Remembrance Of Things Past 7vol:

Men and Mothers Hendrika C. Freud, 2018-03-08 Not all men vie with their fathers for the love of their mothers In some families the mother becomes the central figure for her son the father is excluded or excludes himself and does not come between mother and son The main thesis of this book using clinical vignettes and quotes from the work of Marcel Proust to illustrate the author's points is that in these cases fantasies of matricide replace patricide Men develop their male gender identity by being permitted to separate from their mother early on but when a man does not resolve his infantile tie to his mother he risks remaining in a passive and or dependent position towards her Over identification with the mother might ensue hampering masculine development Mothers who seek emotional support by binding their sons too closely can become seductive towards them The child is inclined to try to satisfy the emotional needs of his mother and he fears rejection if he asserts his independence instead of complying

Dysfluencies Chris Eagle, 2013-11-07 Dysfluencies is the first comprehensive study of how speech disorders are portrayed in modern literature Tracing the roots of this interaction between literary practice and speech pathology back to the rise of aphasiology in the 1860s Dysfluencies examines portrayals of disordered speech by writers like Zola Proust

Joyce Melville and Mishima as well as contemporary writers like Philip Roth Gail Jones and Jonathan Lethem Dysfluencies thus speaks directly to the growing interest at present both in popular culture and the Humanities regarding the status of the Self in relation to speech pathology The need for this type of study is clear considering the number of prominent writers whose works foreground disorders of speech Melville Zola Kesey Mishima Roth et al Moreover thinkers like Freud Bergson and Jakobson were similarly concerned with the implications of language breakdown This volume shows this concern began with the rise of neurology and aphasiology which challenged spiritual conceptions of language and replaced them with a view of language as a material process rooted in the brain Dysfluencies traces the history of this interaction between literary practice and speech pathology arguing that works of literature have responded differently to the issue of language breakdown as the dominant views on the issue have shifted from neurological circa 1860s to 1920s to psychological circa 1920s to 1980s and back to neurological during the so called decade of the Brain the 1990s In Looking Back One

Learns to See: Marcel Proust and Photography Mary Bergstein, 2014-03-01 Marcel Proust offered the twentieth century a new psychology of memory and seeing His novel In Search of Lost Time was written in the modern age of photography and art history In Looking Back One Learns to See Marcel Proust and Photography is an intellectual adventure that brings to light Proust's visual imagination his visual metaphors and his photographic resources and imaginings The book features over 90 illustrations Mary Bergstein highlights various kinds of photography daguerreotypes stereoscopic cards cartes de visite postcards book illustrations and other photographic mediums Portraiture medical photography spirit photography architectural photography Orientalism ethnographic photography and fin de siècle studies of Botticelli Leonardo and Vermeer are considered in terms of Proust's life and work The net is cast wide and each image under discussion has been researched with subtle attention to art literature and cultural history This scholarly study in literature and visual culture will be a delight too for general readers who love photography or Proust Mary Bergstein is professor of History of Art and Visual Culture at the Rhode Island School of Design She won the 2012 Courage to Dream book prize from the American Psychoanalytic Association for Mirrors of Memory Freud Photography and the History of Art Cornell 2010 She has published numerous books and articles on art and visual culture from Italian Renaissance sculpture to contemporary photography Thinking on Thresholds Subha Mukherji, 2011 Through a combination of case studies and theoretical investigations the essays in this book address the imaginative power of the threshold as a productive space in literature and art The Ideal Reader Jacques Riviere, 2017-07-05 Jacques Riviere knew how to accept art emotionally No French critic was ever less a traditional pedagogue Riviere was an intelligent French writer who knew that the summit of the intellect is to admit affective knowledge instinct and intuition The heart or taste is always superior to raw intelligence Riviere's supple metaphors are not easily rendered into English The density of his thought the complexity of his views the moral and spiritual fervor that vibrates in these pages further enhances the difficulties the skilled translator must overcome Literary criticism is often ephemeral it has served its purpose if it stimulates discussion about the work of art under scrutiny Not so with essays like these They demand an active reading as do the original works themselves They do not easily yield their significance Among the critics who came into the French literary scene in the years immediately preceding and following the First World War Jacques Riviere has been least affected by the attrition of time His studies of Proust and Rimbaud still rank among the two or three essential works to be read on these authors Few other critics have gone further in a sensuous perception of these authors work and the intellectual lucidity in analyzing it Riviere had few pretensions to profundity and a great purity of style In an age of slogans and judgments this volume reminds the reader of the extraordinary role of European critical thought in the twentieth century

