specialists What Can be Done in Nursing Homes United States. Congress. Senate. Special Committee on Aging. Subcommittee on Long-Term Care, 1975 Nursing Home Federal Requirements, 8th Edition James E. Allen, 2014-07-09 The book lists all the federal requirements that are evaluated by state surveyors during the annual survey visit to nursing homes and for complaint visits The exhibit section contains forms used by surveyors to gather data during the survey visit Visually the format makes the regulations easy to read If nursing home staff used the book to prepare for a survey they would be well prepared Marcia Flesner PhD RN MHCA University of Missouri Columbia From Doody's Review Nursing homes are now the most highly regulated environments in the United States in the service of maximizing the quality of each resident's life This user friendly guide has been updated to provide all of the requisite information needed by nursing home staff to prepare for a visit from federal surveyors It provides the most current federal guidelines and the procedures used by federal surveyors in certifying facilities for participation in Medicare and Medicaid funding It describes every aspect and service of a nursing home that is subject to inspection and includes the nearly 20% of new requirements established during the past three years with an emphasis on the new Minimum Data Set 3.0 The guide not only presents federal requirements and explanatory guidelines but also explains how to best interpret these guidelines so nursing home staff can be optimally prepared for a survey visit It reflects changes in regulations regarding end of life care nasogastric tube regulations and rights to establish advance directives The guide also provides information straight from CMS's Internet Only Manual New Features of Eighth Edition Describes how to best use the updated manual Focuses on Minimum Data Set 3.0 Explains clearly how to interpret the new requirements 20% of which have been updated Presents new quality measures Includes new CMS forms Reflects changes in regulations regarding end of life care nasogastric tube regulations and rights to establish advance directives End of Life in Care Homes Jeanne Samson Katz, Sheila M. Peace, 2003-04-03 In our society the overwhelming majority of people die in later life They typically die slowly of chronic diseases with multiple co existing problems over long periods of time They spend the majority of their final years at home but many will die in hospitals or care homes This book explores the possibilities for improving the care of older people dying in residential care and nursing homes It argues that there are aspects of palliative care that given the right circumstances are transferable to dying people in settings that are not domestic or hospice based End of Life in Care Homes describes what happens in nursing and residential care homes when a resident is dying how carers cope and the practical health and emotional challenges that carers face on top of their day to day work Based on detailed research from both the UK and US the book shows how the situation can be improved Nursing and Nursing Education Division of Health Care Services, 1983-02 Results are presented of a study of nursing and nursing education that focused on the need for continued federal support of nursing education ways to attract nurses to medically underserved areas and approaches to encourage nurses to stay in the profession Findings are presented on whether the aggregate supply of generalist nurses will be sufficient to meet future demand and how changes that could occur in the health care system might affect demand Attention is also directed to how the current and future supply of nurses may be influenced by the costs of nursing education and the sources of education financing and education for generalist positions in nursing In addition the supply and demand situation for nurses educationally prepared for advanced professional positions in nursing is examined The influence of employer policies and practices in utilization of nursing resources on demand and supply is also addressed Finally areas in which further data and studies are needed to better monitor nursing supply and demand are identified In addition to 21 recommendations appendices include information on Nursing Training Act appropriations state reports on nursing issues certificates for specialist registered nurses projections of registered nurse supply and requirements and doctoral programs in nursing SW Mary Regina's Nursing Home -- Academic and Library Edition William Beerman, Sr., 2018-03-07 This book shares insights gained through 5 years of personal experience and research by the author about nursing homes and the government oversight system for nursing homes It is a substantive 380 page journalistic novel hybrid written by a retired former journalist and certified internal auditor William J Beerman Sr The author intends the book to provide important information to the public and especially to those who might have a nursing home for themselves or a loved one in their current or future lives The book is named after William's mother Mary Regina who died after a short stay in a nursing home After Mary Regina's death William filed suit over the mistreatment his mother had suffered and he began looking into how the government oversees nursing homes What he found out was alarming This book presents in an easy to read memoir like framework a three part narrative 1 the human interest background story of Mary Regina and William 2 details of Mary Regina's hospital and nursing home experiences and 3 what William