Religion In Essence:

Religion in Essence and Manifestation Gerardus Van der Leeuw, 2014-07-14 In this book van der Leeuw discusses the horizontal path to God and the vertical paths descending from God and ascending to Him If God Himself appears it is in a totally different manner which results not in intelligible utterance but in proclamation and it is with this that theology has to deal Originally published in 1986 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Religion in Essence and Manifestation G. van der Leeuw, 1933 Religion in Essence and Manifestation Gerardus Leeuw, 1967 The Essence of Christianity Ludwig Feuerbach, 2023-04-23 Reprint of the original first published in 1855 The publishing house Anatiposi publishes historical books as reprints Due to their age these books may have missing pages or inferior quality Our aim is to preserve these books and make them available to the public so that they do not get lost Religion in Essence and Manifestation; 2 G Van Der (Gerardus) 1890-1950 Leeuw, 2021-09-09 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public To ensure a quality reading experience this work has been proofread and republished using a format that seamlessly blends the original graphical elements with text in an easy to read typeface We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant The Essence of Religion Borden Parker Bowne, 1910 Religion in Essence & Manifestation Gerardus vander Leeuw, 1938 The Essence of Christianity Ludwig Feuerbach, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1881 edition Excerpt CHAPTER XXVI THE CONTRADICTION OF FAITH AND LOVE The Sacraments are a sensible presentation of that contradiction of idealism and materialism of subjectivism and objectivism which belongs to the inmost nature of religion But the sacraments are nothing without Faith and Love Hence the contradiction in the sacraments carries us back to the primary contradiction of Faith and Love The essence of religion its latent nature is the identify of the divine being with the human but the form of religion or its apparent conscious nature is the distinction between them God is the human being but he presents himself to the religious consciousness as a distinct being Now that which reveals the basis the hidden essence of religion is Love that which constitutes its conscious form is Faith

Love identifies man with God and God with man consequently it identifies man with man faith separates God from man consequently it separates man from man for God is nothing else than the idea of the species invested with a mystical form the separation of God from man is therefore the separation of man from man the unloosening of the social bond By faith religion places itself in contradiction with morality with reason with the unsophisticated sense of truth in man by love it opposes itself again to this contradiction Faith isolates God it makes him a particular distinct being love universalises it makes God a common being the love of whom is one with the love of man Faith produces in man an inward disunion a disunion with himself and by consequence an outward disunion also but love heals the wounds which are made by faith in the heart of man Faith makes belief in its God a law love is freedom it condemns not even the Religion Defined and Explained P. Clarke,P. Byrne,Scotney Evans,1993-03-12 This book examines a selection of major types of theory explaining religion religious philosophical sociological socio economic and psychological It treats of the presuppositions behind such theories and the grounds of their necessity and validity It looks at major styles in the definition of religion It argues that the case for making religion the subject of large scale theorising has not been made and contends that the explanation of religion proceeds better by concentrating on the specifics of religious history and the interconnections between religious ideas

Van Der Leeuw,1967 Why Philosophy Matters for the Study of Religion—and Vice Versa Thomas A. Lewis,2015-12-18 Work in philosophy of religion is still strongly marked by an excessive focus on Christianity and to a lesser extent Judaism almost to the exclusion of other religious traditions Moreover in many cases it has been confined to a narrow set of intellectual problems without embedding these in their larger social historical and practical contexts Why Philosophy Matters for the Study of Religion and Vice Versa addresses this situation through a series of interventions intended to work against the gap that exists between much scholarship in philosophy of religion and important recent developments that speak to religious studies as a whole This volume takes up what in recent years has often been seen as a fundamental reason for excluding religious ethics and philosophy of religion from religious studies their explicit normativity Against this presupposition Thomas A Lewis argues that normativity is pervasive not unique to ethics and philosophy of religion and therefore not a reason to exclude them from religious studies Lewis bridges more philosophical and historical subfields by arguing for the importance of history to the philosophy of religion He considers the future of religious ethics explaining that the field as whole should learn from the methodological developments associated with recent work in comparative religious ethics and comparative religious ethics should no longer be conceived as a distinct subfield The concluding chapter engages broader post 9 11 arguments about the importance of studying religion arguing that prominent contemporary notions of religious literacy actually hinder our ability to grasp religion s significance and impact in the world today

Islamic Modernism and the Re-Enchantment of the Sacred in the Age of History Monica M. Ringer, 2020-09-04 This book studies the complex relationship of religion to modernity and argues that modernity should be understood as the consequence not the cause of the new intellectual landscape of the 19th century Shows how the adoption of historicism in the 19th century engendered Islamic modernism as a theological reform movement

Elements of the Science of Religion ... Cornelis Petrus Tiele, 1899 Christian Faith as Religion Paul E. Capetz, 2011-05-26 Christian Faith as Religion investigates the theologies of John Calvin and Friedrich Schleiermacher with respect to the questions What is Religion and What is Christian Religion The author argues that the classical and liberal exemplars of Protestant theology are best compared when these two questions are thoroughly examined and calls into question the contention of neo orthodox theologians Karl Barth and Emil Brunner that Schleiermacher s theological use of the category religion signifies a departure from the tradition of the Reformation He offers a revised comparative framework that discloses the material and formal similarities between Calvin and Schleiermacher with respect to their employment of the categories religion and revelation and allows the historical theologian to delineate the trajectory that accounts for both continuity and discontinuity in the transition from classical to modern Protestant theology This allows the systematic hermeneutical question of a contemporary Protestant theology informed by the historical and philosophical study of religion to be taken up anew