Psychoanalysis After Freud Judy Gammelgaard, 2021-07-29 This book draws on a number of Freud's lesser known works to explore psychoanalytic perspectives on memory mourning and repetition It is remarkable that Freud in his speculations on the human psyche often took his point of departure in an insignificant detail It might be a lapse of memory or a detail in a piece of art From here he uncovered the many layers of the psyche its complex structure and the processing of meaning right to the limit of understanding At this point Freud's exploration encountered the unknown an internal outland as difficult to acknowledge as the external reality Freud did not invent the unconscious but he demonstrated how it works The unconscious according to Freud does not exist but insists on making itself visible The eleven essays in this book draw a picture of the critical humanistic thinking so characteristic of Freud His concepts and suppositions were the result of many years speculations based on observation experience and ideas and although they are marked by the time and culture from which they emerged they demonstrate a revolutionary knowledge of the psyche transcending the knowledge of his time In her reading of the chosen texts the author has chosen the position of a contemporary interpretation Examining how psychoanalytic work on the topics of memory mourning and repetition has changed since Freud and how these themes remain of crucial importance in contemporary psychoanalytic theory this book intersperses theory with clinical practice It will be of great interest to training and practicing psychoanalysts as well as scholars of art literature and sociology

The Literary Mind Mark Turner, 1998-12-17 We usually consider literary thinking to be peripheral and dispensable an activity for specialists poets prophets lunatics and babysitters Certainly we do not think it is the basis of the mind We think of stories and parables from Aesop's Fables or The Thousand and One Nights for example as exotic tales set in strange lands with spectacular images talking animals and fantastic plots wonderful entertainments often insightful but well removed from logic and science and entirely foreign to the world of everyday thought But Mark Turner argues that this common wisdom is wrong The literary mind the mind of stories and parables is not peripheral but basic to thought Story is the central principle of our experience and knowledge Parable the projection of story to give meaning to new encounters is the indispensable tool of everyday reason Literary thought makes everyday thought possible This book makes the revolutionary claim that the basic issue for cognitive science is the nature of literary thinking In The Literary Mind Turner ranges from the tools of modern linguistics to the recent work of neuroscientists such as Antonio Damasio and Gerald Edelman to literary masterpieces by Homer Dante Shakespeare and Proust as he explains how story and projection and their powerful combination in parable are fundamental to everyday thought In simple and traditional English he reveals how we use parable to understand space and time to grasp what it means to be located in space and time and to conceive of ourselves other selves other lives and other viewpoints He explains the role of parable in reasoning in categorizing and in solving problems He develops a powerful model of conceptual construction and in a far reaching final chapter extends it to a new conception of the origin of language that contradicts proposals by such thinkers as Noam Chomsky and Steven Pinker Turner argues that story projection and parable precede grammar that language follows from these mental capacities as a consequence Language he concludes is the child of the literary mind Offering major revisions to our understanding of thought conceptual activity and the origin and nature of language The Literary Mind presents a unified theory of central problems in cognitive science linguistics neuroscience psychology and philosophy It gives new and unexpected answers to classic questions about knowledge creativity understanding reason and invention Beautiful Shadow Andrew Wilson,2008-12-07 The life of Patricia Highsmith was as secretive and unusual as that of many of the best known characters who people her peerlessly disturbing thrillers and short stories Yet even as her work has found new popularity in the last few years the life of this famously elusive writer has remained a mystery For Beautiful Shadow the first biography of Highsmith British journalist Andrew Wilson mined the vast archive of diaries notebooks and letters she left behind astonishing in their candor and detail He interviewed her closest friends and colleagues as well as some of her many lovers But Wilson also traces Highsmith's literary roots in the work of Poe noir and existentialism locating the influences that helped distinguish Highsmith's writing so startlingly from more ordinary thrillers The result is both a serious critical biography and one that reveals much about a brilliant and contradictory woman one who despite her acclaim and affairs always maintained her solitude The Persistence of Memory Philip Kuberski,2023-11-15 While memory is one of the most fascinating faculties of consciousness it is also one of the most mysterious Is it memory our own marvelous personal computer or data base that brings us the intense feelings prompted by a certain object or situation Drawing on an expansive array of sources from microbiology to cosmology Ovid to Proust Egyptology to the cinema Philip Kuberski leads us on a brave and beguiling exploration of memory He enables us to see it as a worldly process in which individuals both remember and are remembered all in a network of associations that join our bodies personal and cultural myths and aesthetic and literary experiences His essays will provide a tantalizing and thoughtful read for those interested in literature psychology biology anthropology and philosophy This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1992 The Doctor in Literature Solomon Posen,2005 Posen a retired physician and a former English major has indexed 1500 passages from approximately 600 novels short stories and plays describing physicians He also analyzes several persistent themes in literature such as doctors fees lack of time bedside manner and social status Posen's extensive research has uncovered a resentment of doctors and a discontent with the medical profession that transcends time and place Annotation 2004 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews.com The Genealogy of Values Edward Andrew,1995 Until the time of Karl Marx and John Stuart Mill philosophers generally held economics to be an integral element of moral philosophy. These days the language of values, moral, aesthetic and cognitive dominates philosophic discourse even though contemporary philosophers rarely hold economics to be integral to moral philosophy. Examining the thought of Friedrich Nietzsche and the art of Marcel Proust, Edward Andrew provides the first sustained critical analysis of values discourse, an analysis that deconstructs its content and its form.

