Psychosocial Oncology And Palliative Care In Hong Kong The First Decade:

Psychosocial Oncology and Palliative Care in Hong Kong Richard Fielding, Cecilia Lai-wan Chan, 1999-11-01 As the evidence base for clinical practice in the management of life threatening diseases and care at the end of life increases it is apparent that psychosocial factors play a most profound role influencing outcomes at every level from quality of life and satisfaction with clinical services through to duration of survival and mortality This book documents some but by no means all of the developments that have occurred in the past decade in the area of psychosocial oncology and palliative care in Hong Kong Contributions describing interventions by practitioners involved in service development in nursing social work and clinical psychology are complemented by chapters describing academic research and theoretical perspectives The unique cultural mix of Hong Kong is given rich emphasis in the adaptations made by practitioners and academics to the interventions and theoretical issues outlined As both a documentation of the efforts of some of those who helped psychosocial oncology and palliative care evolve in Hong Kong and as a reflection of the need to more critically evaluate the impact of intervention efforts in health care this volume provides a valuable resource Nurses social workers psychologists and doctors involved in delivering or planning cancer treatment or palliative care will find this book useful This book challenges many attitudes prevalent in Hong Kong and will we hope begin to break some of the taboos that continue to generate unnecessary suffering among the people cared for by our health care systems The valuable experience documented in these pages can help others build the next generation of services to those with life threatening illness and those at the end of life Cancer, Culture and Communication Rhonda J. Moore, David Spiegel, 2004 This volume creates a multi disciplinary dialogue about clinician patient communication It offers a description of the relevance of culture as a contextual effect that impacts the clinician patient relationship Some topics addressed include oncology care quality of life issues supportive survivorship etc It is for physicians nurses hospice and palliative care professionals and public health professionals Suicidal Behaviour, Bereavement and Death Education in Chinese Adolescents John W.L. Tse, Christopher Bagley, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2002 Why are rates of suicidal behaviour in Chinese adolescents so high What factors in school community family and interpersonal relationships cause this tragedy Using key new research from leading researchers and social workers with first hand knowledge of these problems in Hong Kong this enthralling study examines those most at risk and signposts the most effective interventions in therapy and strategic prevention programmes The result is a highly original and readable account which will be compulsive reading for social workers and academics around the world Hospice Social Work Dona Reese, 2013-02-26 This is the first book to explore the history characteristics and challenges of hospice social work incorporating leading research into an underlying framework for practice and care A longtime hospice social work practitioner Dona J Reese describes the hospice social work role in assessment and intervention with individuals families groups organizations and the community while honestly confronting the personal and professional difficulties of such life changing work She introduces a well tested model of psychosocial and spiritual variables that predict hospice client outcomes and she advances a social work assessment tool that documents their occurrence Operating at the center of national leaders coordinated efforts to develop and advance professional organizations and guidelines for end of life care Reese reaches out with support and practice information helping social workers understand their significance in treating the whole person contributing to the cultural competence of hospice settings and claiming a definitive place within the hospice team
