the most universally known and practised of all sports Its modern forms first emerged for the most part around 1860 in

Great Britain and USA Its coming of age was accelerated with the revival of the Olympic Games Athens 1896 and the foundation of the IAAF International Amateur Athletic Federation in Berlin 1913 The latter is the governing body of the sport with over 200 affiliated countries still with the same letterhead which now stands for International Association of Athletics Federations Long distance running has always been a very important section of the sport This book recounts the history of the two longest distances on the track programme 5000 and 10000 metres Each chapter covers a given period and brings back to life the outstanding figures in their multiform human competitive and technical aspects Women s long distance running has a relatively short history which is also related in detail As in most of RLQ s works throughout the book one finds interesting asides devoted to sundry episodes emanating from the myriad of aspects of this most varied of sports

Running for Their Lives Mark Whitaker, 2012 You re unlikely to have heard of Britain s greatest long distance runner Despite being a world class athlete Peter Gavuzzi was consigned to obscurity His heyday was in 1929 when he took part in the most extraordinary race ever held u a transcontinental run across America He covered an improbable 3 500 miles in just 78 days
