Children and Childhood in Western Society Since 1500 Hugh Cunningham, 2020-06-10 Updated to incorporate recent scholarship on the subject this new edition of Hugh Cunningham's classic text investigates the relationship between ideas about childhood and the actual experience of being a child and assesses how it has changed over the span of 500 years Through his engaging narrative Hugh Cunningham tells the story of the development of ideas from the Renaissance to the present revealing considerable differences in the way Western societies have understood and valued childhood over time His survey of parent child relationships uncovers evidence of parental love care and in the frequent cases of child death grief throughout the period concluding that there was as much continuity as change in the actual relations of children and adults across these five centuries Since the book's first publication in 1995 the volume of historical research on children and childhood has escalated hugely and is testimony to the level of concern provoked by the dominance of the negative narrative that originated in the 1970s and 1980s A new epilogue revisits the volume from today's perspective analysing why this negative narrative established dominance in Western society and considering how it has affected historical writing about children and childhood enabling the reader to put both this volume and recent debates into context Supported by an updated historiographical discussion and expanded bibliography Children and Childhood in Western Society since 1500 remains an essential resource for students of the history of childhood the history of the family social history and gender history A Companion to Paul in the Reformation R. Ward Holder, 2009-04-24 The reception and interpretation of the writings of St Paul in the early modern period forms the subject of this volume from late medieval Paulinism and the beginnings of humanist biblical scholarship and interpretation through the ways that theologians of various confessions considered Paul Beyond the ways that theological voices construed Paul several articles examine how Pauline texts impacted other areas of early modern life such as political thought the regulation of family life and the care of the poor Throughout the volume makes clear the importance of Paul for all of the confessions and denies the confessionalism of previous historiography The chapters written by experts in the field offer a critical overview of current research and introduce the major themes in Pauline interpretation in the Reformation and how they are being interpreted at the start of the 21st century Honorable Mention Roland H Bainton Book Prize 2010 Category Reference Works Infant Baptism in Reformation Geneva Karen E. Spierling, 2017-03-02 This book examines the beliefs practices and arguments surrounding the ritual of infant baptism and the raising of children in Geneva during the period of John Calvin's tenure as leader of the Reformed Church 1536 1564 It focuses particularly on the years from 1541 onward after Calvin's return to Geneva and the formation of the Consistory The work is based on sources housed primarily in the Genevan State Archives including the registers of the Consistory and the City Council While the time period of the study may be limited the approach is broad encompassing issues of theology church ritual and practices the histories of family and children and the power struggles involved in transforming not simply a church institution

but the entire community surrounding it The overarching argument presented is that the ordinances and practices surrounding baptism present a framework for relations among child parents godparents church and city The design of the baptismal ceremony including liturgy participants and location provided a blueprint of the reformers vision of a well ordered community To comprehend fully the development and spread of Calvinism it is necessary to understand the context of its origins and how the ideas of Calvin and his Reformed colleagues were received in Geneva before they were disseminated throughout Europe and the world In a broad sense this project explores the tensions among church leaders city authorities parents relatives and neighbours regarding the upbringing of children in Reformed Geneva More specifically it studies the practice of infant baptism as manifested in the baptism ceremony in Geneva the ongoing practices of Catholic baptism in neighbouring areas and the similarities and tensions between these two rituals
