Comparative Ethics in Hindu and Buddhist Traditions Roderick Hindery, 1978 The exploratory volume in the new field of comparative ethics serves the diverse goals of groups variously interested in International law and morality in comparative religious ethical ideals or simply in cross cultural literature and drama The author draws moral ideals from primary Hindu sources popular and formal literary and spiritual

The same method is applied for Buddhist moral texts. Introducing method in comparative ethics with a synopsis of Hindu mystical tradition, the author discusses in detail ethics in the Rgveda, Upanishads, Laws of Manu, Ramayana, Gita, other popular classics, poetry, drama, philosophers and reformers. After summarizing pluralism in Hindu ethics, the author sketches ethical thought in Mahayana Buddhist texts. The book contains elaborate notes, two appendices, critical textual matter, a diagram of topical parallels, a bibliography and an index.

In the Valley of the Kauravas William S. Sax, 2024-01-02. The isolated valleys of Rawain in the Western Himalaya are ruled by local gods who control the weather, provide justice and regularly travel through their territories to mark their borders and to ward off incursions by rival gods. These identified with Karna and Duryodhana from the great Indian epic Mahabharata are regarded as divine kings whom local persons serve as priests, ministers, patrons, soldiers and servants. Each divine king has an oracle who is regularly summoned, enters into a trance and speaks with the god's voice, appointing and dismissing officers, confiscating property, levying fines and ratifying the decisions of councils of elders. The gods hear civil and sometimes criminal cases and through their oracles enforce their judgments through fines and penalties or by compelling disputants to reach a compromise. In the Valley of the Kauravas seeks to describe how this system functions by closely examining the myths, legends, rituals and folklore associated with it and above all by providing a detailed ethnographic description of its day to day workings. It contextualizes this system by comparing it with divine kingship throughout history in both South and Southeast Asia and seeks to embed this historical and ethnographic analysis in a theoretical discussion of the nature, goals and limits of anthropological knowledge of multiple worlds. The chapters of the book are organized in terms of the seven limbs of the classical Indian kingdom as described by the political philosopher Kautilya: king, land and people, minister, army, treasury, ally and enemy.

Mapping Histories Ravinder Kumar, Neera Chandhoke, 2002. Edited by Professor Neera Chandhoke. Mapping Histories is a fitting tribute to renowned historian Ravinder Kumar, well known for his pioneering work on the social consequences of colonial rule in India and for founding the Centre for Contemporary Studies at the Nehru Memorial Museum and Library. Here, Fellows of the centre present a collection of historical and contemporary studies on India which deal with diverse themes from religion to the environment, cultural studies to feminism. Together, these lively and challenging essays offer readings on how we understand India's history and conversely how we can use this comprehension of the past to interpret India's complex present.
