Encyclopedia of British Women's Writing 1900-1950 Ashlie Sponenberg, 2015-12-23 This study provides a comprehensive and wide ranging resource which includes information on many previously neglected British women writers novelists poets dramatists autobiographers and topics It provides contextualizing material with concise introductions to related topics including organizations movements genres and publications Interwar Women's Comic Fiction Nicola Darwood, Nick Turner, 2020-01-10 This collection of essays examines the work of five intermodernist writers Some were established authors before the First World War and others continued to write after the Second World War but this book focuses particularly on their writing between 1918 and 1939 Elizabeth von Arnim Stella Benson Bradda Field Ivy Compton Burnett Stella Gibbons and Winifred Watson had much in common they all wrote novels full of comic moments which often challenged the cultural politics of the interwar period Drawing on the literary and critical contexts of each novel the essays here discuss the use of comic structures that enabled the authors to critique the dominant patriarchal structures of their time and offer an alternative sometimes subversive view of the world in which their characters reside This book contributes to the growing scholarly interest in interwar fiction focusing principally on novelists who have fallen out of public view It widens our understanding both of the authors and of the continuing highly topical debate about interwar women novelists A Clockwork Orange Anthony Burgess, 2025-04-25 A newly revised text for A Clockwork Orange's 50th anniversary brings the work closest to its author's intentions A Clockwork Orange is as brilliant transgressive and influential as when it was published fifty years ago A nightmare vision of the future told in its own fantastically inventive lexicon it has since become a classic of modern literature and the basis for Stanley Kubrick's once banned film whose recent reissue has brought this revolutionary tale on modern civilization to an even wider audience Andrew Biswell PhD director of the International Burgess Foundation has taken a close look at the three varying published editions alongside the original typescript to recreate the novel as Anthony Burgess envisioned it We publish this landmark edition with its original British cover and six of Burgess's own illustrations A Dictionary of Writers and their Works Christopher Riches, Michael Cox, 2015-01-29 Over 3 200 entries An essential guide to authors and their works that focuses on the general canon of British literature from the fifteenth century to the present There is also some coverage of non fiction such as biographies memoirs and science as well as inclusion of major American and Commonwealth writers This online exclusive new edition adds 60 000 new words including over 50 new entries dealing with authors who have risen to prominence in the last five years as well as fully updating the entries that currently exist Each entry provides details of a writer's nationality and birth death dates followed by a listing of their titles arranged chronologically by date of publication British Women's Writing, 1930 to 1960 Sue Kennedy, Jane Thomas, 2020-07-17 This volume contributes to the vibrant ongoing recuperative work on women's writing by shedding new light on a group of authors commonly dismissed as middlebrow in their concerns and conservative in their styles and politics. The neologism interfeminism coined to partner Kristin Bluemel's intermodernism locates this group chronologically and ideologically between two waves of feminism whilst also forging connections between the political and cultural monoliths that have traditionally overshadowed them. Drawing attention to the strengths of this out of category writing in its own right, this volume also highlights how intersecting discourses of gender, class and society in the interwar and postwar periods paved the way for the bold reassessments of female subjectivity that characterise second and third wave feminism. The essays showcase the stylistic, cultural and political vitality of a substantial group of women authors of fiction, non-fiction, drama, poetry and journalism including Vera Brittain, Storm Jameson, Nancy Mitford, Phyllis Shand Allfrey, Rumer Godden, Attia Hosain, Doris Lessing, Kamala Markandaya, Susan Ertz, Marghanita Laski, Elizabeth Bowen, Edith Pargeter, Eileen Bigland, Nancy Spain, Vera Laughton Matthews, Pamela Hansford Johnson, Dorothy Whipple, Elizabeth Taylor, Daphne du Maurier, Barbara Comyns, Shelagh Delaney, Stevie Smith and Penelope Mortimer. Additional exploration of the popular magazines Woman's Weekly and Good Housekeeping and new material from the Vera Brittain archive add an innovative dimension to original readings of the literature of a transformative period of British social and cultural history.

Reading London in Wartime William Cederwell, 2017-11-06

Reading London in Wartime: Blitz, the People and Propaganda in 1940s Literature presents an expansive variety of writers and genres including non-fiction and film approaches to build a comprehensive social picture of the atmosphere during wartime London. From blitz and austerity to the nagging insistency of propaganda, this volume examines the representation of London in wartime and early post-war literature through each writer's unique perspective on the pressures of 1940s city life. Exploring the use of London imagery, this book considers how literature redirects attention to individual subjective experience at a time of enforced co-operation, uniformity and community. Unlike government information films and news broadcasts which often used London to prop up prevailing clichés and stereotypes and encouraged patriotic support for the war, literature had the freedom to express more recalcitrant truths. London writing of the 1940s was not a literature of opposition or dissent but in offering more nuanced depictions of the period it was a counterweight to propaganda and the general war temperament. In writing the city becomes a more complex place, no longer the easy symbol of defiance and stoicism of the shared sacrifice of ration book and war work.
