Europe's Myths of Orient Rana Kabbani, 1986 The Politics of Culture in the Shadow of Capital Lisa Lowe, David Lloyd, 1997-11-17 Global in scope but refusing a familiar totalizing theoretical framework the essays in The Politics of Culture in the Shadow of Capital demonstrate how localized and resistant social practices including anticolonial and feminist struggles peasant revolts labor organizing and various cultural movements challenge contemporary capitalism as a highly differentiated mode of production Reworking Marxist critique these essays on Asia Latin America the Caribbean North America and Europe advance a new understanding of cultural politics within the context of transnational neocolonial capitalism This perspective contributes to an overall critique of traditional approaches to modernity development and linear liberal narratives of culture history and democratic institutions It also frames a set of alternative social practices that allows for connections to be made between feminist politics among immigrant women in Britain women of color in the United States and Muslim women in Iran Egypt Pakistan and Canada the work of subaltern studies in India the Philippines and Mexico and antiracist social movements in North and South America the Caribbean and Europe These connections displace modes of opposition traditionally defined in relation to the modern state and enable a rethinking of political practice in the era of global capitalism Contributors Tani E Barlow Nandi Bhatia Dipesh Chakrabarty Chungmoo Choi Clara Connolly Angela Davis Arturo Escobar Grant Farred Homa Hoodfar Reynaldo C Iletto George Lipsitz David Lloyd Lisa Lowe Martin F Manalansan IV Aihwa Ong Pragna Patel Jos Rabasa Maria Josefina Salda a Portillo Jaqueline Urla Media, Identity and the Public Sphere in Post-Apartheid South Africa Abebe Zegeye, Richard Legé Harris, 2003 The contributors to this collection of essays provide invaluable information on the role of the mass media in the social transformation of South African society and on the political social and cultural importance of the evolving identities of the diverse array of people who make up the population of this important country The interrelationships between the mass media and the evolving identities of the country's diverse population are the focus of most of the essays and provide the connecting theme throughout the collection BOOK JACKET Canaanite Myths and Legends John C. Crafting Turkish National Identity, 1919-1927 Aysel Morin, 2021-12-30 Examining Mustafa Kemal Atatürk's Byk Nutuk The Great Public Address this book identifies the five founding political myths of Turkey the First Duty the Internal Enemy the Encirclement the Ancestor and Modernity Offering a comprehensive rhetorical analysis of Nutuk in its entirety the book reveals how Atatürk crafted these myths traces their discursive roots back to the Orkhon Inscriptions epic tales and ancient stories of Turkish culture and critiques their long term effects on Turkish political culture In so doing it advances the argument that these myths have become permanent fixtures of Turkish political discourse since the establishment of Turkey and have been used by both supporters and detractors of Atatürk Providing examples of how past and present leaders including Recep Tayyip Erdoğan a vocal critic of Atatürk have deployed these myths in their discourses the book offers an entirely new way to read and understand Turkish political culture and contributes to the heated debate on Kemalism by responding to the need to go back to the original sources his own speeches and statements to understand him Contributing to emerging discourse based approaches this book is ideal for scholars and students of Turkish Studies History Nationalism Studies Political Science Rhetorical Studies and International Studies The Open Court, 1901 Imperial Fictions Rana Kabbani, 1994 Rana Kabbani unravels Western fantasies and myths about the East which were woven over the ages Devised during the Crusades to combat Islam then confirmed by centuries of Western writers and artists these myths fostered racial and sexual stereotypes that became vital to imperial designs In Orientalist travelogues and paintings the British and the French conceived of an erotic and sinister East one that they believed to be morally inferior and dangerous and therefore ripe for colonisation Such perceptions remain very much apparent today fuelling the tension between East and West Imperial Fictions now a classic is an erudite analysis of Europe's fabricated Orient as expressed in its writings and illustrated in its paintings Arabs in the Mirror Nissim Rejwan, 2009-02-17 What is an Arab Though many in the West would answer that question with simplistic stereotypes the reality is far more complex and interesting Arabs themselves have been debating Arab identity since pre Islamic times coming to a variety of conclusions about the nature and extent of their Arabness Likewise Westerners and others have attempted to analyze Arab identity reaching mostly negative conclusions about Arab culture and capacity for self government To bring new perspectives to the question of Arab identity Iraqi born scholar Nissim Rejwan has assembled this fascinating collection of writings by Arab and Western intellectuals who try to define what it means to be Arab He begins with pre Islamic times and continues to the last decades of the twentieth century quoting thinkers ranging from Ibn Khaldun to modern writers such as al Ansari Haykal Ahmad Amin al Azm and Said Through their works Rejwan shows how Arabs have grappled with such significant issues as the influence of Islam the rise of nationalism the quest for democracy women's status the younger generation Egypt's place in the Arab world Israel's role in Middle Eastern conflict and the West's cultural invasion By letting Arabs speak for themselves Arabs in the Mirror refutes a prominent Western stereotype that Arabs are incapable of self reflection or self government On the contrary it reveals a rich tradition of self criticism and self knowledge in the Arab world The East and the West Sidney Lewis Gulick,1963

