Higher Education in America Derek Bok, 2015-03-22 A sweeping assessment of the state of higher education today from former Harvard president Derek Bok Higher Education in America is a landmark work a comprehensive and authoritative analysis of the current condition of our colleges and universities from former Harvard president Derek Bok one of the nation's most respected education experts Sweeping in scope this is a deeply informed and balanced assessment of the many strengths as well as the weaknesses of American higher education today At a time when colleges and universities have never been more important to the lives and opportunities of students or to the progress and prosperity of the nation Bok provides a thorough examination of the entire system public and private from community colleges and small liberal arts colleges to great universities with their research programs and their medical law and business schools Drawing on the most reliable studies and data he determines which criticisms of higher education are unfounded or exaggerated which are issues of genuine concern and what can be done to improve matters Some of the subjects considered are long standing such as debates over the undergraduate curriculum and concerns over rising college costs Others are more recent such as the rise of for profit institutions and massive open online courses MOOCs Additional topics include the quality of undergraduate education the stagnating levels of college graduation the problems of university governance the strengths and weaknesses of graduate and professional education the environment for research and the benefits and drawbacks of the pervasive competition among American colleges and universities Offering a rare survey and evaluation of American higher education as a whole this book provides a solid basis for a fresh public discussion about what the system is doing right what it needs to do better and how the next quarter century could be made a period of progress rather than decline

Promise and Betrayal John I. Gilderbloom, R. L. Mullins

Jr., 2012-02-01 Traditionally institutions of higher education have been viewed as the gateway to a better future despite the fact that so many of the neighborhoods surrounding them have been filled with hopelessness and despair In Promise and Betrayal the authors want nothing less than to start a revolution in higher education calling on partnerships between town and gown to create sustainable urban neighborhoods John I Gilderbloom and R L Mullins Jr detail how higher education institutions can play an important role in helping to revitalize our poor neighborhoods by forming partnerships with public private and nonprofit groups They advocate leaving the ivory tower and supplying the community with expert knowledge as well as creative and technical resources

Community Engagement in Higher Education W. James Jacob, Stewart E.

Sutin, John C. Weidman, John L. Yeager, 2015-06-17 There seems to be renewed interest in having universities and other higher education institutions engage with their communities at the local national and international levels But what is community engagement Even if this interest is genuine and widespread there are many different concepts of community service outreach and engagement The wide range of activity encompassed by community engagement suggests that a precise definition of the community mission is difficult and organizing and coordinating such activities is a complex task This edited volume includes 18 chapters that explore conceptual understandings of community engagement and higher education reforms and initiatives intended to foster it Contributors provide empirical research findings including several case study examples that respond to the following higher education community engagement issues What is the community and what does it need and expect from higher education institutions Is community engagement a mission of all types of higher education institutions or should it be the mission of specific institutions such as regional or metropolitan universities technical universities community colleges or indigenous institutions while other institutions such as major research universities should concentrate on national and global research agendas and on educating internationally competent researchers and professionals How can a university be global and at the same time locally relevant Is it or should it be left to the institutions to determine the scope and mode of their community engagement or is a state mandate preferable and feasible If community engagement or community service are mandatory what are the consequences of not complying with the mandate How effective are policy mandates and university engagement for regional and local economic development What are the principal features and relationships of regionally engaged universities Is community engagement to be left to faculty members and students who are particularly socially engaged and locally embedded or is it or should it be made mandatory for both faculty and students How can community engagement be better integrated with the other two traditional missions of the university research and teaching Cover image The Towering Four fold Mission of Higher Education by Natalie Jacob

City Comp Bruce McComiskey,Cynthia Ryan,2012-02-01 This is the first full length collection in composition studies to tell the story of teaching and writing in urban universities in cities such as Birmingham Pittsburgh Chicago San Francisco Las Vegas Atlanta and Detroit Bruce McComiskey and Cynthia Ryan visit the fascinating history of various urban universities to illustrate how specific writing programs and instructors have engaged in the changing missions and priorities of their institutions The authors address the complex interwoven components of city comp the identities of individuals and institutions that contribute to the writing of verbal visual and spatial texts the spaces that serve as resources for student writing analysis and critique and the curriculum practices implemented in programs that attempt to help students recognize and in some cases transform their understandings of the cities in which they live learn and compose Handbook of Theory and Practice of Sustainable Development in Higher Education Walter Leal Filho,Constantina Skanavis,Arminda do Paço,Judy Rogers,Olga Kuznetsova,Paula Castro,2016-11-23 This Handbook approaches sustainable development in higher education from an integrated perspective addressing the dearth of publications on the subject It offers a unique overview of what universities around the world are doing to implement sustainable development i e via curriculum innovation research activities or practical projects and how their efforts relate to education for sustainable development at the university level The Handbook gathers a wealth of information ideas best practices and lessons learned in the context of executing concrete projects and assesses methodological approaches to integrating the topic of sustainable development in university curricula Lastly it documents and disseminates the veritable treasure trove of practical experience currently available on sustainability in higher education Ethnography Unbound Stephen Gilbert Brown,Sidney I. Dobrin,2012-02-01 These provocative new essays redefine the goals methods and assumptions of qualitative and ethnographic research in composition studies making evident not only the crucial importance of ethnographic research but also its resilience As Ethnography Unbound makes evident critical ethnographers are retheorizing their methodologies in ways that both redefine ethnographic practices and values and at the same time have begun to liberate ethnographic practices from the often disabling stronghold of postmodern critique Showing how ethnography works through dialogic processes and moves toward political ends this collection opens the doors to rethinking ethnographic research in composition studies New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture, V. 17 Clarence L.
