supernatural Representing Magic in Modern Ireland Andrew Sneddon, 2022-05-19 This Element argues that Ireland did not experience a disenchanted modernity nor a decline in magic It suggests that beliefs practices and traditions concerning witchcraft and magic developed and adapted to modernity to retain cultural currency until the end of the twentieth century This analysis provides the backdrop for the first systematic exploration of how historic Irish trials of witches and cunning folk were represented by historians antiquarians journalists dramatists poets and novelists in Ireland between the late eighteenth and late twentieth century It is demonstrated that this work created an accepted narrative of Irish witchcraft and magic which glossed over ignored or obscured the depth of belief in witchcraft both in the past and in contemporary society Collectively their work gendered Irish witchcraft created a myth of a disenchanted modern Ireland and reinforced competing views of Irishness and Irish identity These long held stereotypes were only challenged in the late twentieth century The Black Arts (50th Anniversary Edition) Richard Cavendish, 1968-01-17 The Classic Study of the Occult Reintroduced in a 50th Anniversary Edition The Black Arts is a fascinating and wonderfully readable exploration of the practice theory and underlying rationale of magick and occultism in all its branches including witchcraft spells numerology astrology alchemy kabbalah tarot charms and summoning and control of spirits This edition features a 50th anniversary introduction by historian of alternative spirituality Mitch Horowitz who frames the book for a new generation of readers

Magick in Theory and Practice The Master Therion, EXISTENCE as we know it is full of sorrow To mention only one minor point every man is a condemned criminal only he does not know the date of his execution This is unpleasant for every man Consequently every man does everything possible to postpone the date and would sacrifice anything that he has if he could reverse the sentence Practically all religions and all philosophies have started thus crudely by promising their adherents some such reward as immortality No religion has failed hitherto by not promising enough the present breaking up of all religions is due to the fact that people have asked to see the securities Men have even renounced the important material advantages which a well organized religion may confer upon a State rather than acquiesce in fraud or falsehood or even in any system which if not proved guilty is at least unable to demonstrate its innocence Being more or less bankrupt the best thing that we can do is to attack the problem afresh without preconceived ideas Let us begin by doubting every statement Let us find a way of subjecting every statement to the test of experiment Is there any truth at all in the claims of various religions Let us examine the question Our original difficulty will be due to the enormous wealth of our material To enter into a critical examination of all systems would be an unending task the cloud of witnesses is too great Now each religion is equally positive and each demands faith This we refuse in the absence of positive proof But we may usefully inquire whether there is not any one thing upon which all religions have agreed for if so it seems possible that it may be worthy of really thorough consideration It is certainly not to be found in dogma Even so simple an idea as that of a supreme and eternal being is denied by a third of the human race Legends of miracle are perhaps universal but these in the absence of demonstrative proof are repugnant to common sense But what of the origin of religions How is it that unproved assertion has so frequently compelled the assent of all classes of mankind Is not this a miracle There is however one form of miracle which certainly happens the influence of the genius There is no known analogy in Nature One cannot even think of a super dog transforming the world of dogs whereas in the history of mankind this happens with regularity and frequency Now here are three super men all at loggerheads What is there in common between Christ Buddha and Mohammed
