In Search of the Mexican Beverly Hills Jerry González, 2017-11-15 Residential and industrial sprawl changed more than the political landscape of postwar Los Angeles It expanded the employment and living opportunities for millions of Angelinos into new suburbs In Search of the Mexican Beverly Hills examines the struggle for inclusion into this exclusive world a multilayered process by which Mexican Americans moved out of the barrios and emerged as a majority population in the San Gabriel Valley and the impact that movement had on collective racial and class identity Contrary to the assimilation processes experienced by most Euro Americans Mexican Americans did not graduate to whiteness on the basis of their suburban residence Rather In Search of the Mexican Beverly Hills illuminates how Mexican American racial and class identity were both reinforced by and took on added metropolitan and transnational dimensions in the city during the second half of the twentieth century

In Immigrants and Electoral Politics Heath Brown shows why nonprofit electoral participation has emerged in relationship to new threats to immigrants on one hand and immigrant integration into U S society during a time of demographic change on the other. Immigrants across the United States tend to register and vote at low rates thereby limiting the political power of many of their communities. In an attempt to boost electoral participation through mobilization some nonprofits adopt multifaceted political strategies including registering new voters, holding candidate forums, and phone banking to increase immigrant voter turnout. Other nonprofits opt to barely participate at all in electoral politics, preferring to advance the immigrant community by providing exclusively social services. Brown interviewed dozens of nonprofit leaders and surveyed hundreds of organizations. To capture the breadth of the immigrant experience, Brown selected organizations operating in traditional centers of immigration as well as new gateways for immigrants across the South, Florida, Illinois, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, and North Carolina. The stories that emerge from his research include incredible successes in mobilizing immigrant communities, including organizations that registered sixty thousand new immigrant voters in New York. They also reveal efforts to suppress nonprofit voter mobilization in Florida and describe the organizational response to hate crimes directed at immigrants in Illinois.
