Remember Cambodia:

Transitional Justice and Memory in Cambodia Peter Manning, 2017-06-26 Memories of violence suffering and atrocities in Cambodia are today being pulled in different directions A range of transitional justice practices have been put to work in the name of redressing restoring and renewing memory At the centre of this stage is the Extraordinary Chambers in the Courts of Cambodia ECCC a hybrid tribunal established to prosecute the leaders of the Khmer Rouge regime under which 1 6 million Cambodians died of hunger or disease or were executed This book unpicks the way memory is reconstructed through appeals to a national memory the legal reframing and coding of memories as crimes and bids to locate personal memories within collective biographies Analysing the techniques and interventions of the ECCC as well as exploring the role of non governmental organisations NGOs the book explores the relationships in which Cambodian communities navigate memories of political violence This book is essential for understanding transitional justice in Cambodia in and beyond the courtroom Transitional Justice and Memory in Cambodia shows that the governing logic of transitional justice interventions that societies are unable to deal with memories of atrocity and violence without some form of transitional justice mechanism neglects the complexity of memory and remembering in post atrocity contexts and the agency of the subjects to which such mechanisms are addressed Drawing on documentary sources legal transcripts interviews and participant observation data the book situates transitional justice processes in Cambodia within a wider context of social and cultural memory politics examining old and new conflicts of memory that have emerged between the varied accounts and uses of the past that exist in Cambodia now As such it will appeal to students and scholars in sociology human rights law and criminology

Landscape, Memory, and Post-Violence in Cambodia James A. Tyner, 2016-11-16 Between 1975 and 1979 the Khmer Rouge regime in Cambodia enacted a program of organized mass violence that resulted in the deaths of approximately one quarter of the country's population Over two million people died from torture execution disease and famine From the commodification of the killing fields of Choeung Ek to the hundreds of unmarked mass graves scattered across the country violence continues to shape the Cambodian landscape Landscape Memory and Post Violence in Cambodia explores the on going memorialization of violence As part of a broader engagement with war violence and critical heritage studies it explores how a legacy of organized mass violence becomes part of a cultural heritage and in the process how this heritage is produced Existing literature has addressed explicitly the impact of war and armed conflict on cultural heritage through the destruction of heritage sites This book inverts this concern by exploring what happens when sites of heritage violence are under threat It argues that the selective memorialization of Cambodia's violent heritage negates the everyday lived experiences of millions of Cambodians and diminishes the efforts to bring about social justice and reconciliation In doing so it develops a grounded conceptual understanding of post violence in conflict zones internationally

Cambodia's China Strategy Chanborey Cheunboran, 2021-06-21 This book explores the tensions within Cambodia's foreign policy between a tight alignment with China on the one hand and Cambodia's commitment to the Association of the Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN as well as its delicate foreign policy diversification towards other major powers on the other hand. It traces the long history of Cambodia's quest for survival from its bigger and historically antagonistic neighbours the Thai and the Vietnamese and its struggle for security and independence from the two neighbours and external major powers particularly the United States and China. It discusses Cambodia's geopolitical predicaments deriving from its location of being sandwiched between powerful neighbours and limited strategic options available for the Kingdom. The book also assesses recent developments in Cambodia's relations with its neighbours and their implications for Cambodia's increasingly tight alignment with China in recent years. It considers the extent to which the ruling regime in Cambodia depends on strong relations with China for its legitimacy and survival and argues that there are risks and danger for Cambodia in moving towards an increasingly tight alignment with China.

