Representing Women Sex Gender And Legislative Behavior In Arizona And California:

Representing Women Beth Reingold, 2003-07-11 Women in public office are often assumed to make a difference for women as women in other words to represent their female constituents better than do their male counterparts But is sex really an accurate predictor of a legislator's political choices and actions In this book Beth Reingold compares the representational activities and attitudes of male and female members of the Arizona and California state legislatures to illuminate the broader implications of the election and integration of women into public office In the process she challenges many of the assumptions that underlie popular expectations of women and men in politics Using in depth interviews survey responses and legislative records Reingold actually uncovers more similarities between female and male politicians than differences Moreover the stories she presents strongly suggest that rather than assuming that who our representatives are determines what they will do in office we must acknowledge the possibility that the influence of gender on legislative behavior can be weakened distorted or accentuated by powerful forces within the social and political contexts of elective office

How Women Represent Women Tracy L. Osborn, 2012-03-09 How Women Represent Women argues that political parties fundamentally structure the ways in which women legislators represent women's interests Using original election sponsorship and roll call data across the U S state chambers from 1999 2000 Osborn shows how parties shape the policy alternatives women offer
