and beyond The contributors provide new insight on the timing of interregional interactions technologies of bead production and patterns of trade and exchange using glass beads as a window to the past This volume will be a key reference for glass researchers archaeologists and any scholars interested in material culture and exchange it provides a wide range of case studies in the investigation and interpretation of glass bead composition production and exchange since ancient times

The Oxford Handbook of Maritime Archaeology Alexis Catsambis,Ben Ford,Donny L. Hamilton,2011-04-01 The Oxford Handbook of Maritime Archaeology is a comprehensive survey of the field as seen through the eyes of nearly fifty scholars at a time when maritime archaeology has established itself as a mature branch of archaeology This volume draws on many of the distinct and universal aspects of maritime archaeology bringing them together under four main themes the research process ships and shipwrecks maritime and nautical culture and issues of preservation and management The first section of the book deals with the best practices for locating documenting excavating and analyzing submerged sites This methodological foundation is followed by a sample of shipwreck studies from around the world as scholars trace the regional development of ships and seafaring Chosen to balance the traditional core regions of maritime archaeology with important but lesser studied areas it aims at offering an international account of the study of submerged sites Reflecting the growing number of scholars who study past maritime cultures but not shipwrecks the third section of the book addresses various aspects of the maritime landscape and ethnography above and below the water The final chapters then approach maritime archaeology in a broader context moving beyond archaeological sites to discuss the archaeological record in general within legal preservation and management frameworks Taken together these individual and original articles provide a valuable resource that summarizes the current state of the field of maritime archaeology and offers insight into the future of this established and growing discipline

Fieldwork in Humanities Education in Singapore Teddy Y.H. Sim,Hwee Hwang Sim,2021-02-20 This book addresses the topic of humanities education fieldwork using the Singapore context as its primary focus It explores how the thought processes behind and techniques of various humanities and social sciences subjects can be applied to fieldwork in a variety of school and training settings In addition it discusses how humanities students and educators could stand to benefit from utilizing fieldwork techniques and skills used in archaeology and anthropology beyond undergraduates majoring in that discipline Finally the adoption of multidisciplinary approaches in fieldwork incorporating history geography literature and social studies demonstrate how these subjects can collaborate together in actual case studies to facilitate participants learning in the field

A View from the Highlands Mai Lin Tjoa-Bonatz,2019-11-07 This book analyses the rise of the settlement system in the heartland of the Minangkabau region in the highlands of West Sumatra Indonesia It explores the regional settlement pattern arising from Adityavarman s highland interregnum c 1347 75 and provides the first attempt to place the archaeological remains and the landscape of Tanah Datar a fertile plain in the highlands of West Sumatra in a cultural historic synthesis The core of this research consisted of excavations at Bukit Gombak and Bukit Kincir Bukit Gombak was a central place in Adityavarman's kingdom and provides evidence of the organization and material development of this political entity. Surveys uncovered other settlements that could be examined in relation to each other and to sites from earlier and later periods and used to sketch out the settlement history of Tanah Datar from prehistoric times to the colonial period. The book consists of detailed studies of metal ceramics and glass finds by laboratory-based specialists as well as careful descriptions of stone, clay and other finds.

Archaeology of East Asian Shipbuilding

Jun Kimura, 2016-04-12 North American Society for Oceanic History John Lyman Book Award in Naval and Maritime Reference Works and Published Primary Sources Honorable Mention. In this innovative study Jun Kimura integrates historical data with archaeological findings to examine a wide array of eleventh through nineteenth century ships from China, Korea and Japan. Chinese junks and Japanese sailing ships were known throughout the world and this work illustrates why their innovative designs have survived the centuries. Kimura presents an extensive dataset of excavated coastal and oceangoing ships that traveled the Yellow Sea, the East China Sea and the South China Sea. Three detailed case studies include the Shinan and Quanzhou wrecks and the Takashima underwater site. Using travel documents, cargo manifests, iconographic paintings and other descriptive resources as well as the archaeological evidence of hull components, wooden timbers and iron remains, Kimura sheds new light on East Asian shipbuilding traditions.

Bujangga Manik Alexander Joseph

West, 2025-05-26 Bujangga Manik is a narrative poem in Old Sundanese which opens a window onto the world of late 15th century maritime Southeast Asia. The poem describes the spiritual development of a young man from Pakacilan in what is now West Java as he walks and sails across and around Java and Bali, culminating with his death in a mountainside hermitage and ascension to heaven. This volume is an exemplary edition of Bujangga Manik complete with a revised transliteration, a new English translation, detailed descriptions of the manuscript script and language, and an extensive commentary on the poem's contents from its setting and characters to its descriptions of ocean-going ships, houses, furniture, perfumes and much else.

