R. Zeikowitz

Love Goodwill And Affection:

Love, Goodwill, and Affection Jean Bruyere Kell,1987 Homoeroticism and Chivalry R. Zeikowitz,2016-04-30 Zeikowitz explores both affirming and denigrating discourses of male same sex desire in diverse fourteenth century chivalric texts and describes the sociopolitical forces motivating those discourses He attempts to dethrone traditional heteronormative views by drawing attention to culturally normative queer desire Zeikowitz articulates possible homoeroticized spectatorial interactions between male readers and imagined or actual model knights dramatized accounts of same sex unions and mutually stimulating or competing forces of homosocial and heterosexual desire in chivalric texts such as Charny s Book of Chivalry Sir Gawain and the Green Knight and Troilus and Criseyde He also examines how intimate male bonds are rendered sodomitically inflected dangerous attachments in chronicle narratives of the reigns of Edward II and Richard II Aristotle and the Philosophy of Friendship Lorraine Smith Pangle,2002-11-14 This book offers a comprehensive account of the major philosophical works on friendship and its relationship to self love The book gives central place to Aristotle s searching examination of friendship in the Nicomachean Ethics Lorraine Pangle argues that the difficulties surrounding this discussion are soon dispelled once one understands the purpose of the Ethics as both a source of practical guidance for life and a profound theoretical investigation into human nature The book also provides fresh interpretations of works on friendship by Plato Cicero Epicurus Seneca Montaigne and Bacon The author shows how each of these thinkers sheds light on central questions of moral philosophy is human sociability rooted in neediness or strength is the best life chiefly solitary or dedicated to a community with others Clearly structured and engagingly written this book will appeal to a broad swathe of readers across philosophy classics and political science *Analytic. himself the knowledge of their end and therein the principle of action In that the will wills the end it wills also the appropriate means chooses freely and completes the consensus Whether the act be good or evil depends on the end The human reason pronounces judgment concerning the character of the end it is therefore the law for action Human acts however are meritorious insofar as they promote the purpose of God and his honor By repeating a good action man acquires a moral habit or a quality which enables him to do the good gladly and easily This is true however only of the intellectual and moral virtues which Aquinas treats after the manner of Aristotle the theological virtues are imparted by God to man as a disposition from which the acts here proceed while they strengthen they do not form it The disposition of evil is the opposite alternative An act becomes evil through deviation from the reason and from divine moral law
