Kierkegaard's Works of Love Richard McCombs, 2023-12-19 Since art is essential to the love of one's neighbor as oneself and to love's chief goal of building up one another we cannot understand love without also understanding its art. Observing that praise is ubiquitous in Søren Kierkegaard's writings Richard McCombs interprets Kierkegaard's Works of Love as a eulogy of love's arts of forgiveness, peace making and building up one's neighbor in maturity and charity. Kierkegaard stresses love's ability to achieve results calling love irresistible and almost magical in overcoming obstacles to its purposes. Living the life of faith and love involves skillful attention to the specificity of the episodes in an individual's life and the creative imagining of new ways of enacting these virtues. McCombs argues that Kierkegaard's ideas about the art of love reveal limits or exceptions to his individualism and to his anti-consequentialism in ethics. Art and Praise in Kierkegaard's Works of Love explores Kierkegaard's distinct praises of love through texts like Works of Love, The Brothers Karamazov and Middlemarch to illustrate complement and sometimes correct Kierkegaard's profound account of love's art and wisdom suggesting ways that the art of praise bears on other questions in aesthetics, ethics and religion.

Love in Education & the Art of Living Becky L. Noël Smith, Randy Hewitt, 2020-01-01 It is common for teachers and students of education to feel disheartened about the profession and their own aims and purposes once they become conscious of the dehumanizing tendencies of the schooling institution. As teacher educators we have also known many students who after studying critical perspectives aimed at exposing the power and privilege flowing through the public schools then look to us with the question: Where's the hope? Our attempt to answer our students' questions has led us to consider what beauty and love in education look like. Where can it be seen and how can we bring this forward so it can be instructive to those who are faced with similar questions about the incredibly important craft of teaching? This collection of narratives, essays and poetic expressions includes the perspectives of students and educators who in varying ways express gratitude toward those who came before them and a deep desire to keep the faith alive. The authors share narrative accounts of someone or something in the public schools or learning experiences in general that inspired and nurtured the passionate desire to achieve goods internal to some shared practice that is some art at living such that there was a transformative readjustment to the very nature of experience itself. We share with readers the stories and intellectual habits that have fueled us, inspired us and that continue to push us to engage in the practice of cultivating educational dynamics that are meaningful and transformative for ourselves, our students and our communities. The book concludes with an exploration into how teachers might not only root their craft but the habit of love in general in a sense of freedom.

A Rhapsody of Love and Spirituality David J. Fekete, 2003 Love between a man and a woman is it sacred or sinful? A Rhapsody of Love and Spirituality explores Platonic eros, Christian mysticism, friendship, religious ritual and love as people experience it, turning up startling ironies and paradoxes and along the way some traditions we may find worth reclaiming.
