The Working Class Ian Gilbert,2018-03-27 In The Working Class Poverty education and alternative voices Ian Gilbert unites educators from across the UK and further afield to call on all those working in schools to adopt a more enlightened and empathetic approach to supporting children in challenging circumstances One of the most intractable problems in modern education is how to close the widening gap in attainment between the haves and the have nots Unfortunately successive governments both in the UK and abroad have gone about solving it the wrong way Independent Thinking founder Ian Gilbert s increasing frustration with educational policies that favour no excuses and compliance and that ignore the broader issues of poverty and inequality is shared by many others across the sphere of education and this widespread disaffection has led to the assembly of a diverse cast of teachers school leaders academics and poets who unite in this book to challenge the status quo Their thought provoking commentary ideas and impassioned anecdotal insights are presented in the form of essays think pieces and poems that draw together a wealth of research on the issue and probe and discredit the current view on what is best for children from poorer socio economic backgrounds Exploring themes such as inclusion aspiration pedagogy and opportunity the contributions collectively lift the veil of feigned equality of opportunity for all to reveal the bigger picture of poverty and to articulate the hidden truth that there is always another way This book is not about giving you all the answers however The contributors are not telling teachers or schools leaders how to run their schools their classroom or their relationships the field is too massive too complex too open to debate and to discussion to propose off the shelf solutions Furthermore the research referred to in this book is not presented in order to tell educators what to think but rather to inform their own thinking and to challenge some of the dominant narratives about educating the feckless poor This book is about helping educators to ask the right questions and its starting question is quite simple how can we approach the education of young people from disadvantaged backgrounds in a way that actually makes a difference for all concerned Written for policy makers and activists as well as school leaders and educators The Working Class is both a timely survey of the impact of current policies and an invaluable source of practical advice on what can be done to better support disadvantaged children in the school system Edited by Ian Gilbert with contributions from Nina Jackson Tim Taylor Dr Steven Watson Rhythmical Mike Dr Ceri Brown Dr Brian Male Julia Hancock Paul Dix Chris Kilkenny Daryn Egan Simon Paul Bateson Sarah Pavey Dr Matthew McFall Jamie Thrasivoulou Hywel Roberts Dr Kevin Ming Leah Stewart Real David Cameron Sir Al Aynsley Green Shona Crichton Floyd Woodrow Jonathan Lear Dr Debra Kidd Will Ryan Andrew Morrish Phil Beadle Jaz Ampaw Farr Darren Chetty Sameena Choudry Tait Coles Professor Terry Wrigley Brian Walton Dave Whitaker Gill Kelly Roy Leighton Jane Hewitt Jarlath O'Brien Crista Hazell Louise Riley Mark Creasy Martin Illingworth Ian Loynd David Rogers Professor Mick Waters and Professor Paul Clarke

Intergenerational Support and Old Age in Africa Isabella Aboderin, 2011-12-31 In most societies of the world including in Africa responsibility for the material support of older people unable to sustain themselves through work or investments originally resided with their younger generational family members especially their adult children Aboderin explores this topic specifically for Africa In the wake of social or economic change societies experience shifts in the degree to which families support their elders Questions about the proper balance of family and state responsibility however persist especially in light of socio demographic trends and constraints in public expenditure In most of sub Saharan Africa in contrast to other world regions economic security policies for older people have not yet been formulated despite declines in material family support along with rising poverty to which a growing elderly population is exposed In part this betrays the crucial lack of understanding about how and why these shifts in support have occurred in African societies and thus a profound uncertainty about what balance of individual family and state responsibilities will be culturally appropriate and effective in ensuring economic security for older Africans both now and in the future Aboderin aims to address these gaps in understanding She provides an empirical and theoretical analysis of the micro and macro level processes that have underpinned recent declines in old age family support in African societies and likely parameters of future familial support

She also addresses more fundamental theoretical questions about how we should think about the relationships between intergenerational support norms and values and societal change Intergenerational Support in Africa will be of interest to students of African studies economic policy and theory concerning eldercare sociology and social welfare development