Celebrating Shakespeare Clara Calvo, Coppélia Kahn, 2015-11-19. On the 400th anniversary of Shakespeare's death, this collection opens up the social practices of commemoration to new research and analysis. An international team of leading scholars explores a broad spectrum of celebrations showing how key events such as the Easter Rising in Ireland, the Second Vatican Council of 1964 and the Great Exhibition of 1851 drew on Shakespeare to express political agendas. In the USA, commemoration in 1864 counted on him to symbolise unity transcending the Civil War, while the First World War pulled the 1916 anniversary celebration into the war effort, enlisting Shakespeare as patriotic poet. The essays also consider how the dream of Shakespeare as a rural poet took shape in gardens, how cartoons challenged the poet's elite status and how statues of him mutated into advertisements for gin and Disney cartoons. Richly varied illustrations supplement these case studies of the diverse, complex and contradictory aims of memorialising Shakespeare.

The UAB Marcel Proust Symposium William C. Carter, 1989.

The Strange M. Proust Andre Benhaim, 2017-07-05. The strange M. Proust, the narrator, the author and the embodiment of A la Recherche du Temps perdu is now so canonical a writer that his very strangeness is easily overlooked. His book made of other books, his epic composed of extraordinary miniatures, his orderly structure where every law is subverted, his chronology where time can be undone and his geography where places can superimpose in these and many other ways, Proust continues to astonish even readers who have engaged with him for their entire careers. In this book arising from the Princeton symposium of 2006, major critics come together to offer provocative readings of a work which is at the same time classical and unusual, French and foreign, familiar and strange. The book is dedicated to the memory of Malcolm Bowie, 1943-2007, whose keynote address was one of his last major lectures. Other contributors include David Ellison, Anne Simon, Eugene Nicole, Joseph Brami, Raymonde Coudert, Christie McDonald, Michael Wood and Antoine Compagnon.
