Religious Orthodoxy And Popular Faith In European Society:

Religious Orthodoxy and Popular Faith in European Society Ellen Badone, 2021-02-09 By examining the ongoing tension between popular and official religion in Europe this collection of essays contributes significantly to the continuing effort to understand the religious experience of ordinary people Ranging from the Mediterranean to northern Europe and including both Roman Catholic and Eastern Orthodox traditions the ethnographic contexts evoked in these essays enable us to see people actively and creatively shaping their religious domain sometimes in collaboration with official ritual specialists often in open rebellion against them The use of folklore texts and extensive narrative quotations combined with an approach highlighting key symbols such as pilgrimages and festas provides a common theoretical orientation throughout the book one that considers how religious discourses are formed by social disciplines and relationships of power and subordination This volume includes Spirits and the Spirit of Capitalism by Jane Schneider The Priest and His People The Contractual Basis for Religious Practice in Rural Portugal by Caroline B Brettell The Struggle for the Church Popular Anticlericalism and Religiosity in Post Franco Spain by Ruth Behar Pilgrimage and Popular Religion at a Greek Holy Shrine by Jill Dubisch Breton Folklore of Anticlericalism by Ellen Badone Stories of Power Powerful Stories The Drunken Priest in Donegal by Lawrence J Taylor and Reflections on the Study of Religious Orthodoxy and Popular Faith in Europe by Stanley Brandes A

Other Histories Kirsten Hastrup, 2013-01-11 The historization of anthropology has entailed a radically new view upon history and the nature of history This collection of papers from the first conference of the newly formed European Association of Social Anthropologists demonstrate how ways of thinking about history are important features of any production of history and how cultural concepts enter as forces of historical causation

Invention of Tradition and Syncretism in Contemporary Religions Stefania Palmisano, Nicola Pannofino, 2017-09-28 This book explores manifestations of creativity in the religious domain Specifically the contributions focus on the nexus of the sacred and the creative and the mechanisms of syncretism and re invention of tradition by which this manifestations occur The text is divided into two sections In the first empirical cases of spirituality characterized by syncretistic processes are highlighted in the second examples which can be traced back to forms of the re invention of tradition are examined The authors document possible forms of adaptations and religious enculturation In the second the authors demonstrate that spiritual traditions whether ancient or historically fictitious are suitable for reframing in the context of critical interpretative frameworks related to cultural expectations which challenge them and call their continuity into question

Occasions of Faith Lawrence J. Taylor, 1995-04 Devotional occasions or experiences by Irish Catholics form the crux of this powerful first book length anthropological study of Irish Catholicism Questions central to the study of religion inform Occasions of Faith What is religion and how do official and popular religion differ What is the relation between power and meaning What are the roles of religious and political regimes in the social construction of religion In exploring these questions the book draws on two major theoretical traditions in the anthropological study of religion the tradition of Geertz Douglas and Turner and that of Marx Foucault and Asad Even the powerful religious regime Taylor finds in Irish Catholicism must leave creative space for what he calls a religious imagination Basic fears and needs propel the people of southwest Donegal and all of us Taylor argues to respond creatively to strong personal religious experiences and to invent forms to express them

The Blessed and the Damned Anne O'Connor, 2005 The Irish folklore of the Otherworld is rich in its many manifestations of supernatural beings and personages This is represented in many different genres of folklore such as folktales legends ballads memorates beliefs and belief statements and exists within the context of rich literary historical and imaginative parallels This book presents a new reading of Irish religious belief and legend in a meaningful socio historical context examining popular belief and narratives of sinful women and unbaptised children as a way of understanding a particular worldview in Irish society Blending postmodern approaches with traditional methodologies the author reviews the representation of women sin and repentance in Irish folklore The author suggests new ways of seeing this legend material indicating strong links between the Irish and the French specifically Breton religious tradition and tracing the nature of this inter relationship through the post Tridentine Counter Reformation Roman Catholic Church and its teachings In this way

aspects of Ireland's popular religious and cultural inheritance are examined Spiritual Currency in Northeast Brazil

