Nightmare in Hostage Hills Christina Mask, 2017-11-20 Sadly Christina's journey and her children's experience of being collateral damage is not atypical. Kudos for her strength and bravery in putting her story out there as a cautionary tale for others. Dr. Susan Weitzman, author of Not to People like Us: Hidden Abuse in Upscale Marriages, says Christina Mask's Nightmare is constructed around fragments from a life in agony as one woman attempts to escape abuse, retain her sanity, and regain the custody of three children the family court and her husband have taken from her. It's all here: the daily records over months, then years; the diary entries; the self-blame; the excuses; the shame; the absurdist dialogues with family therapists; marginalia from readings or lectures or religious texts; letters, pleadings with judges and lawyers and evaluators; poems; letters to and from the children; real and imagined; the reports that put her claims of abuse in quotations and so so much more. These pieces are loosely joined by a narrative and an interior monologue that I sometimes found too much to bear. But then I realized I was scanning something akin to a Picasso painting whose underlying truth lay not in what was on the page, not the fragments, but in the hope that put them out here, no more evident than in the endlessly reasonable letters Mask writes to intractable foes. Mask has cast her eye on what Yeats termed the broken crumbling battlement of the self and lived to write it. As one director famously said about the sixty women and children crowded into her six-bedroom shelter: If they can manage this, they can manage anything. Christina's book gives us faith that she is right. Evan Stark, PhD, MSW, The writer is professor emeritus at Rutgers University and author of Coercive Control: How Men Entrap Women in Personal Life (Oxford, 2007). Paperbound

Books in Print, 1991 Dare to Grow Up and Love It! Leona B. Stevens, 2007-08 Reverend Leona Stevens is a multi-gifted teacher, speaker, and mentor. She's the youth pastor and children's church director at the Living Word of Jesus Christ Church, Miami, Florida. Leona Stevens is also a certified school teacher and currently teaches in public schools. Her passion for children, youth evangelism, and spiritual development has birthed many opportunities to share the gospel of the kingdom and of Christ to audiences both in the United States and internationally. She's an ordained minister and has earned her degrees from World Harvest Bible College. When was the last time you heard anyone say, "Growing up never felt so good. You spent your days looking forward to it. I can't wait till I'm 18." On spiritual subjects, however, it's the exception, not the expectation. In Dare to Grow Up and Love It, you'll witness the rewards of growing up, feel the strength of Christ's likeness, and see growth pains as love walls of what is this cave in to make windows of grace and worship. This book illustrates how to grow out of selfishness and grow up in love, a key to maturity. Discover biblical and relevant truths that allow you to see the purpose of
