Religions East And West:

A History of Religion East and West Trevor Ling, 1969-01-15 The religious traditions of Asia and Europe the East and West of the title are sometimes regarded as being in sharp contrast with each other the one mystical the other prophetic Whenever their religions are not so contrasted they are usually treated in isolation from each other the religion of Israel Zoroastrianism Judaism Christianity Hinduism Jainism and Buddhism Dr Ling however stresses that there is considerable overlap and interpenetration between the two types and areas and that it is important to see the historical inter relation between these religions and to observe how during given periods of history there are parallel developments or significant divergences He covers the period 1500 B C to the present time providing an outline of the development of Asian and European religious traditions and institutions and discussing the social and economic factors involved in the development of religious traditions although he shows that such factors alone do not account for the religious life of man Dr Ling goes on to interpret the contemporary significance of these religions and their potential for the future life of humanity He suggests that the present stage of religious advance is characterised by open endedness towards the future not all religions exhibit this character but none has yet exhausted the possibilities of development This book is intended for use as an introduction to the study of religion Although reference is made in the text to sources of further information the book can be used without reference to them

Literature, Religion, and East/West Comparison Anthony C. Yu, 2005 This book pays critical homage to the eminent comparatist of Chinese and Western literature and religion Anthony C Yu of The University of Chicago Broadly comparative cross cultural and interdisciplinary in scope the volume consists of an introductory essay on Yu's scholarly career and thirteen additional essays on topics such as literary texts and traditions of varying provenance and periods ranging from ancient Greece medieval Europe and nineteenth and twentieth century England and America to China from the classical to modern periods The disciplines and areas of research that the essays draw into constructive engagement with one another include comparative literature religion and literature history of religions or comparative religion religion and social thought and the study of myth Eric Ziolkowski is Professor and Head of the Department of Religious Studies at Lafayette College

Rudolf Otto and the Foundation of the History of Religions Yoshitsugu Sawai, 2022-02-10 This book provides an up to date treatment of Rudolf Otto and his work placing him in the context of comparative religion theology and the philosophy of religion Yoshitsugu Sawai shows how Otto has three faces the Lutheran Theologian the Philosopher of Religion and the Comparative Religionist The book also shows how of these Otto saw himself primarily as a Lutheran Theologian and provides an account of Otto's engagement with India and the centrality that Hindu theology had on his thinking. In Otto's theory of religion, his well-known concepts including wholly other and numinous constitute a multiple structure of meaning. For example, his concept of the wholly other (das ganz Andere) no doubt has the meaning of God in his Christian theological studies. At the same time, however, from the perspective of comparative religion or the phenomenology of religion, this same term semantically implies the ultimate reality of other religious traditions: Brahman and God Isvara in Hindu religious tradition as well as God in Christianity.

Eastspirit: Transnational Spirituality and Religious Circulation in East and West Jørn Borup, Marianne Qvortrup Fibiger, 2017-08-28. Mindfulness, yoga, Tantra, Zen, martial arts, karma, feng shui, Ayurveda. Eastern ideas and practices associated with Asian religions and spirituality have been accommodated to a global setting as both a spiritual/religious and a broader cultural phenomenon. Eastern spirituality is present in organized religions, the spiritual New Age market, arts, literature, media, therapy, and health care, but also in public institutions such as schools and prisons.

Eastspirit: Transnational Spirituality and Religious Circulation in East and West describes and analyses such concepts, practices, and traditions in their new Western and global contexts as well as in their transformed expressions and reappropriations in religious traditions and individualized spiritualities back in the East within the framework of mutual interaction and circulation regionally and globally.

Asian and Feminist Philosophies in Dialogue Jennifer McWeeny, Ashby Butnor, 2014-04-22. In this collection of original essays, international scholars put Asian traditions such as Hinduism, Buddhism, Daoism, and Confucianism into conversation with one or more contemporary feminist philosophies, founding a new mode of inquiry that attends to diverse voices and the complex global relationships that define our world. These cross-cultural meditations focus on the liberation of persons from suffering, oppression, illusion, harmful conventions, and desires, and other impediments to full personhood by deploying a methodology that traverses multiple philosophical styles, historical texts, and frames of reference. Hailing from the discipline of philosophy, in addition to Asian gender and religious studies, the contributors offer a fresh take on the classic concerns of free will, consciousness, knowledge, objectivity, sexual difference, embodiment, selfhood, the state, morality, and hermeneutics. One of the first anthologies to embody the practice of feminist comparative philosophy, this collection creatively and effectively engages with global cultural and gender differences within the realms of scholarly inquiry and theory construction.

The Gaze of the West and Framings of the East S. Nair-Venugopal, 2012-05-09. This volume explores Western attitudes towards the phenomenon of Easternization, drawing upon Eastern perspectives and examining the impact upon contemporary culture to argue that Easternization is another type of globalization.

Imagining Tibet Thierry Dodin, Heinz Rether, 2001. In the past century, the Western view of Tibet has evolved from an exotic Shangri-la filled with golden idols and the promise of immortality to a peaceful land with an enlightened society now ravaged by outside aggression. How and why did our perception change? How accurate are our modern conceptions of Tibet? Imagining Tibet is a collection of essays that reveal these Western conceptions. Providing an historical background to the West's ever changing relationship with Tibet Donald Lopez Jeffrey Hopkins Jamyang Norbu and other noted scholars explore a variety of topics from Western perceptions of Tibetan approaches to violence monastic life and life as a nation in exile to representations of Tibet in Western literature art environmentalism and the New Age movement

Religion and the Western Mind Ninian Smart, 1987-01-01 Ninian Smart believes that the modern study of religion should occur in the context of a radical reappraisal of our educational system This is a worldview analysis of religion appropriate to today's global city It attacks narrowness whether found in Western philosophy or Christian theology and argues for a disestablishmentarian stance Religion and the Western Mind presents the explosive possibilities of religions of world views that have the power to shape history It offers a theory regarding the need of nations for religious justifications It examines three fundamental backlashes the Moral Majority the Muslim Brotherhood and Gush Emunim It looks at the contrasting Indian and Sri Lankan responses to Western influence and delineates the Indian tradition in a new way And finally it diagnoses the future exploring the ethical inferences of the worldview and supporting a position that runs like a thread through this book

Old Norse Religion in Long-term Perspectives Anders Andrén, 2006-01-01 The study of Old Norse Religion is a truly multidisciplinary and international field of research The rituals myths and narratives of pre Christian Scandinavia are investigated and interpreted by archaeologists historians art historians historians of religion as well as scholars of literature onomastics and Scandinavian studies For obvious reasons these studies belong to the main curricula in Scandinavia but are also carried out at many other universities in Europe the United States and Australia a fact that is evident to any reader of this book In order to bring this broad and varied field of research together an international conference on Old Norse religion was held in Lund in June 2004 About two hundred delegates from more than fifteen countries took part The intention was to gather researchers to encourage and improve scholarly exchange and dialogue and Old Norse religion in long term perspectives presents a selection of the proceedings from that conference The 75 contributions elucidate topics such as worldview and cosmology ritual and religious practice myth and memory as well as the reception and present day use of Old Norse religion The main editors of this volume have directed the multidisciplinary research project Roads to Midgard since 2000 The project is based at Lund University and funded by the Bank of Sweden Tercentenary Foundation
