Black Skin, White Coats Matthew M. Heaton, 2013-10-15 Black Skin White Coats is a history of psychiatry in Nigeria from the 1950s to the 1980s Working in the contexts of decolonization and anticolonial nationalism Nigerian psychiatrists sought to replace racist colonial psychiatric theories about the psychological inferiority of Africans with a universal and egalitarian model focusing on broad psychological similarities across cultural and racial boundaries Particular emphasis is placed on Dr T Adeoye Lambo the first indigenous Nigerian to earn a specialty degree in psychiatry in the United Kingdom in 1954 Lambo returned to Nigeria to become the medical superintendent of the newly founded Aro Mental Hospital in Abeokuta Nigeria's first modern mental hospital At Aro Lambo began to revolutionize psychiatric research and clinical practice in Nigeria working to integrate modern western medical theory and technologies with traditional cultural understandings of mental illness Lambo's research focused on deracializing psychiatric thinking and redefining mental illness in terms of a model of universal human similarities that crossed racial and cultural divides Black Skin White Coats is the first work to focus primarily on black Africans as producers of psychiatric knowledge and as definers of mental illness in their own right By examining the ways that Nigerian psychiatrists worked to integrate their psychiatric training with their indigenous backgrounds and cultural and civic nationalisms Black Skin White Coats provides a foil to Frantz Fanon's widely publicized reactionary articulations of the relationship between colonialism and psychiatry Black Skin White Coats is also on the cutting edge of histories of psychiatry that are increasingly drawing connections between local and national developments in late colonial and postcolonial settings and international scientific networks Heaton argues that Nigerian psychiatrists were intimately aware of the need to engage in international discourses as part and parcel of the transformation of psychiatry at home

Religion and Mental Health, 1980     The Dark World of Pakistani Black Magic Insar

Haq,2024-11-01 A fascinating and often surprising journey into the belief and practice of magic in Pakistan exploring the country's myths, legends and folklore. The supernatural and the religious intertwine to produce a unique cultural landscape where the holy and the superstitious combine inextricably and practitioners of both white and black magic gain legitimacy and status from the incorporation of Quranic elements in their rituals from faith healing and protection to harmful sorcery. Far from an arcane relic of times long past, the practice of magic is ubiquitous in Pakistan today and amongst its diaspora across the globe, constantly changing and adapting to new environments and influences. Neither is the popularity of magic limited to the impoverished or illiterate; belief is widespread regardless of status and education, with a resurgence in interest from younger people perhaps disillusioned with modern society and organised religion and seeking a return to a more natural way of life. The risks of exploitation and abuse from unprincipled charlatans are commonplace, especially since they are promoted by the media and unregulated by law, but genuine religiously legitimate practitioners also exist and their help is sought by millions, suggesting a deep-seated human need for connection to the supernatural.
