Remembered With Pride The Recollections Of An Australian Golddigger:

Remembered with Pride Mark John Hammond, 1988 The Uses of Literacy in Colonial Australia Martyn Lyons, 2025-10-14 What did Australians read This book answers this question in terms of books rather than newspapers and considers the long nineteenth century interpreted as running from 1788 to 1901 In the wake of this primary question several others arise how did Australians acquire the books they read and how did readers in the outback overcome the handicaps of distance and remoteness Did they read for pleasure instruction self edification or spiritual sustenance More importantly how did Australian readers respond to the books they read The evidence is drawn from autobiographical sources in which individual readers related their personal reading experiences and responses At the same time the book pursues a second and related question What did Australians write Reference is made here not to the kind of writing we know as literature but to the non literary writing which cultural historians call ordinary writings These are the writings of everyday life represented in this book by diaries journals hand written newspapers and correspondence The focus is wide enough to include the everyday cultural practices of people of low social status and little education The writing practices of the partially literate including writing delegated to a third party have their place here In this double investigation the book draws on evidence from a cohort of 101 nineteenth century readers and writers They are a heterogeneous group of autobiographers coming from Melbourne and Sydney to rural Queensland and Western Australia They come from the city and the bush from coastal towns and the interior from sheep stations gold diggings and city offices They show us the perennial importance of Shakespeare and the Bible the popularity of the English canon the prestige of poetry and the importance of religious reading Books held the Empire together but as they travelled their meanings changed according to the local cultural environment This book registers such nuances in the Australian context The writing of this group is represented by some prolific diarists and correspondents In the late nineteenth century the eastern colonies became world leaders in sending letters The postal environment which made this possible is also examined Hill End Alan Mayne, 2016-10-18 The history of the Australian gold rushes is full of exaggeration the First This the Richest That the Largest Something Else Hill End unravels the myths surrounding the gold rushes in order to reveal the hidden histories of the Wiradjuri people of the graziers and convicts who occupied the Wiradjuri lands of the multicultural gold boom community and of the subsistence community that endured for generations after the boom had passed Hill End is perched high on the New South Wales Central Tablelands some 300 kilometres north west of Sydney The Hill End Historic Site which was proclaimed in 1967 is one of first cultural heritage sites to be reserved in Australia This is a book that digs past Hill End s gold rush facade into the lives of the people who lived through its history Australian Autobiographical Narratives: 1850-1900 Kay Walsh, Joy W. Hooton, 1993 Australian Autobiographical Narratives Volume 2 and its partner Volume 1 provide researchers with detailed annotations of published Australian autobiographical writing Both volumes are a rich resource of the European settlement of Australia Theis selection concentrates on the post gold rush period providing portraits of 533 individuals from amateur explorers to politicians from pioneer settlers to sportsmen Like Volume 1 it offers an intimate and absorbing insight into nineteenth century Australia

Spinning Tops & Gumdrops Edwin Barnard, 2018-03-01 Spinning Tops and Gumdrops takes us back to childhood in colonial Australia The delight of children at play is universal but the pleasure these children experience as depicted through the book's photographs is through their imagination skill and daring rather than through possessions Children play quoits and jacks hide and seek cricket with a kerosene tin for a wicket dress ups and charades They climb trees run races and build rafts to sail on the local waterhole The photographs show children happily absorbed in the play of their own making Being a child in colonial Australia was also tough It was a time when school yard disagreements were sorted out with fists and the loss of a little claret A time when children could view public hangings and premature death was frequent especially taking the very young and vulnerable though dysentery whooping cough or diphtheria The lasting impression left by the contemporary accounts photographs etchings and paintings of colonial children in Spinning Tops and Gumdrops is their possession of qualities of resilience self sufficiency and acceptance of their lot Perhaps it was through lack of choice or of knowing no other Nevertheless these were qualities that put them in good stead for the challenges many faced in their adulthood Interestingly these are qualities on which contemporary society still places a high value but which today seem a little more elusive Australian National Bibliography, 1988 Labour History, 1987 Australian Books in Print 1994 Thorpe, D. W., Staff, 1994-04 This unique reference provides detailed bibliographic information on over 60 000 in print books published in or about Australia or written by Australian authors There are also details on the more than 3 000 publishers distributors whose titles are represented as well as information on all trade associations literary awards more A Bushranging Bibliography, 1992 Work Related Abstracts, 1988 Bookbuyers' Reference Book, 1993
