

PERSONAL REMINISCENCES

I do not propose, Ladies and Gentlemen, to deliver to you to-night a serious lecture upon my father's life from its public point of view; I have no analytical criticism of his works to offer you; nor am I going to tell you, with or without lime-light pictures, that his books are Household words, and that his characters are as real to you as if they were members of the circles in which you all live. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickens Entertain at Home Helen Cox,2014-05-15 Mr and Mrs Charles Dickens Entertain at Home presents an account of the life of Mr and Mrs Charles Dickens told in a series of parties or Occasions given in their own homes With each is given the lists of distinguished guests a Victorian Menu taken from Kate Dickens s book What Shall We Have for Dinner and a matching one for use today. Recipes for carrying out both types of Menu follow each Occasion. The book begins with the first dinner party of their married life in 1836 and ends with the completion of the book in 1852. Each chapter follows a quartet theme with a repetition of four pages right through to the end. The first page of the quartet gives the date of the party, sometimes approximately the home at which it was given, the guests present and the life story. The second and third pages are devoted to matching Menus and recipes, and the fourth is an extract from Dickens's own works chosen by his great granddaughter Mrs Stuart McHugh.

Charles Dickens and Georgina Hogarth

Christine Skelton, 2023-04-18

Charles Dickens called his sister-in-law Georgina Hogarth his best and truest friend. Georgina saw Dickens as much more than a friend. They lived together for twenty-eight years during which time their relationship constantly changed. The sister of his wife Catherine, the sharp and witty Georgina moved into the Dickens home aged fifteen. What began as a father-daughter relationship blossomed into a genuine rapport, but their easy relations were fractured when Dickens had a mid-life crisis and determined to rid himself of Catherine. Georgina's refusal to leave Dickens and his desire for her to remain in his household led to rumours of an affair and even illegitimate children. He left her the equivalent of almost 1 million and all his personal papers in his will. Georgina's commitment to Dickens was unwavering, but it is far from clear what he did to deserve such loyalty. There were several occasions when he misused her in order to protect his public reputation. Why did Georgina betray her once much-loved sister? Why did she fall out with her family and risk her reputation in order to stay with Dickens? And why did the Dickenses' daughter Katey say it was the greatest mistake ever to invite a sister-in-law to live with a family?
