Rereading The Stone:

Rereading the Stone Anthony C. Yu, 2018-06-05 The eighteenth century Hongloulou known in English as Dream of the Red Chamber or The Story of the Stone is generally considered to be the greatest of Chinese novels one that masterfully blends realism and romance psychological motivation and fate daily life and mythical occurrences as it narrates the decline of a powerful Chinese family In this path breaking study Anthony Yu goes beyond the customary view of Hongloulou as a vivid reflection of late imperial Chinese culture by examining the novel as a story about fictive representation Through a maze of literary devices the novel challenges the authority of history as well as referential biases in reading At the heart of Hongloulou Yu argues is the narration of desire Desire appears in this tale as the defining trait and problem of human beings and at the same time shapes the novel's literary invention and effect According to Yu this focalizing treatment of desire may well be Hongloulou's most distinctive accomplishment Through close readings of selected episodes Yu analyzes principal motifs of the narrative such as dream mirror literature religious enlightenment and rhetorical reflexivity in relation to fictive representation He contextualizes his discussions with a comprehensive genealogy of qing desire disposition sentiment feeling a concept of fundamental importance in historical Chinese culture and shows how the text ingeniously exploits its multiple meanings Spanning a wide range of comparative literary sources Yu creates a new conceptual framework in which to reevaluate this masterpiece

Red-Light Novels of the Late Qing Chloë F. Starr, 2007 Chloe Starr's book offers a comprehensive literary reading of six nineteenth century Chinese red light novels and assesses how and why they alter our view of late Qing fiction and the authorial self

Ming Erotic Novellas Richard G Wang, 2011-03-13 Richard Wang's Ming Erotic Novellas is path breaking in its attention to a virtually ignored body of literature that certainly influenced the writing of the Jin Ping Mei the Sanyan vernacular stories and most likely Li Yu's fiction Compared to other titles in the field this is the first scholarly monograph in any language to contextualize the erotic novellas of late imperial China Moreover existing studies in this area have tended to concentrate on a limited number of works of Chinese erotic fiction or have only brushed up against these works tangentially during more general discussion of Ming and Qing literature Ming Erotic Novellas adopts a provocative approach to fiction moving beyond the traditional textual analyses of gender politics and the qing cult and examining these erotic novellas as a new genre within the contexts of print culture readership consumption patterns as well as religious dimensions Ming Erotic Novellas focuses on a group of mid to late Ming literary wenyan novellas which are all stories of erotic romance These novellas include a profusion of poems mixed with prose narratives that are characterized by simple literary Chinese with a tendency toward the vernacular Their plots are complex with some running 20 000 characters or more allowing for nuanced character development rich dialogue and psychological description Circulated widely during the Ming the novellas had a significant impact on later erotic and scholar-beauty caizi jiaren novels This particular group of novellas was of great importance in the development of Chinese fiction functioning as a transitional link between the classical tale to the vernacular novel By approaching these works through the lens of a cultural study Wang is able to explore the social functions of the novellas as well as their significance in the development of Chinese fiction in the Ming cultural context

The Individual and Utopia Clint Jones, Cameron Ellis, 2016-03-09 Central to the idea of a perfect society is the idea that communities must be strong and bound together with shared ideologies However while this may be true rarely are the individuals that comprise a community given primacy of place as central to a strong communal theory This volume moves away from the dominant current macro level theorising on the subject of identity and its relationship to and with globalising trends focusing instead on the individual s relationship with utopia so as to offer new interpretive approaches for engaging with and examining utopian individuality Interdisciplinary in scope and bringing together work from around the world The Individual and Utopia enquires after the nature of the utopian as citizen demonstrating the inherent value of making the individual central to utopian theorizing and highlighting the methodologies necessary for examining the utopian individual The various approaches employed reveal what it is to be an individual yoked by the idea of citizenship and challenge the ways that we have traditionally been taught to think of the individual as citizen As such it will appeal to scholars with interests in social theory philosophy literature cultural studies architecture and feminist thought whose work intersects with political thought utopian theorizing or the study of humanity or human nature