Memory, History, Nation Susannah Radstone, 2017-09-04. In the last decade a focus on memory in the human sciences has encouraged new approaches to the study of the past. As the humanities and social sciences have put into question their own claims to objectivity, authority and universality, memory has appeared to offer a way of engaging with knowledge of the past as inevitably partial, subjective and local. At the same time, memory and memorial practices have become sites of contestation and the politics of memory are increasingly prominent. This interdisciplinary volume demonstrates from a range of perspectives the complex cultural work and struggles over meaning that lie at the heart of what we call memory. The chapters in this volume offer a complex awareness of the workings of memory and the ways in which different or changing histories may be explained. They explore the relation between individual and social memory, between real and imaginary, event and fantasy, history and myth. Contradictory accounts or memories in direct contradiction to the historical record are not always the sign of a repressive authority attempting to cover something up. The tension between memory as a safeguard against attempts to silence dissenting voices and memory's own implication in that silencing runs throughout the book. Topics covered range from the Basque country to Cambodia, from Hungary to South Africa, from the Finnish Civil War to the cult Jim Jarmusch movie Dead Man, from the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame to Australia. Part I: Transforming Memory is concerned primarily with the social and personal transmission of memory across time and generations. Part II: Remembering Suffering, Trauma and History brings the after-effects of catastrophe to the fore. Part III: Patterning the National Past, the relation between nation and memory is the central issue. Part IV: And Then Silence reflects on the complex and multiple meaning of silence and oblivion, wherein amnesia is often used as a figure for the denial of shameful events. (Re)Constructing Memory:

Education, Identity, and Conflict Michelle J. Bellino, James H. Williams, 2017-02-08. How do schools protect young people and call on the youngest citizens to respond to violent conflict and division operating outside and sometimes within school walls? What kinds of curricular representations of conflict contribute to the construction of national identity and what kinds of encounters challenge presumed boundaries between us and them? Through contemporary and historical case studies drawn from Cambodia Egypt Northern Ireland Peru and Rwanda among others this collection explores how societies experiencing armed conflict and its aftermath imagine education as a space for forging collective identity peace and stability and national citizenship In some contexts the erasure of conflict and the homogenization of difference are central to shaping national identities and attitudes In other cases collective memory of conflict functions as a central organizing frame through which citizenship and national identity are re constructed with embedded messages about who belongs and how social belonging is achieved The essays in this volume illuminate varied and complex inter relationships between education conflict and national identity while accounting for ways in which policymakers teachers youth and community members replicate resist and transform conflict through everyday interactions in educational spaces Trauma, Memory and Transformation Sharon A. Bong, 2017 Different forms of trauma affect many millions of people Trauma also helps to shape individual and collective memories This innovative book explores how traumatic occurrences and processes are remembered Using examples from well known events like the Khmer Rouge genocide in Cambodia the Indian Ocean tsunami in Aceh and civil conflict in southern Thailand and Aceh as well as the experiences of comfort women in the Philippines ethnic minority students and interreligious tensions in Malaysia the contributors examine how people face survive and make sense of the frictions and violence in their lives Embracing history ethnography textual analysis storytelling and art the multidisciplinary perspective enables a deeper understanding of both traumatic stress and the structures of memory Trauma Memory and Transformation also moves the discussion of traumatic memory away from paralysis and towards transformative action in the ways that memories of catastrophe can be reimagined as forms of resistance or even peace This original book will be essential reading for all those interested in the study of memory in the Southeast Asian context The Handbook of Contemporary

Cambodia Katherine Brickell, Simon Springer, 2016-09-13 Offering a comprehensive overview of the current situation in the country The Handbook of Contemporary Cambodia provides a broad coverage of social cultural political and economic development within both rural and urban contexts during the last decade A detailed introduction places Cambodia within its global and regional frame and the handbook is then divided into five thematic sections Political and Economic Tensions Rural Developments Urban Conflicts Social Processes Cultural Currents The first section looks at the major political implications and tensions that have occurred in Cambodia as well as the changing parameters of its economic profile The handbook then highlights the major developments that are unfolding within the rural sphere before moving on to consider how cities in Cambodia and particularly Phnom Penh have become primary sites of change The fourth section covers the major processes that have shaped social understandings of the country and how Cambodians have come to understand themselves in relation to each other and the outside world Section five analyses the cultural dimensions of Cambodia's current experience and how identity comes into contact with and responds to other cultural themes Bringing together a team of leading scholars on Cambodia the handbook presents an understanding of how sociocultural and political economic processes in the country have
