A File of a Life Christina McKinney, 2018-11-11 Jill navigates her way through life creating her own stories to explain unspoken tragedies and difficult situations that no one will give her explanations for She lives in her own world trapped inside a story that cuts her off not only from everyone else but also from the wall that separates her feelings and thoughts from herself Her Mother's life is interwoven with Jill's at times when they did not know each other yet overlapped briefly until tragedy separated them Jill finds something that changes everything a suitcase in the rafters of her Grandmother's garage covered in layers of dust In it she finds the answers to everything sitting there all along Suddenly the gap that was missing all those years is filled in and Jill doesn't know if it's too late All the lies the stories that her childhood was based on to help her make sense and that provided the foundation for her life are uprooted and dried to dust She feels like a chunk of her life has been handed back to her It all makes sense What no one would tell her before suddenly she knows more about than anyone else Selected Water Resources Abstracts ,1989 Selected Water Resources Abstracts ,1989

Magnesium Carbonate, a Recycled Coagulant for Water Treatment Gainesville (Fla.). Department of Public Utilities, A. P. Black, C. G. Thompson, 1971 Laboratory investigations into the use of magnesium carbonate instead of alum for coagulation have demonstrated that the magnesium carbonate system produces a treated water with superior characteristics compared to water treated with alum Both turbidity and organic color removals were comparable for both processes and the flocs formed by the magnesium carbonate process were larger and heavier than alum flocs with better settling characteristics The process involves the use of the magnesium carbonate as a coagulant and lime is added to precipitate gelatinous $Mg(OH)_2$ The sludge composed of a slurry of $Mg(OH)_2$, $CaCO_3$ and clay is carbonated and the $Mg(OH)_2$ selectively and completely dissolved Recycle after filtering allows re use of both the magnesium carbonate and the sludge water $CaCO_3$ can also be recovered easily in large plants or landfilled at small ones Chemical treatment costs for most waters can be substantially reduced using this system while the quality of treated water will be superior to the quality of alum treated water