Mobility and Displacement Orhon Myadar,2020-09-29 This book explores and contests both outsiders projections of Mongolia and the self objectifying tropes Mongolians routinely deploy to represent their own country as a land of nomads It speaks to the experiences of many societies and cultures that are routinely treated as exotic romantic primitive or otherwise different and Other in Euro American imaginaries and how these imaginaries are also internally produced by those societies themselves The assumption that Mongolia is a nomadic nation is largely predicated upon Mongolia s environmental and climatic conditions which are understood to make Mongolia suitable for little else than pastoral nomadism But to the contrary the majority of Mongolians have been settled in and around cities and small population centers Even Mongolians who are herders have long been unable to move freely in a smooth space as dictated by the needs of their herds and as they would as free roaming nomads Instead they have been subjected to various constraints across time that have significantly limited their movement The book weaves threads from disparate branches of Mongolian studies to expose various visible and invisible constraints on population mobility in Mongolia from the Qing period to the post socialist era With its in depth analysis of the complexities of the relationship between land rights mobility displacement and the state the book makes a valuable contribution to the fields of cultural geography political geography heritage and culture studies as well as Eurasian and Inner Asian Studies Winner of the Julian Minghi Distinguished Book Award AAG 2022 Approaches to Teaching the Works of Assia Djebar Anne Donadey,2017-06-01 Offers pedagogical techniques for teaching the works of Assia Djebar in the college classroom including considerations of biography violence translation race gender postcolonial feminism French and francophone studies Islamic historiography film and poststructuralist theory Includes information on editions reference works and translations Gives syllabus suggestions for undergraduate and graduate courses Women, Gender, Religion E. Castelli,R. Rodman,2001-01-01 This up to date and forward looking collection of essays on gender and religion fills a crucial gap Interdisciplinary and multi traditional this volume highlights the contributions that different disciplinary approaches make to feminist gender studies and religion Designed for the classroom the Reader simultaneously assesses the state of the field and raises questions for further inquiry and investigation Thinking Through Myths Kevin Schilbrack,2003-09-02 Embracing a radical balance between myths illusory and functional status these eight outstanding essays from leading academics deconstruct problems of rationality imagination and narrative to trace the influence of myth in our own beliefs A Jungian and Psychoanalytic Approach to Biblical Myth and Religion Lionel Corbett,2024-12-23 This book describes some of the major psychological processes that underpin various biblical stories and some of the theological speculation to which they have given rise Psychological biblical criticism as described here is suggested as an alternative or supplement to historical cultural textual philological literary and other types of biblical criticism Using a combination of Jungian and psychoanalytic theory Corbett shows how some biblical material arises from human psychodynamics while some originates in the archetypal level of the psyche and is further elaborated as it passes through the human level of the psyche The author addresses some of the traditional anxieties about psychological approaches to biblical stories He views Jung's approach as an evolving mythology of the sacred that offers an alternative to purely theological approaches to the Bible and to the traditions that emerged from it This book will be of value to practicing psychotherapists and analysts particularly those who treat patients with a religious background as well as trainees clergy and graduate students in this area People and Place Lewis Holloway, Phil Hubbard, 2014-01-14 An innovative introduction to Human Geography exploring different ways of studying the relationships between people and place and putting people at the centre of human geography The book covers behavioural humanistic and cultural traditions showing how these can lead to a nuanced understanding of how we relate to our surroundings on a day to day basis The authors also explore how human geography is currently influenced by postmodern ideas stressing difference and diversity While taking the importance of these different approaches seriously as ways of thinking about the role of place in peoples everyday lives the book also tries to encapsulate what has been so vibrant and exciting about human geography over the last couple of decades By using examples to which students can relate such as how they imagine and represent their home the way they avoid certain spaces how they move through retail spaces where they choose to go to university how they use the Internet how they represent other nations and so on the authors show how geography shapes everyday life in a manner that is seemingly mundane yet profoundly important Greek Myths and Mesopotamia Charles Penglase, 2003-10-04 The Mesopotamian influence on Greek mythology in literary works of the epic period is considerable yet it is a largely unexplored field In this book Charles Penglase investigates major Mesopotamian and Greek myths His examination concentrates on journey myths A major breakthrough is achieved in the recognition of the extent of Mesopotamian influence and in the understanding of the colourful myths involved The results are of significant interest especially to scholars and students of ancient Greek and Near Eastern religion and mythology
