Religions East And West:

A History of Religion East and West Trevor Ling, 1969-01-15 The religious traditions of Asia and Europe the East and West of the title are sometimes regarded as being in sharp contrast with each other the one mystical the other prophetic Whenever their religions are not so contrasted they are usually treated in isolation from each other the religion of Israel Zoroastrianism Judaism Christianity Hinduism Jainism and Buddhism Dr Ling however stresses that there is considerable overlap and interpenetration between the two types and areas and that it is important to see the historical inter relation between these religions and to observe how during given periods of history there are parallel developments or significant divergences He covers the period 1500 B C to the present time providing an outline of the development of Asian and European religious traditions and institutions and discussing the social and economic factors involved in the development of religious traditions although he shows that such factors alone do not account for the religious life of man Dr Ling goes on to interpret the contemporary significance of these religions and their potential for the future life of humanity He suggests that the present stage of religious advance is characterised by open endedness towards the future not all religions exhibit this character but none has yet exhausted the possibilities of development This book is intended for use as an introduction to the study of religion Although reference is made in the text to sources of further information the book can be used without reference to them

Rudolf Otto and the Foundation of the History of Religions Yoshitsugu Sawai, 2022-02-10 This book provides an up to date treatment of Rudolf Otto and his work placing him in the context of comparative religion theology and the philosophy of religion Yoshitsugu Sawai shows how Otto has three faces the Lutheran Theologian the Philosopher of Religion and the Comparative Religionist The book also shows how of these Otto saw himself primarily as a Lutheran Theologian and provides an account of Otto's engagement with India and the centrality that Hindu theology had on his thinking. In Otto's theory of religion, his well-known concepts including wholly other and numinous constitute a multiple structure of meaning. For example, his concept of the wholly other, das ganz Andere, no doubt has the meaning of God in his Christian theological studies. At the same time, however, from the perspective of comparative religion or the phenomenology of religion, this same term semantically implies the ultimate reality of other religious traditions: Brahman and God Isvara in Hindu religious tradition, as well as God in Christianity.

Eastspirit: Transnational Spirituality and Religious Circulation in East and West Jørn Borup, Marianne Qvortrup Fibiger, 2017-08-28. Mindfulness, yoga, Tantra, Zen, martial arts, karma, feng shui, Ayurveda. Eastern ideas and practices associated with Asian religions and spirituality have been accommodated to a global setting as both a spiritual/religious and a broader cultural phenomenon. Eastern spirituality is present in organized religions, the spiritual New Age market, arts, literature, media, therapy, and health care, but also in public institutions such as schools and prisons. Eastspirit: Transnational Spirituality and Religious Circulation in East and West describes and analyses such concepts, practices, and traditions in their new Western and global contexts, as well as in their transformed expressions and reappropriations in religious traditions and individualized spiritualities back in the East, within the framework of mutual interaction and circulation regionally and globally.

Asian and Feminist Philosophies in Dialogue Jennifer McWeeny, Ashby Butnor, 2014-04-22. In this collection of original essays, international scholars put Asian traditions such as Hinduism, Buddhism, Daoism, and Confucianism into conversation with one or more contemporary feminist philosophies, founding a new mode of inquiry that attends to diverse voices and the complex global relationships that define our world. These cross-cultural meditations focus on the liberation of persons from suffering, oppression, illusion, harmful conventions, and desires, and other impediments to full personhood by deploying a methodology that traverses multiple philosophical styles, historical texts, and frames of reference. Hailing from the discipline of philosophy, in addition to Asian gender and religious studies, the contributors offer a fresh take on the classic concerns of free will, consciousness, knowledge, objectivity, sexual difference, embodiment, selfhood, the state, morality, and hermeneutics. One of the first anthologies to embody the practice of feminist comparative philosophy, this collection creatively and effectively engages with global cultural and gender differences within the realms of scholarly inquiry and theory construction.
