Mexican Agrarian Revolution Frank Tannenbaum, 1980-06-01 Agrarian Revolt in a Mexican Village Paul Friedrich, 1977-12-15

Agrarian Revolt in a Mexican Village deals with a Tarascan Indian village in southwestern Mexico which between 1920 and 1926 played a precedent setting role in agrarian reform. As he describes forty years in the history of this small pueblo Paul Friedrich raises general questions about local politics and agrarian reform that are basic to our understanding of radical change in peasant societies around the world. Of particular interest is his detailed study of the colorful violent and psychologically complex leader Primo Tapia whose biography bears on the theoretical issues of the political middleman and the relation between individual motivation and socioeconomic change. Friedrich's evidence includes massive interviewing, personal letters, observations as an anthropological participant, e.g. in fiesta ritual, analysis of the politics and other village culture during 1955-56, comparison with other Tarascan villages, historical and prehistoric background materials, and research in legal and government agrarian archives.

The Mexican Agrarian Revolution Alix Ingrid Weiss, 1963 Art and Revolution in Latin America, 1910-1990 David Craven, 2006-01-01

In this uniquely wide ranging book David Craven investigates the extraordinary impact of three Latin American revolutions on the visual arts and on cultural policy. The three great upheavals in Mexico 1910-40, in Cuba 1959-89 and in Nicaragua 1979-90 were defining moments in twentieth century life in the Americas. Craven discusses the structural logic of each movement's artistic project by whom, how and for whom artworks were produced and assesses their legacies. In each case he demonstrates how the consequences of the revolution reverberated in the arts and cultures far beyond national borders. The book not only examines specific artworks originating from each revolution's attempt to deal with the challenge of socializing the arts but also the engagement of the working classes in Mexico, Cuba and Nicaragua with a tradition of the fine arts made newly accessible through social transformation. Craven considers how each revolution dealt with the pressing problem of creating a dialogical art, one that reconfigures the existing artistic resource rather than one that just reproduces a populist art to keep things as they were. In addition, the author charts the impact on the revolutionary processes of theories of art and education articulated by such thinkers as John Dewey and Paulo Freire. The book provides a fascinating new view of the Latin American revolutionaries from artists to political leaders who defined art as a fundamental force for the transformation of society and who bequeathed new ways of thinking about the relations among art, ideology and class within a revolutionary process.