Transformative Jars Anna Grasskamp, Anne Gerritsen, 2022-12-01 The term jar refers to any man-made shape with the capacity to enclose something. Few objects are as universal and multi-functional as a jar regardless of whether they contain food or drink, matter or a void, life-giving medicine or the ashes of the deceased. As ubiquitous as they may seem, such containers, storage vessels and urns are, as this book demonstrates, highly significant cultural and historical artefacts that mediate between content and environment, exterior worlds and interior enclosures, local and global, this worldly and otherworldly realms. The contributors to this volume understand jars not only as household utensils or evidence of human civilizations but also as artefacts in their own right. Asian jars are culturally and aesthetically defined, crafted goods and as objects charged with spiritual meanings and ritual significance. Transformative Jars situates Asian jars in a global context and focuses on relationships between the filling, emptying and re-filling of jars with a variety of contents and meanings through time and throughout space. Transformative Jars brings together an interdisciplinary team of scholars with backgrounds in curating art history and anthropology to offer perspectives that go beyond archaeological approaches with detailed analyses of a broad range of objects By looking at jars as things in the hands of makers users and collectors this book presents these objects as agents of change in cultures of craftsmanship and consumption Early Navigation in the Asia-Pacific Region Chunming Wu,2016-09-06 This book presents the proceedings of the international academic workshop on Early Navigation in the Asia Pacific Region A Maritime Archaeological Perspective held from June 21 23 2013 at Harvard University campus and organized by Harvard Yenching Institute It includes high quality papers focusing on the historical shipwrecks investigated by underwater archaeologists from Eastern Asian including southern China Vietnam Thailand the Philippines Indonesia and Malaysia and North America including California Oregon and Washington in the US as well as Mexico These investigations reveal the history of the early pan Pacific navigation and maritime globalization from the 16th to the 18th century covering the background and formation concept and practice as well as the results and influence of this early globalization and global economy emphasizing the maritime archaeological evidence of Spanish exploration of transportation between East Asia and North America The book provides an excellent opportunity for maritime archaeologists from both sides of the Pacific to share the latest findings and new developments in maritime archaeological exploration It discusses 16 18th century nautical trade and maritime cultural history and provides a comprehensive overview of research work in the Asia Pacific region

Prehistoric Maritime Cultures and Seafaring in East Asia Chunming Wu,Barry Vladimir Rolett,2019-12-03 This book focuses on prehistoric East Asian maritime cultures that pre dated the Maritime Silk Road the Four Seas and Four Oceans navigation system recorded in historical documents of ancient China Origins of the Maritime Silk Road can be traced to prosperous Neolithic and Metal Age maritime oriented cultures dispersed along the coastlines of prehistoric China and Southeast Asia The topics explored here include Neolithisation and the development of prehistoric maritime cultures during the Neolithic and early Metal Age the expansion and interaction of these cultures along coastlines and across straits the two layer hypothesis for explaining genetic and cultural diversity in south China and Southeast Asia prehistoric seafaring and early sea routes the paleogeography and vegetation history of coastal regions Neolithic maritime livelihoods based on hunting fishing foraging adaptations rice and millet cultivation and their dispersal along the coast and across the open sea and interaction between farmers and maritime oriented hunter fisher foragers In addition a series of case studies enhances understanding of the development of prehistoric navigation and the origin of the Maritime Silk Road in the Asia Pacific region Imagining Asia(s) Andrea Acri,Kashshaf Ghani,Murari K Jha,Sraman Mukherjee,2019-10-23 As a continent lying to the east of Europe Asia has been malleable to different spatial and temporal imaginations and politics Recent scholarship has highlighted how the seemingly self contained regional configurations of West and Central Asia South and Southeast Asia and East Asia carved by the Area Studies paradigm reflect changing geo political and economic interests than historical or cultural roots This volume advances the question as to what Asia is and as to whether there existed one or many Asia s It seeks to explore Asian societies as interconnected formations through trajectories networks of circulation of people ideas and objects in the longue dur e Moving beyond the divides of Area Studies scholarship and the arbitrary borders set by late colonial empires and the rise of post colonial nation states this volume maps critically the configuration of contact zones in which mobile bodies minds and cultures interact to foster new images identities and imaginations of Asia
