Manhattan Projects Samuel Zipp, 2010-05-24 Moving beyond the usual good versus evil story that pits master planner Robert Moses against the plucky neighborhood advocate Jane Jacobs Samuel Zipp sheds new light on the rise and fall of New York's urban renewal in the decades after World War II Focusing on four iconic Manhattan projects the United Nations building Stuyvesant Town Lincoln Center and the great swaths of public housing in East Harlem Zipp unearths a host of forgotten stories and characters that flesh out the conventional history of urban renewal He shows how boosters hoped to make Manhattan the capital of modernity and a symbol of American power but even as the builders executed their plans a chorus of critics revealed the dark side of those Cold War visions attacking urban renewal for perpetuating deindustrialization racial segregation and class division for uprooting thousands and for implanting a new alienating cityscape Cold War era urban renewal was not merely a failed planning ideal Zipp concludes but also a crucial phase in the transformation of New York into both a world city and one mired in urban crisis Tales of Two Cities:

Branches Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, 1982 Political Problems and Personalities in Contemporary Maryland Theodore F. Sheckels, Carl T. Hyden, 2022-11-08 Political Problems and Personalities in Contemporary Maryland provides a comprehensive rhetorical analysis of contemporary politics and political communication in Maryland at both the state and local levels Theodore F. Sheckels and Carl Hyden approach rhetoric in a broader sense arguing that actions by political players including decisions on housing policy urban redevelopment policy and transportation policy are not in a separate category from their messages In many cases they argue actions are messages often with important material consequences Rather than focusing solely on previous or upcoming elections as political communication has traditionally been examined

Sheckels and Hyden give considerable space to non election topics responding to current shifts in political communication scholarship and encouraging others to examine political communication at the local and state levels elsewhere in the United States Scholars of communication political science rhetoric and history will find this book of particular interest Living Opposite to the Hospital of St John: Excavations in Medieval Northampton 2014 Jim Brown, 2021-06-10 This volume presents the results of archaeological investigations undertaken at a building site in Northampton in 2014 The location was of interest as it lay opposite the former medieval hospital of St John which influenced the development of this area of the town