Lindsey King, 2014-12-15 This book examines the spiritual community of the followers of St Francis of Wounds in the town of Canind in northeast Brazil. Their tradition involves pilgrimage and the practice of crafting unique offerings in payment for healing and reversal of bad fortune, a practice predating Christianity and brought to the new world by explorers and early European colonial powers. King argues that these marginalized Brazilians living in a region where poverty is endemic use St Francis of Wounds to replace the medical and social services that the government has failed to provide. She further illustrates the evolution of the regional practice with photographs documenting all stages of this tradition, especially the folk art ex votos used to pay for the saint's intervention. Kerala Christian Sainthood Corinne G. Dempsey, 2001-01-25 Kerala

Christian Sainthood is an ethnography based study that celebrates the multi-vocal function of saints. Drawing on pilgrim anecdotes, shrine practices, official hagiographies and regional lore, author Corinne Dempsey demonstrates how the business of saints routinely extends beyond their capacity as earthly conduits of miraculous power. Sainthood characters described in this book, hailing from the religiously pluralistic south Indian state of Kerala, tend not only to the health and happiness of individual devotees but help craft and express the multiple identities and complex power relations of their devotional communities as well. Throughout the study, Dempsey highlights the traditions of Sr Alphonsa of Bharananganam (1910-1946) and St George the martyr, two figures who reflect the many preoccupations of Kerala sainthood. Sr Alphonsa, native of Kerala and famous for her life of suffering and posthumous power, stands in line to be canonized by the Vatican. St George the caped dragon slayer, imported to Kerala by Syrian merchants and later by Portuguese and British colonizers, is today partially debunked by Rome. These two figures, while differing dramatically in temperament, nationality, age of cult, and Vatican standing, boast a vast popular appeal in Kerala's Kottayam district. In examining Sr Alphonsa and St George, Dempsey shows how Kerala's saint traditions reflect devotees' hybrid identities in both colonial and postcolonial times. This ethnography of Christian sainthood within a Hindu cultural context, of foreign traditions adopted by native practice and of female sanctity negotiated through patriarchal expectation, is poised at a number of intersections. Dempsey provides not only a comparative study of cultures, religions, and worldviews but also a unique grounding for contemporary ethnographic, postcolonial, and feminist concerns. Religion and Politics in Comparative Perspective Ted Gerard Jelen, Clyde Wilcox, 2002-04-01

Religion is resurgent across the globe. In many countries, religion is a powerful source of political mobilization and, in some, a potent social cleavage. In some, religion reinforces the state; in others, it provides the space for resistance. This book contains a series of detailed studies examining religion and politics in specific countries or regions. The cases include countries with one dominant religious tradition and others with two or more competing traditions. They include Catholicism, Protestantism, Islam, Hinduism, Shinto, and Buddhism. They include states where religion and politics are closely linked and others with at least a low wall of separation between church and state. The cases are organized by the type of religious marketplace but allow many other comparisons as well We develop some generalizations from the cases and hope that they will be a fertile source of theorizing for others

The Other Taiwan, 1945-92 Murray A. Rubinstein, 2016-09-16 Examines the effects of the socio economic post war transformation on Taiwan s political system environment religious structures the relationships between the sexes and the different ethnic populations A complex revisionist portrait of the country emerges

The Decline of Christendom in Western Europe, 1750-2000 Hugh McLeod, Werner Ustorf, 2003-07-17 Christendom lasted for over a thousand years in Western Europe and we are still living in its shadow For over two centuries this social and religious order has been in decline Enforced religious unity has given way to increasing pluralism and since 1960 this process has spectacularly accelerated In this 2003 book historians sociologists and theologians from six countries answer two central questions what is the religious condition of Western Europe at the start of the twenty first century and how and why did Christendom decline Beginning by overviewing the more recent situation the authors then go back into the past tracing the course of events in England Ireland France Germany and the Netherlands and showing how the fate of Christendom is reflected in changing attitudes to death and to technology and in the evolution of religious language They reveal a pattern more complex and ambiguous than many of the conventional narratives will admit

