Futures of the Contemporary Paulo de Assis, Michael Schwab, 2019-07-15 Transdisciplinary approaches to the notions of the contemporary and contemporaneity Futures of the Contemporary explores different notions and manifestations of the contemporary in music visual arts art theory and philosophy In particular the authors in this collection of essays scrutinise the role of artistic research in critical and creative expressions of contemporaneity When distinguished from the contemporaneous of a given historical time the contemporary becomes a crucial concept promoting or excluding objects and practices according to their ability to diagnose previously unnoticed aspects of the present In this sense the contemporary gains a critical function involving particular modes of relating to history and one's own time. Written by major experts from fields such as music performance, composition, art theory, visual arts, art history, critical studies, and philosophy, this book offers challenging perspectives on contemporary art practices, the temporality of artistic works and phenomena, and new modes of problematising the production of art and its public apprehension. Contributors: Andrew Prior, University of Plymouth; Babette Babich, Fordham University; Geoff Cox, Fine Art at Plymouth University; Aarhus University; Heiner Goebbels, Justus Liebig University; Jacob Lund, Aarhus University; Michael Schwab, Orpheus Institute; Pal Capdevila, Autonomous University of Barcelona; Paulo de Assis, Orpheus Institute; Peter Osborne, Kingston University London; Ryan Nolan, University of Plymouth; Zsuzsa Baross, Trent University.

Flash Art, 2002. This is Not a Remix, Margie Borschke, 2017-08-10. Widespread distribution of recorded music via digital networks affects more than just business models and marketing strategies; it also alters the way we understand recordings, scenes, and histories of popular music culture. This Is Not a Remix uncovers the analog roots of digital practices and brings the long history of copies and piracy into contact with contemporary controversies about the reproduction, use, and circulation of recordings on the internet. Borschke examines the innovations that have sprung from the use of recording formats in grassroots music scenes, from the vinyl tape and acetate that early disco DJs used to create remixes to the mp3 blogs and vinyl revivalists of the 21st century. This is Not A Remix challenges claims that remix culture is a substantially new set of innovations and highlights the continuities and contradictions of the Internet era. Through an historical focus on copy as a property and practice, This Is Not a Remix focuses on questions about the materiality of media, its use, and the aesthetic dimensions of reproduction and circulation in digital networks. Through a close look at sometimes illicit forms of composition, including remixes, edits, mashup, bootlegs, and playlists, Borschke ponders how and why ideals of authenticity persist in networked cultures where copies and copying are ubiquitous and seemingly at odds with romantic constructions of authorship. By teasing out unspoken assumptions about media and culture, this book offers fresh perspectives on the cultural politics of intellectual property in the digital era and poses questions about the promises, possibilities, and challenges of network visibility and mobility.

