answered with a Here I am in this book dedicated to the places of the memory of Mediterranean civilisations and their discontents The reference to the work of the same name by Freud 1929 is clear here but what many of the authors and of the essays in it seem to have in common is the attention to the traumatic nature of certain places of the memory theatres of wars such as the wars in the Balkans at the centre of the contribution by N Janigro lines in the diary of a father who miraculously survived genocide that a daughter essayist J Altounian wrenches from oblivion or even non places of a memory in which the witnesses survivors are the many refugees who have fled their homelands As Bohleber writes psychoanalysis began as a theory of trauma In this book the places of the memory are often the rooms of analysis places of re evocation of collective traumas which have not always taken place historically along the shores of the Mediterranean Sea In some cases the victims of collective traumas undergone in the home Mediterranean countries take their dramas of migrants and refugees to analysts in the North of Europe as in the case of Varvin and Papadopoulos In other pieces neither the geographical origin of the analysand nor that of the analyst have apparently any connection with the Mediterranean We are referring to the essay by M Ritter and that of Halberstadt Freud however in them the consulting rooms are places of the memory in which the analyst reflects on the subject of trans generational transmission of collective guilt connected with Nazism and with the Shoah which also affected the history of Mediterranean countries In other contributions in this book the places of the memory are those of the Middle East caught up in the Israeli Palestinian conflict From different points of view three authors Y Gampel J Deutsch and H J Wirth speak to us of places of the memory where the collective traumas have not been assigned once and for all to the work of historians as in the case of the Shoah and of the other genocides of the 20th century as unfortunately they are still on going

Trauma Jeffrey C. Alexander, 2013-04-26 In this book Jeffrey C Alexander develops an original social theory of trauma and uses it to carry out a series of empirical investigations into social suffering around the globe Alexander argues that traumas are not merely psychological but collective experiences and that trauma work plays a key role in defining the origins and outcomes of critical social conflicts He outlines a model of trauma work that relates interests of carrier groups competing narrative identifications of victim and perpetrator utopian and dystopian proposals for trauma resolution the performative power of constructed events and the distribution of organizational resources Alexander explores these processes in richly textured case studies of cultural trauma origins and effects from the universalism of the Holocaust to the particularism of the Israeli right from postcolonial battles over the Partition of India and Pakistan to the invisibility of the Rape of Nanjing in Maoist China In a particularly controversial chapter Alexander describes the idealizing discourse of globalization as a trauma response to the Cold War Contemporary societies have often been described as more concerned with the past than the future more with tragedy than progress In Trauma A Social Theory Alexander explains why
