Frances (Angell) Drake, 1927 Preaching Eugenics Christine Rosen, 2004-03-04 With our success in mapping the human genome the possibility of altering our genetic futures has given rise to difficult ethical questions Although opponents of genetic manipulation frequently raise the specter of eugenics our contemporary debates about bioethics often take place in a historical vacuum In fact American religious leaders raised similarly challenging ethical questions in the first half of the twentieth century Preaching Eugenics tells how Protestant Catholic and Jewish leaders confronted and in many cases enthusiastically embraced eugenics a movement that embodied progressive attitudes about modern science at the time Christine Rosen argues that religious leaders pursued eugenics precisely when they moved away from traditional religious tenets The liberals and modernists those who challenged their churches to embrace modernity became the eugenics movement's most enthusiastic supporters Their participation played an important part in the success of the American eugenics movement In the early twentieth century leaders of churches and synagogues were forced to defend their faiths on many fronts They faced new challenges from scientists and intellectuals they struggled to adapt to the dramatic social changes wrought by immigration and urbanization and they were often internally divided by doctrinal controversies among modernists liberals and fundamentalists Rosen draws on previously unexplored archival material from the records of the American Eugenics Society religious and scientific books and periodicals of the day and the personal papers of religious leaders such as Rev John Haynes Holmes Rev Harry Emerson Fosdick Rev John M Cooper Rev John A Ryan and biologists Charles Davenport and Ellsworth Huntington to produce an intellectual history of these figures that is both lively and illuminating The story of how religious leaders confronted one of the era's newest sciences eugenics sheds important new light on a time much like our own when religion and science are engaged in critical and sometimes bitter dialogue *The conceiving quickly The top ten worries for each trimester with a hefty dose of reassurance A glossary of pregnancy and birth related terms A sneak peek of life after baby This book is the manual for those looking for real world advice to help them during all the stages of pregnancy from conception to birth and all that can occur throughout Everybody Belongs Arthur Shapiro, 2003-09-01 The evil prosthesis of Captain Hook the comical speech of Porky Pig and the bumbling antics of Mr Magoo are all examples of images in our culture which can become the basis of negative attitudes and subliminal prejudice towards persons with disabilities These attitudes influence and underlie discriminatory acts resulting in negative treatment and segregation A teacher s ability to recognize and counter such images may well determine the success of inclusion and mainstreaming programs in our schools and society Well researched and well written this book offers practical guidance as grounded in solid research to schools that are wrestling with how to mainstream children with disabilities
