Crafting Everyday Food Angela Ki Che Leung, Hallam Stevens, 2025-07-31 Focusing on East Asia from the nineteenth century to the present Crafting Everyday Food highlights the role of technology in transforming traditional foods into modern ones and in reinventing industrialized foods as heritage foods The seven expert researchers adopt a unique technological perspective to trace the transformation of traditional fermented foodstuffs typical of the region kimchi soy sauce k ji and tea and the appropriation of new foods of nonlocal origin such as beef and potato into Asian diets The essays discuss how modern technologies reconstructed traditional or authentic foods showing how global flows of commodities experts and consumers as well as the circulation of knowledge and practices shaped the East Asian foodscape Weaving together science and technology studies with historical studies the volume generates innovative approaches to thinking about technological change everyday life and the foodways of East Asia as a region Understanding how these technological evolutions have transformed food production and consumption provides new insights into the complex processes of industrialization and the roles of taste and heritage in East Asian modernity Each chapter takes up a unique food item with its own complex past and traces gradual and at times dramatic change allowing new relationships to emerge between the creators consumers and their surrounding world Truly multidisciplinary in approach Leung and Stevens bring together scholars and methods from a range of fields into a coherent transnational dialogue resulting in an innovative way to define East Asia without relying on geographic or linguistic boundaries The study of everyday foods consumed by ordinary people on a day to day basis provides a productive perspective for understanding East Asian cultures as sociotechnical systems pushing back the role of elite and special foods as privileged objects in the discipline of food studies The National Culinary Review ,2002 The Southwestern Veterinarian ,1968 Ramparts ,1971 Issues for Dec 1970 Apr 1972 include section Hard times Social Problems Pearson Custom Publishing,Samuel E.