The Centrality of Religion in Social Life Eileen Barker, 2021-11-18 James A Beckford s work is internationally acclaimed not only in the sociology of religion but also in other fields of the social sciences Beckford has long been arguing that the barriers that have grown up between the different sub disciplines should be broken down with those specialising in religion becoming more cognisant of new theoretical developments and sociologists in general becoming more aware of the significance of developments in the religious scene This book is a collection of essays written in Beckford s honour drawing on a number of religious themes that have been central to Beckford s interests whilst also offering a significant contribution to our understanding of the wider society A central theme is modernity and its relation to the post modern and how religion affects and is affected by the dynamics of contemporary society with the primary focus of many of the chapters being a concern with how society copes with the minority religions that have become visible with the globalising tendencies of contemporary society The contributors who come from America Asia and various parts of Europe are all internationally renowned scholars Beckford s most important publications are listed in an Appendix and the volume opens with a short account of his contribution to sociology by Eileen Barker the editor and James T Richardson

Cognitive Science and Ancient Israelite Religion Brett E. Maiden, 2020-10-08 Recent tools and findings from the cognitive sciences illuminate religious thought and behaviour in ancient Israel and the Bible Primarily intended for scholars of the Bible and religion it is also relevant to cognitive scientists researchers and graduate students interested in the intersection of cognition and culture

Danger in the Field Geraldine Lee-Treweek, Stephanie Linkogle, 2002-01-04 The nature of qualitative inquiry means that researchers constantly have to deal with the unexpected and all too often this means coping with the presence of danger or risk This innovative and lively analysis of danger in various qualitative research settings is drawn from researchers reflexive accounts of their own encounters with danger An original take on the ever popular topic of the ethics of research this pioneering book expands the common sense use of the term to encompass not just physical danger but emotional ethical and professional danger too with the authors paying special attention to the gendered forms of danger implicit in the research process From the physical danger of researching the night club bouncer scene to the ethical dangers of participant observation in an old people s home these international contributions provide researchers and students with thought provoking insights into the importance of a well chosen research design

Hierarchy and Pluralism A. Pasieka, 2015-03-18 What is the place of pluralism in the context of a dominant religion How does the perception of religion as tradition and culture affect pluralism Why do minorities demands for recognition often transform into exclusion Through her ethnography of a multireligious community in rural Poland Agnieszka Pasieka demonstrates how we can better understand the nature of pluralism by examining how it is lived and experienced within a homogenous society Painting a vivid picture of everyday interreligious sociability Pasieka reveals the constant balance of rural inhabitants between ideas of sameness and difference and the manifold ways in which religion informs local cooperation relations among neighbors and friends and common attempts to make pluralism The book traces these developments through several decades of the community s history unveiling and exposing the paradoxes inscribed into the practice and discourse of pluralism and complex processes of negotiation of social identities

Muslims through Discourse John R. Bowen, 2020-11-10 In this rich account of a Muslim society in highland Sumatra Indonesia John Bowen describes how men and women debate among themselves ideas of what Islam is and should be as it pertains to all areas of their lives from work to worship Whereas many previous anthropological studies have concentrated on the purely local aspects of culture this book captures and analyzes the tension between the local and universal in everyday life Current religious differences among the Gayo stem from debates between traditionalist and modernist scholars that began in the 1930s and reveal themselves in the ways Gayo discuss and perform worship sacrifice healing and rites of birth and death all within an Islamic framework Bowen considers the power these debates accord to language especially in arguments over spells rites of farming hunting and healing Moreover he traces in these debates a general conception of transacting with spirits that has shaped Gayo practices of sacrifice worship and aiding the dead Bowen concludes by examining the development of competing religious ideas in the highlands the alternative ritual forms and ideas they have promulgated and the implications of this phenomenon for the emergence of an Islamic public sphere
