Maisons De Paris Et Propriétaires Parisiens Au Xix Siecle 1809-1880:

Maisons de Paris et propriétaires parisiens au XIXe siècle, 1809-1880 Adeline Daumard, 1965 Housing the Poor of Paris, 1850-1902 Ann-Louise Shapiro, 1985 In the second half of the nineteenth century when Paris became a modern urban center the problem of working class housing emerged as a major issue In this study Ann Louise Shapiro examines the reform activities of philanthropists economist municipal authorities politicians and public hygienists as they together and separately responded to the questions of the worker's foyer Shapiro shows that the housing campaign touched all aspects of the social question providing a rare perspective on the political social and institutional readjustments required by a changing urban environment in nineteenth century France Shapiro's work will prove important reading for students and scholars of French history urban society and government and public health issues The Working People of Paris, 1871-1914 Lenard Berlanstein, 2019-08-01 Originally published in 1984 In The Working People of Paris 1871-1914 Lenard Berlanstein examines how technological advances expanding industrialization bureaucratization and urban growth affected the lives of the working poor and near poor of one of the world's most influential cities during an era of intense social and cultural change Berlanstein departs from other historians of the working classes in treating in a parallel manner not only craftsmen and factory laborers but also service workers and lower level white collar employees Avoiding the fallacy of letting the city limits set the boundaries of an urban study he deals also with the industrial suburbs with their considerable concentration of workers to examine the transformation of the work leisure and consumer experiences of the people who did not own property and who lived from one payday to the next during the Second Industrial Revolution The Working People of Paris describes a cycle of adaptation and resistance to the forces of economic maturation For several decades after 1871 Berlanstein argues working people and employees preserved accommodations with management about reciprocal rights in the workplace By the beginning of the twentieth century however these forms of adaptation had broken down under new economic pressures The result was a crisis of discipline in the workplace as wage earners and modest clerks began to challenge managerial authority Berlanstein's study confronts the widely accepted view that during this period workers became better integrated into a society of improving standards of living and mass leisure Instead he documents uneven patterns of material progress and growing conflict over work roles among all sorts of laboring people La Bourgeoisie parisienne de 1815 à 1848 Adeline Daumard, 2014-04-01 Dans les années soixante l'histoire sociale tant alors en plein essor Adeline Daumard publiait cet ouvrage aujourd'hui on dit que Pierre L'œuvrè a qualifié l'œuvre de pionnière travers données quantitatives et statistiques minutées de notaires listes lectorales sans négliger mœuvres correspondances pécunies de thèse et romans elle faisait alors apparaître l'émergence d'une véritable civilisation construite par la génération contemporaine de la Révolution et ses héritiers Dans ce premier XIXe siècle Paris la bourgeoisie s'installe et crée un monde d'argent mais surtout un univers fondé sur la foi en l'individu citoyen capable par un bon usage de la raison de maîtriser l'avenir Adeline Daumard

Sharon Marcus, 2023-11-15 In urban studies the nineteenth century is the age of great cities In feminist studies it is the era of the separate domestic sphere But what of the city s homes In the course of answering this question Apartment Stories provides a singular and radically new framework for understanding the urban and the domestic Turning to an element of the cityscape that is thoroughly familiar yet frequently overlooked Sharon Marcus argues that the apartment house embodied the intersections of city and home public and private and masculine and feminine spheres Moving deftly from novels to architectural treatises legal debates and popular urban observation Marcus compares the representation of the apartment house in Paris and London Along the way she excavates the urban ghost tales that encoded Londoners ambivalence about city dwellings contends that Haussmannization enclosed Paris in a new regime of privacy and locates a female counterpart to the fl neur and the omniscient realist narrator the portière who supervised the apartment building In urban studies the nineteenth century is the age of great cities In feminist studies it is the era of the separate domestic sphere But what of the city s homes In the course of answering this question Apartment Stories provides a singular The Artisan and the European Town, 1500-1900

Geoffrey Crossick, 2016-12-05 Artisans played a central role in the European town as it developed from the Middle Ages onwards Their workshops were at the heart of productive activity their guilds were often central to the political and legal order of towns and their culture helped shape civic ritual and the urban order These essays which have all been specially written for this collection explore the relationships between artisans and their towns across Europe between the beginning of the early modern period and the end of the 19th century They pay special attention to the processes of economic juridical and political change that have made the 18th and early 19th centuries a period of such significance Written by leading historians of European artisans the essays question the myths about artisans that have long pervaded research in the field The leading myth was that shared by the artisans themselves the myth of decline and the belief in each generation that artisans in the past had inhabited a better age These essays open up for debate the nature of

Real Estate and Global Urban History Alexia Yates, 2021-08-26 Capitalist private property in land and buildings real estate is the ground of modern cities materially politically and economically It is foundational to their development and core to much theoretical work on the urban environment It is also a central pressing matter of political contestation in contemporary cities Yet it remains largely without a history This Element examines the modern city as a propertied space defining real estate as a technology of dis possession and using it to move across scales of analysis from the local spatiality of particular built spaces to the networks of legal political and economic imperatives that constitute property and operate at national and international levels This combination of territorial embeddedness with more wide ranging institutional relationships charts a route to an urban history that allows the city to speak as a global agent and artefact without dispensing with the role of states and local circumstance