Chinese Theories of Fiction Ming Dong Gu, 2007-06-01 In this innovative work Ming Dong Gu examines Chinese literature and traditional Chinese criticism to construct a distinctly Chinese theory of fiction and places it within the context of international fiction theory He argues that because Chinese fiction or xiaoshuo was produced in a tradition very different from that of the West it has formed a system of fiction theory that cannot be adequately accounted for by Western fiction theory grounded in mimesis and realism Through an inquiry into the macrocosm of Chinese fiction the art of formative works and theoretical data in fiction commentaries and intellectual thought Gu explores the conceptual and historical conditions of Chinese fiction in relation to European and world fiction In the process Gu critiques and challenges some accepted views of Chinese fiction and provides a theoretical basis for fresh approaches to fiction study in general and Chinese fiction in particular Such masterpieces as the Jin Ping Mei The Plum in the Golden Vase and the Hongloulou The Story of the Stone are discussed at length to advance his notion of fiction and fiction theory

Competing Discourses Maram Epstein, 2020-05-11 In the traditional Chinese symbolic vocabulary the construction of gender was never far from debates about ritual propriety desire and even cosmic harmony Competing Discourses maps the aesthetic and semantic meanings associated with gender in the Ming Qing vernacular novel through close readings of five long narratives Marriage Bonds to Awaken the World Dream of the Red Chamber A Country Codger s Words of Exposure Flowers in the Mirror and A Tale of Heroic Lovers Maram Epstein argues that the authors of these novels manipulated gendered terms to achieve structural coherence These patterns are however frequently at odds with other gendered structures in the texts and authors exploited these conflicts to discuss the problem of orthodox behavior versus the cult of feeling Androgyny in Late Ming and Early Qing Literature Zuyan Zhou, 2003-02-28 The frequent appearance of androgyny in Ming and Qing literature has long interested scholars of late imperial Chinese culture A flourishing economy widespread education rising individualism a prevailing hedonism all of these had contributed to the gradual disintegration of traditional gender roles in late Ming and early Qing China 1550 1750 and given rise to the phenomenon of androgyny Now Zuyan Zhou sheds new light on this important period offering a highly original and astute look at the concept of androgyny in key works of Chinese fiction and drama from the sixteenth to the eighteenth centuries The work begins with an exploration of androgyny in Chinese philosophy and Ming Qing culture Zhou proceeds to examine chronologically the appearance of androgyny in major literary writing of the time yielding novel interpretations of canonical works from The Plum in the Golden Vase through the scholar beauty romances to The Dream of the Red Chamber He traces the ascendance of the androgyny craze in the late Ming its culmination in the Ming Qing transition and its gradual phasing out after the mid Qing The study probes deviations from engendered codes of behavior both in culture and literature then focuses on two parallel areas androgyny in literary characterization and androgyny in literati identity The author concludes that androgyny in late Ming and early Qing literature is essentially the dissident literati's stance against tyrannical politics a psychological strategy to relieve anxiety over growing political inferiority Snakes'

Legs Martin W. Huang, 2004-09-30 Snakes Legs examines sequels xushu a common but long neglected literary phenomenon in traditional China What prompted writers to produce sequels despite their poor reputation as a genre What motivated readers to read them How should we characterize the nature of the relationship between sequels and rewritings Contributors to this volume illuminate these and other questions and the collection as a whole offers a comprehensive consideration of this vigorous genre while suggesting fascinating new directions for research Xushu as a discursive practice reinforces the paradox that innovation is impossible without imitation It presents us with fertile ground for studying the intricate ties that bind the writer and reader of traditional Chinese fiction the writer of xushu is always self consciously assuming the dual role of author and reader and in the writing process must consider both the work in progress as well as its precursor's Snakes Legs contains detailed discussions of some representative xushu works from the late Ming and Qing periods many of which have received little scholarly attention It will shed light on the development of Chinese fiction and the various textual practices in traditional China as well as account for the genre's continuing vitality in modern times Contributors Robert E Hegel Siao chen Hu Martin W Huang Keith McMahon Qiancheng Li Ying Wang Ellen Widmer Laura H Wu Shuhui Yang