learned about government oversight of nursing homes The book covers state attorneys general lawsuits involving 65 nursing homes and more than 1 million patient days of nursing home care The investigations for the lawsuits elicited reports on nursing home operations from former employees who became confidential witnesses The investigations looked not only at resident treatment but at how the nursing homes interacted with oversight agencies and with their parent corporations Audits by state and federal auditors and the work of a nursing home quality improvement task force are also covered William reports for example Many nursing home administrators knew in advance when state inspectors were coming for unannounced inspections The federal government's ratings for nursing homes do not consider the opinions of the people who live in them State enforcement actions can vary wildly from 171 a year under one governor to two under another in the same state Lawyers sometimes seem to be more successful at holding nursing homes accountable than do the agencies established for that purpose Even when government lawyers allege that it was mathematically impossible for inadequate nursing home staffs to provide the required care lawsuits might be thrown out of court based on legal technicalities Keeping continent residents in diapers can be less expensive in terms of staff hours for nursing homes than it is to escort them to the bathroom In recent years the number of complaints about nursing homes has risen while the number of citations and enforcement actions has gone down Nursing home operators contend that they are victims of excessive regulations and costly unfounded lawsuits and that Medicaid's rates for nursing home care fall about 25 per patient day or collectively about 7 billion per year below the cost of providing proper care Residents are still in jeopardy some of the same conditions are reported decade after decade William grew up in a dysfunctional family as many of us do He had a strained relationship with his mother largely because of a ruthless 13 year scorched earth divorce war that she waged against his father who was a steelworker As Mary Regina grew older she lived in Pittsburgh Pennsylvania and William lived 1 775 miles away in Las Cruces New Mexico When William's sister died young he became his mother's sole surviving offspring And after Mary Regina broke her hip William traveled to Pittsburgh and spent 20 days standing by at her bedside in a skilled nursing home He observed what happened on the day shifts and listened as Mary Regina told him what happened at night William's complaints about the nursing home to the state department of health were not handled satisfactorily so he began researching this book

Improving the Quality of Long-Term Care Institute of Medicine, Division of Health Care Services, Committee on Improving Quality in Long-Term Care, 2001-03-27 Among the issues confronting America is long term care for frail older persons and others with chronic conditions and functional limitations that limit their ability to care for themselves Improving the Quality of Long Term Care takes a comprehensive look at the quality of care and quality of life in long term care including nursing homes home health agencies residential care facilities family members and a variety of others This book describes the current state of long term care identifying problem areas and offering recommendations for federal and state policymakers Who uses long term care How have the characteristics of this population changed over time What paths do people follow in long term care The committee provides the latest information on these and other key questions This book explores strengths and limitations of available data and research literature especially for settings other than nursing homes on methods to measure oversee and improve the quality of long term care The committee makes recommendations on setting and enforcing standards of care strengthening the caregiving workforce reimbursement issues and expanding the knowledge base to guide organizational and individual caregivers in improving the quality of care

Improving Care in the Nursing Home Laurence Z. Rubenstein, Darryl Wieland, 1993-08-27 In recent years the nursing home has emerged as the dominant health related institution in U S health care Yet the knowledge base regarding nursing home patients care and outcomes is underdeveloped compared to that of acute and ambulatory care Improving Care in the Nursing Home provides systematic reviews of the state of clinical and health services research in patient care problem areas pertinent to nursing homes Each chapter defines progress on a specific clinical nursing home problem and provides a critical synthesis and review of research information Topics covered include medication use infection control pressure ulcers falls urinary incontinence and behavior problems This volume also includes sections on managing nurse aides clinical interventions for nutritional problems and clinical research on falls in nursing homes Improving Care in the Nursing Home is essential reading for those in the health professions interested in quality of care in the nursing home The language is clear and approachable without excess medical jargon The chapters are well organized self contained and easily digested reflective of a great deal of effort by both the authors and editors This book is a worthwhile addition to the libraries of academically oriented nursing homes and of researchers in the issues of clinical practice in the long term care setting Journal of the American Geriatrics Society
