Magnificent Voyage Of Emily Carr:

The Magnificent Voyage of Emily Carr Jovette Marchessault, 1992 Marchessault evokes the doubts the trials and the joys of this singular existence Cast of 3 women and 1 man This Woman in Particular Stephanie Kirkwood

Walker, 2010-01-27 What happens when an individual becomes the subject of many and divergent portraits Biography says Stephanie Kirkwood Walker is a deceptive genre Positioned between fact and fiction and elusive in its purposes biography displays an individual life an existence patterned by conventions that have also shaped the reader's experience In This Woman in Particular Walker explores versions of Emily Carr's life that have appeared over the last half century Walker contends that the biographical image of Emily Carr that emerges from an accumulation of biographies films plays and poetry as well as her own autobiographical writing establishes an elaborated cultural artefact an image that is bound by its very nature to remain forever incomplete and always elusive She demonstrates how changes in Carr's biographical image parallel the maturing of Canadian biographical writing reflecting attitudes toward women artists and the shifting balance between religion secular attitudes and contemporary spirituality And she concludes that biography plays a crucial role in all our lives in initiating and sustaining debate on vital personal and collective concerns West of Darkness John Barton, 1999-09-16

Here is a portrait of Emily Carr a fine literary work that is impressionistic rather than exact betraying the artist intact in spirit fortitude and legacy Performing Autobiography Jennifer Stephenson, 2013-06-17 In Performing Autobiography Jenn Stephenson presents an innovative new approach to autobiography studies that links the growing field of research to drama Stephenson's analysis engages with performance histories to demonstrate the extent to which the dramatic form which recasts autobiography as ambiguously fictive ensures that the experience of the plays remains open to revision alteration and interpretation As such Performing Autobiography understands this form not to be the impossible documentation of the backward looking narrative of one's life but rather an evolving process of self creation and transformation Stephenson explores the autobiographical form by analysing seven works by Canadian playwrights written and performed between 1999 and 2009 including Judith Thompson's Perfect Pie Daniel MacIvor's In On It and Timothy Findley's Shadows Her analysis encourages us to see autobiography as a uniquely political act one that where enacted on stage illustrates the variety of ways that self reflection and interpretation has an expanding role in contemporary culture Dramatic Licence Louise

Ladouceur, 2012-05 Navigating through two languages and cultures Ladouceur studies translation strategies in the world of theatre Writing Between the Lines Agnes Whitfield, 2006 The essays in Writing between the Lines explore the lives of twelve of Canada's most eminent anglophone literary translators and delve into how these individuals have contributed to the valuable process of literary exchange between francophone and anglophone literatures in Canada Containing original detailed biographical and bibliographical material Writing between the Lines offers many new insights into the literary translation process and the diverse roles of the translator as social agent The first text on Canadian anglophone translators it
