Magic Cave Bonnie Ward,2021-01-19 Magic Cave is magical only certain people will be allowed in but many gather there from around the world If your tongue is English then while you are there you hear English spoken by all If you speak Swahili all present will appear to be speaking Swahili Each expression the cave changes from modern to western fire chat to African hut Each of the individuals in the cave have different stories to tell all universal to a spiritual approach to life and how each has issues to consider on a very personal level It is hoped that those reading it will come away with a sense of peace and right with the world before going back into their normal life filled with apparent chaos on the physical levels each of us have developed for themselves No judgement but understanding and compassion 2 yan xi,2024-11-19 Lin Yu

Caruana, Mark Cauchi, 2018-05-31 Explores a growing number of films and filmmakers that challenge the strict boundaries between belief and unbelief For some time now thinkers across the humanities and social sciences have increasingly called into question the once dominant view of the relationship between modernity and secularism prompting some to speak of a postsecular turn Until now film studies has largely been silent about this development even though cinema itself has been a major vehicle for such reflection This fact became inescapable in 2011 when Terrence Malick's The Tree of Life and Lars von Trier's Melancholia were released within days of each other While these two audacious and controversial films present seemingly opposite perspectives the former a thoughtful meditation on faith the latter a portrayal of nontriumphalist atheism together they raise critical questions about transcendence and immanence in modern life These films are however only the most conspicuous of a growing body of works that call forth similar and related questions what this collection aptly calls postsecular cinema Taking the nearly simultaneous release of The Tree of Life and Melancholia as its starting point and framing device this pioneering collection sets out to establish the idea of postsecular cinema as a distinct body of films and a viable critical category Adopting a film philosophy approach one group of essays examines Malick's and von Trier's films while another looks at works by Chantal Akerman Denys Arcand the Dardenne brothers and John Michael McDonagh among others The volume closes with two important interviews with Luc Dardenne and Jean-Luc Nancy that invite us to reflect more deeply on some of the central concerns of postsecular cinema LOST in Media Benjamin Beil, Lorenz Engell, Jens

Schröter, Herbert Schwaab, Daniela Wentz, 2018-02-21 The television series LOST initiated a wide ranging academic debate which centered on its narrative and temporal complexity while also addressing the massive expansion into other media and consequently crossing established genre categories This expansion poses the essential question about the status of the original medium television within recent multiple media configurations Can LOST be regarded as a symptom of television in the process of media change What is the relation between LOST's temporality and that of television in general And how can LOST be understood as a phenomenon of mediatized worlds The contributions in this book examine these questions The book's editors are members of the project TV Series as Reflection and Projection of Change which is part of the DFG Priority Program 1505 Mediatized Worlds Series Medien welten Braunschweiger Schriften zur Medienkultur Vol 19
