Unfolding Cluster Evolution Fiorenza Belussi, Jose Luis Hervás-Oliver, 2016-08-05 Various theories have been put forward as to why business and industry develops in clusters and despite good work being carried out on path dependence and dynamics this is still very much an emerging topic in the social sciences To date no overarching theoretical framework has been developed to show how clusters evolve Unfolding Cluster Evolution aims to address this gap by presenting theoretical and empirical research on the geography of innovation This contributed volume seeks to shed light on the understanding of clusters and its dynamic evolution The book provides evidence to suggest that traditional perspectives from evolutionary economic geography need to be wedded to management thinking in order to reach this point Bringing together thinking from a range of disciplines and countries across Europe this book explores a wide range of topics from the capability approach to network dynamics to multinational corporations to firm entry and exit and social capital This book will be of interest to policy makers and students of urban studies economic geography and planning and development

Urban Competitiveness Peter Kresl, Daniele Ietri, 2014-08-27 During the past 25 years the burden of managing economic policy for competitiveness has devolved to cities and to urban regions National governments have increasingly been focused on staving off fiscal collapse Mayors and local administrations have become very creative and active in looking after the state of their local economy and have developed extensive agencies for inter city cooperation and action This book explores this evolving role of cities and urban regions Intelligent and rational policy must be based on an accurate understanding of the situation at hand and of the economic theory that can be utilized in the assessment of the most effective means that can be deployed This book examines the theoretical contributions of economists and geographers and through the analyses of the performance of various cities will give the reader an understanding of the logic behind rational policy formation Evaluation of a city's relative competitiveness is a controversial matter and this book provides a full treatment of the various approaches Finally it examines the experiences with competitiveness of several cities in North America and in Europe Urban Competitiveness Theory and Practice confirms that many cities in trying times do have a mechanism for enhancing their competitiveness and can work to create the sort of economic life the city's residents want Merseypride John Belchem, 2006-05-01 Once the second city of empire now descended by seemingly irreversible economic and demographic decline into European Union Objective One status Liverpool defies historical categorization Located at the intersection of competing cultural economic and geo political formations it stands outside the main narrative frameworks of modern British history the exception to general norms What was it that established Liverpool as different or apart In exploring this proverbial exceptionalism these essays by a leading scholar of the history of Liverpool and of the Irish show how a sense of apartness has always been crucial to Liverpool's identity While repudiated by some as an external imposition an unmerited stigma originating from the slave trade days or the Irish famine influx Liverpool's otherness has been upheld and inflated in self referential myth a Merseypride that has shown considerable ingenuity in adjusting to the city's changing fortunes The first stage towards an urban biography of Liverpool these essays in cultural history reconstruct the city's past through changes in image identity and representation Among the topics considered are Liverpool's problematic projection of itself through history and heritage the belated emergence of scouse an accent exceedingly rare as cultural badge and signifier the origins and dominance of Toryism in popular political culture the deepest and most enduring political deviance among Victorian workers at odds with present day perceptions of Merseyside militancy and an investigation of the crucial sites the Irish pub and the Catholic parish where the Liverpool Irish identity was constructed contested and continued seemingly immune to the normal processes of ethnic fade The final section offers comparative methodological and theoretical perspectives embracing North America Australia and other European second cities England Tomaney, John, Mawson, John, 2002-07-24 It provides the first up to date and comprehensive picture of the state of regionalism in England Charting the regionalisation of England that has occurred over recent years the book examines the background to the English Question outlines factors leading to regionalisation in England presents a new region by region analysis of the social economic and political conditions considers the arguments for regional government Policy makers practitioners academics students journalists and others who need to understand and keep up to date with the development of governance of the English regions will find this book to be an indispensable resource Regional Worlds: Advancing the Geography of Regions Martin Jones, Anssi Paasi, 2017-10-02 A key concern in the debate and empirical research on the geography of regions is the evolution of the conceptualizations and practical uses of the idea of region. This idea prioritises both the intellectual and the practical development of regional studies. This book drives the discussion further. It stresses the complex forms of agency advocacy involved in the production and reproduction of regional spaces and space of regionalism as well as the importance of geohistory and context. The book moves beyond the territorial relational divide that has characterized debates on regions and regional borders since the 1990s. The contributors answer key questions from different conceptual and concrete contextual angles and to motivate readers to reflect on the perpetual significance of regional concepts and how they are mobilized by various actors to maintain or transform the contested spatialities of societal power relations. This book was based on a special issue of Regional Studies. Higher Education and the Creative Economy Roberta Comunian, Abigail Gilmore, 2016-03-10 Since the DCMS Creative Industries Mapping Document highlighted the key role played by creative activities in the UK economy and society the creative industries agenda has expanded across Europe and internationally. They have the support of local authorities, regional development agencies, research councils, arts and cultural agencies and other sector organisations. Within this framework higher education institutions have also engaged in the creative agenda but have struggled to define their role in this growing sphere of activities. Higher Education and the Creative Economy critically engages with the complex interconnections between higher education, geography, cultural policy and the creative economy. This book is organised into four sections which articulate the range of dynamics that can emerge between higher education and the creative economy: partnership and collaboration across Higher Education institutions and the creative and cultural industries; the development of creative human capital; connections between arts schools and local art scenes and links with broader policy directions and work. Chapter 9 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 3.0 license.

Making 21st Century Knowledge Complexes Julie Miao, Paul Benneworth, Nicholas A. Phelps, 2015-05-15 The world has changed profoundly since the publication of the influential book Technopoles of the World. As policy makers and practitioners attempt to harness science, technology and innovation to create dynamic and vibrant cities, many wonder how relevant Manuel Castells and Peter Hall's messages are today. Twenty years later, this book returns to their concepts and practices to update their message for the 21st century. Making 21st Century Knowledge Complexes: Technopoles of the World Revisited argues that the contemporary technopole concept encompasses three new dimensions. Firstly, building synergy between partners is vital for the success of complexes. Secondly, the correct governance arrangements are critical to balance competing interests inevitable in any science city project. Thirdly, new evaluation mechanisms are indispensable in allowing policy makers to steer their long term benefits. Through twelve case study chapters and a detailed comparative analysis, this book provides academics policy makers and practitioners with critical insights in understanding managing and promoting today s high technology urban complexes
