The Dynamics of Metropolitan Management in Southeast Asia Jürgen Rüländ, 1996

Mega Urban Regions of Southeast Asia Ira M. Robinson, 2011-11-01 A distinguishing feature of recent urbanization in the ASEAN countries of Thailand Malaysia the Philippines Singapore and Indonesia is the outward extension of their mega cities Bangkok Jakarta Manila Singapore and Kuala Lumpur beyond the metropolitan borders resulting in the establishment of new towns industrial estates and housing projects in previously rural areas This process has both positive and negative effects On one side household incomes and employment opportunities are increasing but on the other the growth often causes serious problems in terms of environmental deterioration conflicting land uses and inadequate housing and service provisions Mega Urban Regions of Southeast Asia is the first comprehensive work on the subject of ASEAN mega urban regions The contributors review T G McGee's original idea of desakota zones and offer arguments both for and against this concept making a significant contribution to our understanding of the true face of ASEAN cities The book brings together authors from around the world and will be of interest to a wide audience including demographers urban planners geographers sociologists economists civil servants and development consultants

Asian and Pacific Cities Ian F. Shirley, Carol Neill, 2013 The cities of Asia and the Pacific are at the epicentre of development in what is arguably the most populous culturally distinctive and economically powerful region in the world 16 major cities such as Tokyo Shanghai Manila Jakarta Bangkok Singapore Auckland Kuala Lumpur and Santiago located in countries as diverse as Mexico and Vietnam Samoa and India China and Australia exemplify the changing patterns of development across this vast region of the world By tracking economic and social trends the contributors to this collection reveal how a wide range of political and cultural factors have interacted over time to provide a powerful explanation for the shape and characteristics of the city today Based on a collaborative research programme and drawing on the work of local researchers this book examines the realities of city development characterised by domestic migration spatial and social fragmentation squatter settlements and gated communities economic experiments and the emergence of the Asian Tigers The collection as a whole records the way in which countries in this region have moved from underdevelopment to become global economic and political powers This book provides a fascinating journey through Asia and the Pacific by generating an insiders view of each city and an insight into national development As such it will be of great interest to students and scholars interested in the Asian and Pacific region in disciplines such as economics politics geography and sociology and in policy domains such as urban planning and economic development Institutional Development Ronald McGill,2016-07-27 This book reviews the theoretical perspectives on institutional development ID and third world city management It considers the practice of ID in city management by reviewing two related cases on organizational strengthening and building a planning capability both in local government The synthesizing chapters offer some guidelines on and tests for ID in city management practice The book therefore seeks to identify some general principles to guide the ID process in relation to third world city management Sustainable Cities Graham Haughton,Colin Hunter,2004-08-02 Sustainable Cities simultaneously tackles two issues of immediate public concern which also find themselves high on the policy agenda sustainable environmental development and urban development The themes of the book the bringing together of the insights of environmental science the social sciences and management the combination of problem analysis with practical application and a critique of urban environmental problems concentrating on air and water pollution are illustrated throughout with in depth material and case studies taken from around the world and are approached from a variety of perspectives economic ecological and managerial Each chapter has a concluding section pointing to key concepts key reading and a range of discussion points Infrastructure Policy and Inequality Michael A. Cohen,2024-04-04 This book reframes the purpose of infrastructure from being an input to economic growth to becoming a major instrument in reducing socio economic inequalities in both industrialized and developing countries Drawing on global and national lessons of COVID 19 and extensive working experience in 55 countries this book reviews infrastructure policies and performance over several decades and suggests that the underperformance of infrastructure could be improved by more attention to users and the demand side and thereby contribute to overcoming many obstacles facing low income communities around the world This book argues that growth is not a necessary condition for sustainability or social justice and that both are undermined by structural inequalities which reduce the income and opportunities of urban households More focus on user needs can substantially change the distribution of benefits and the quality of living conditions of low income people It provides a unique theoretical and on the ground critique of conventional infrastructure practices while illustrating to readers the many positive experiences around the world More infrastructure is not enough different and better is needed This book reviews World Bank experience in launching a 30 year program to alleviate urban poverty through some 7 000 projects showing that many significant policy changes have led to a big improvement in global urban policies adopted by national and local governments yet have failed to significantly address and reduce intra urban inequalities The audience for this book includes academics both faculty and advanced graduate students while also a wider public interested in the prospects for international development Work, Wages, and Welfare in a Developing, Metropolis Rakesh Mohan,1986 Examining five key urban sectors of Bogata Columbia housing transport employment location labor markets and public finance this book provides a well written and concise summary of one of the largest research projects undertaken on a major city in a developing country

Rising Life Expectancy James C. Riley, 2001-06-04 This book traces the global history of rising life expectancy in the last 200 years
