Rerighting History:

(Re)writing History in Byzantium Panagiotis Manafis, 2020-05-12 Scholars have recently begun to study collections of Byzantine historical excerpts as autonomous pieces of literature. This book focuses on a series of minor collections that have received little or no scholarly attention including the Epitome of the Seventh Century, the Excerpta Anonymi tenth century, the Excerpta Salmasiana eighth to eleventh centuries and the Excerpta Planudea thirteenth century. Three aspects of these texts are analysed in detail: their method of redaction, their literary structure and their cultural and political function. Combining codicological, literary and political analyses, this study contributes to a better understanding of the intertwining of knowledge and power and suggests that these collections of historical excerpts should be seen as a Byzantine way of rewriting history. Writing/Righting History: Twenty-Five Years of Recovering the US Hispanic Literary Heritage Antonia Castañeda, Clara Lomas, 2019-04-30 The tenth volume in the Recovering the US Hispanic Literary Heritage Series, this collection of essays reflects on the twenty-fifth anniversary of the project's efforts to locate, identify, preserve and disseminate the literary contributions of US Latinos from the Spanish Colonial Period to contemporary times. Essays by scholars recalling the beginnings of the project cover a wide range of topics: origins, identity, archival research, institutional politics and pedagogy. From recollections about funding to personal reminiscences, the recovery of Jewish Hispanic heritage and the intellectual project of reframing American history and literature, these articles provide a fascinating look at twenty-five years of recovering the written legacy of the Hispanic population in what has become the United States. An additional nineteen scholarly essays speak to specific efforts to recover an extremely diverse Latino literary heritage. Historians and literary critics who research Spanish, English and Sephardic texts examine a broad array of subjects including colonialism, historical populations, exile and immigration. This far-reaching book is required reading for those studying US Latino history and literature.

Scholarship and Commitment Omoko, Peter E., 2018-06-14 Professor Darah turned seventy on Wednesday November 22, 2017 and to celebrate his very productive career, his colleagues and many of those he has mentored thought it appropriate to mark his official exit from the university in a dignified way by commissioning for publication in the now acceptable festschrift tradition the highly compelling and outstanding collection of essays titled Scholarship and Commitment: Essays in Honour of G. G. Darah. The book is a ground-breaking collection of essays, some are couched as tributes to the ebullient celebrant, there are others on more serious discourses in the areas of literary theories and criticism, language and linguistics, popular literature and politics, the African woman, identity and contemporary realities, oral literature, the news media and cultural studies. The essays on their own attest to the vivacity and liveliness as well as the encouraging state of health of publishing in the Nigerian academia which in this collection alone parades forty-two essays in different fields or Historical Foundations of Education Theodore Michael Christou, 2023-03-23 This volume considers history as a foundational discipline in education It shows how history is a means for exploring what it means to be human by considering those stories sources forces and contexts that shape the way we construct narratives History is more than content no matter what we might recall from our experiences in schools The volume shows how studying history is one means of uncovering why institutions beliefs policies and practices are as they are Educational structures are like all things mutable History empowers the individual to be an actor in this process of change and to act judiciously About the Educational Foundations series Education as an academic field taught at universities around the world emerged from a range of older foundational disciplines The Educational Foundations series comprises six volumes each covering one of the foundational disciplines of philosophy history sociology policy studies economics and law This is the first reference work to provide an authoritative and up to date account of all six disciplines showing how each field s ideas methods theories and approaches can contribute to research and practice in education today The six volumes cover the same set of key topics within education which also form the chapter titles Mapping the Field Purposes of Education Curriculum Schools and Education Systems Learning and Human Development Teaching and Teacher Education Assessment and Evaluation This structure allows readers to study the volumes in isolation by discipline or laterally by topic and facilitates a comparative thematic reading of chapters across the volumes Throughout the series attention is paid to how the disciplines comprising the educational foundations speak to social justice concerns such as gender and racial equality

Knowing and Writing School History Luciana C. de Oliveira, 2011-03-01 Because school history often relies on reading and writing and has its own discipline specific challenges it is important to understand the language demands of this content area the typical writing requirements and the language expectations of historical discourse History uses language in specialized ways so it can be challenging for students to construct responses to historical events It is only through a focus on these specialized ways of presenting and constructing historical content that students will see how language is used to construe particular contexts This book provides the results of a qualitative study that investigated the language resources that 8th and 11th grade students drew on to write an exposition and considered the role of writing in school history The study combined a functional linguistic analysis of student writing with educational considerations in the underresearched content area of history Data set consisted of writing done by students who were English language learners and other culturally and linguistically diverse students from two school districts in California The book is an investigation of expository school history writing and teachers expectations for this type of writing School history writing refers to the kind of historical writing expected of students at the pre college levels
