Slums on Screen Igor Krstic, 2016-04-08 Near to one billion people call slums their home making it a reasonable claim to describe our world as a planet of slums But how has this hard and unyielding way of life been depicted on screen How have filmmakers engaged historically and across the globe with the social conditions of what is often perceived as the world's most miserable habitats Combining approaches from cultural globalisation and film studies Igor Krstic outlines a transnational history of films that either document or fictionalise the favelas shantytowns barrios populares or chawls of our planet of slums exploring the way accelerated urbanisation has intersected with an increasingly interconnected global film culture From Jacob Riis How The Other Half Lives 1890 to Danny Boyle's Slumdog Millionaire 2008 the volume provides a number of close readings of films from different historical periods and regions to outline how contemporary film and media practices relate to their past predecessors demonstrating the way various filmmakers both north and south of the equator have repeatedly grappled with rejected or continuously modified documentary and realist modes to convey life in our planet of slums

2025-26 NTA/UGC-NET/JRF English Solved Papers 512 995 YCT Expert Team , 2025 26 NTA UGC NET JRF English Solved Papers 512 995 E This book contains the previous solved papers from 2012 to 2024      2024-25 NTA UGC-NET/JRF English Solved Papers YCT Expert Team , 2024 25 NTA UGC NET JRF English Solved Papers      Ethnographic Ways of Knowing Lucinda Carspecken, 2024-06-14 Drawing on the works of ten scholars and public intellectuals ranging over 200 years this book foregrounds ways of knowing that include but go beyond the cognitive. The book explores the work of Harriet Martineau, Jane Addams, W. E. B. Du Bois, Zora Neale Hurston, Ella Deloria, M. N. Srinivas, Barbara Myerhoff, Orlando Falés, Borda, Ronald Takaki, and Nawal El Saadawi. The author discusses their multifaceted ethnographic practices and argues that such practices are still underacknowledged in contemporary research in comparison to cognition and categorization. These scholars were outsiders to their societies in a variety of ways. They highlighted power imbalances in the perception and representation of one group by another and brought direct experience, emotion, narrative, imagination, recognition, self-reflection, activism, and cultural humility into their writing in addition to rationality. The book engages with the authors and their ideas in the context of their times and places. It also reclaims them as methodological predecessors, noting their contributions to what educational ethnography has been and what it could be in the future. Expanding the canon of social research history and providing insight into unique methodological forms, this text will be valuable for scholars and postgraduate students with interests in ethnography as well as the history of research, anthropology, and qualitative methods more broadly.

After the Ancestors Andrew Beatty, 2015-02-26 A gripping narrative that interweaves the story of fieldwork with the drama of life in a tribal society in extremis.

Indian English and the Fiction of National Literature Rosemary Marangoly George, 2013-11-21

Tracks the establishment of a national literature in English for independent India over the course of the twentieth century.

More than the Soil Jonathan Rigg, 2014-09-25

More than the Soil focuses on the social, cultural, economic, and technological processes that have transformed rural areas of Southeast Asia. The underlying premise is that rural lives and livelihoods in this region have undergone fundamental change. No longer can we assume that rural livelihoods are founded on agriculture, nor can we assume that people envisage their futures in terms of farming. The interpenetration of the rural and urban and the degree to which rural people migrate between rural and urban areas and shift from agriculture to non-agriculture raises fundamental questions about how we conceptualise the rural Southeast Asia and the households to be found there.

The Postcolonial City and Its Subjects Rashmi Varma, 2011-08-05

This book considers twentieth and twenty-first century literary and cultural formations of the postcolonial city and the constitution of new subjects within it. Varma offers a reading of both historical and contemporary debates on urbanism through the filter of postcolonial fictions and the cultural fields surrounding and containing them. In particular, she presents a representational history of London, Nairobi, and

Bombay in the twentieth and twenty first centuries and engages three key theoretical frameworks the city within postcolonial theory and culture its troubled salience in the construction of postcolonial public spheres and identities from local rural ethnic tribal and regional to national cosmopolitan and transnational subjects and spaces postcolonial fictions as constituting a new world literary space and as a site of the articulation of contending narratives of urban space global culture and postcolonial development and postcolonial feminist citizenship as a universal political project challenging current neo liberal and post neo liberal contractions and eviscerations of public spaces and rights