The Philosophy and Art of Wang Guangyi
Tiziana Andina, Erica Onnis, 2019-06-13. Wang Guangyi, one of the stars of the new wave of Chinese art, has artistically addressed major philosophical trends in Western philosophy while drawing on Taoism, Marxism, and Maoism. By bringing together a team of experts in the philosophy of art to discuss his work, The Philosophy and Art of Wang Guangyi presents the first philosophical exploration of Wang's art, his thought, and his analysis of Chinese society. From his use of words in images to his reference to the classics of Western painting, contributors set Wang's work against key questions in contemporary art. As well as answering what makes the language of pop art successful, they examine whether art and its history have come to an end, as Hegel posited, and if it is possible or even necessary to rework a new narrative for the history of contemporary art. The Philosophy and Art of Wang Guangyi marks an important contribution to understanding the background work and ideas of a 21st century political artist outside the West      Remixing European Jazz Culture Kristin McGee, 2019-12-09 Remixing European Jazz Culture examines a jazz culture that emerged in the 1990s in cosmopolitan cities like Amsterdam Rotterdam Berlin London and Oslo energised by the introduction of studio technologies into the live performance space which has since developed into internationally recognised eclectic hybrid jazz styles This book explores these oft overlooked musicians and their forms that have nonetheless expanded the plane of jazz s continued prosperity popularity and revitalisation in the twenty first century one where remix is no longer the sole domain of studio producers Seeking to update the orthodoxies of the field of jazz studies Remixing European Jazz Culture incorporates electronic and digital performance recording and distribution practices that have transformed the culture since the 1980s provides a more diverse and multifaceted cultural representation of European jazz and the contributions of a variety of performers and offers an encompassing picture of the depth of jazz practice that has erupted through Northern Europe since 1989 With an expansion of international networks and a disintegration of artistic boundaries the collaborative performative and real time improvisational process of remixing has stimulated a merging of the music s past and present within European jazz culture      Afrosonic Life Mark V. Campbell, 2022-02-24 Afrosonic Life explores the role sonic innovations in the African diaspora play in articulating methodologies for living the afterlife of slavery Developing and extending debates on Afrosonic cultures the book attends to the ways in which the acts of technological subversion experimentation and production complement and interrupt the intellectual project of modernity Music making processes such as dub turntablism hip hop dj techniques and the remix innovate methods of expressing subjecthoods beyond the dominant language of Western Man and the market These sonic innovations utilize sound as a methodology to institute a rehumanizing subjectivity in which sound dislodges the hierarchical ordering of racial schemas Afrosonic Life is invested in excavating and elaborating the nuanced and novel ways of music making and sound creation found in the African diaspora      Digitisation Gertraud Koch, 2017-07-14 In recent years digital technologies have become pervasive in academic and everyday life This comprehensive volume covers a wide range of concepts for studying the new cultural dynamics that are evident as a result of digitisation It considers how the cultural changes triggered by digitisation processes can be approached empirically The chapters include carefully chosen examples and help readers from disciplines such as Anthropology Sociology Media Studies and Science Technology Studies to grasp digitisation theoretically as well as methodologically      Remediating Sound Holly Rogers, Joana Freitas, João Francisco Porfírio, 2023-09-07 Remediating Sound studies the phenomena of remixing mashup and recomposition forms of reuse and sampling that have come to characterise much of YouTube s audiovisual content Through collaborative composition collage and cover songs to reaction videos and political activism users from diverse backgrounds have embraced the democratised space of YouTube to open up new and innovative forms of sonic creativity and push the boundaries of audiovisual possibilities Observing the reciprocal flow of influence that runs between various online platforms 12 chapters position YouTube as a central hub for the exploration of digital sound music and the moving image With special focus on aspects of networked creativity that remain overlooked in contemporary scholarship including library music memetic media artificial intelligence the sonic arts and music fandom this volume offers interdisciplinary insight into contemporary audiovisual culture The Fontane Workshop Petra S. McGillen, 2019-07-25 Winner of the Aldo and Jeanne Scaglione Prize for Studies in Germanic Languages and Literatures Awarded by the MLA With an innovative approach that combines material media history media theory and literary poetics this book reconstructs the great German writer Theodor Fontane's creative process Petra McGillen follows Fontane into the engine room of his text production Analyzing a wealth of unexplored archival evidence which includes a collection of the author's 67 extant notebooks along with an array of other paper tools such as cardboard boxes envelopes and slips McGillen demonstrates how Fontane compiled his realist prose works That is he assembled them from premediated sources literally with scissors and glue in an extraordinarily inorganic and radically intertextual manner that turned writing into a process of ongoing remix By exploring the far reaching implications of Fontane's creative practices for our understanding of his authorship originality and poetics this book opens up a completely new way to think about his works and by extension 19th century literary realism This conceptualization of authors notebooks as creative tools makes a substantial contribution to scholarship on the history of writing media in several disciplines from German studies and literary studies to media history and to our understanding of the relationship between mass media and literary creativity in the late 19th century The Digital Plenitude Jay David Bolter, 2019-05-07 How the creative abundance of today's media culture was made possible by the decline of elitism in the arts and the rise of digital media Media culture today encompasses a universe of forms websites video games blogs books films television and radio programs magazines and more and a multitude of practices that include making remixing sharing and critiquing This multiplicity is so vast that it cannot be comprehended as a whole In this book Jay David Bolter traces the roots of our media multiverse to two developments in the second half of the twentieth century the decline of elite art and the rise of digital media Bolter explains that we no longer have a collective belief in Culture with a capital C The hierarchies that ranked for example classical music as more important than pop literary novels as more worthy than comic books and television and movies as unserious have broken down The art formerly known as high takes its place in the media plenitude The elite culture of the twentieth century has left its mark on our current media landscape in the form of what Bolter calls popular modernism Meanwhile new forms of digital media have emerged and magnified these changes offering new platforms for communication and expression Bolter outlines a series of dichotomies that characterize our current media culture catharsis and flow the continuous rhythm of digital experience remix fueled by the internet's vast resources for sampling and mixing and originality history not replayable and simulation endlessly replayable and social media and coherent politics The Unhomely Okwui Enwezor, Centro Andaluz de Arte Contemporáneo (Seville, Spain), 2006 Published in conjunction with the Second International Biennial of Contemporary Art of Seville Biacs 2

Reclaiming Critical Remix Video Owen Gallagher, 2017-11-08 Remix is now considered by many to be a form of derivative work but such generalizations have resulted in numerous non commercial remixes being wrongfully accused of copyright infringement Gallagher argues however that remix is a fundamentally transformative practice The assumption that cultural works should be considered a form of private property is called into question in the digital age thus he proposes an alternative system to balance the economic interests of cultural producers with the ability of the public to engage with a growing intellectual commons of cultural works Multimodal analyses of both remixed and non remixed intertextual work with a particular focus on examples of critical remix video fuel the discussion synthesizing a number of investigative methods including semiotic rhetorical and ideological analysis
